The Man on the Sandbox

by L. C. Davis

THE PASSING SHOW

THE winter of our discontent
Still lingers in the lap of spring;
Our surplus dough has all been spent
For coal and coke and everything.
But old J. P., and H2O
Will soon be batting for the snow.

The winter hasn't been severe
But made it up by being long;
And harbingers will soon appear
To wake the echoes with their song.
And we will soon be cutting grass,
And planting seed for garden sass.

We wouldn't give a tinker's hoot
For climates where they have no snow
Although we're rather fond of fruit
We'll let the tropic countries go.
A change of weather now and then,
Is relished by the best of men.

Kentucky Derby candidates
Are getting ready for the run;
The bookies in their winter slates
Are quoting Pompey eight to one.
We'll hitch old Dobbin to the shay
And bet on Pompey Derby Day.

GOOD EYE!

Eric Hagenlacher, the new billiard champion, says he intends remaining in America and become an American citizen, having taken out his first papers four years ago. Well, we're glad an American won it.

Has made the burglars have a care,
For, when they start to break the laws,
The cat o' nine tails gives them pause,
As forty lashes well applied
Cannot be nolle prosequied.

QUITE SO.

The man on the sandbox says straw votes don't repeal any laws, but they show which way the wind blows.

See where the Browns have hired a personal umpire. Now, that's something like it. A good A No. 1 umpire can do for them more than all the pitchers in Christendom.

ARMY OFFICER IS HANGED FOR KILLING FIANCEE

INSANITY PLEA MADE BY COUNSEL

Shot 17-Year-Old Girl Because His Pay Was Insufficient to Permit Early Marriage.

By the Associated Press.

MANILA, March 18.—Second-Lieutenant John S. Thompson of the United States Army was hanged here today for the murder of his 17-year-old fiancee, whom he said he could not live without or marry because of his insufficient salary. He was the first American officer to be executed in peace time.

Calmly and without making a statement, the young officer, who was 25 years old, walked to a scaffold in a warehouse at Fort McKinley, after a day spent with his spiritual advisor and his attorney.

Thompson killed Miss Audrey Burleigh at Manila in the early morning of April 5, 1925. She was the step-daughter of Capt. Hamilton P. Calmes, medical corps, and they were engaged to be married.

Thompson became despondent because of his inability to marry the girl and said he decided suddenly to kill her and intended to end his own life. He feared that if the wedding were delayed he would never be able to make Miss Burleigh his wife.

Story of Murder.

The killing occurred after Thompson had driven from Fort McKinley to the Army and Navy Club, where Miss Burleigh had danced at an amateur entertainment. Inviting Miss Burleigh to take a short drive, Thompson had his Filipino chauffeur drive toward Old Fort San Antonio Abad. Miss Burleigh protested against driving in that direction, the chauffeur said. Thompson fired five revolver bullets into the girl and then compelled the chauffeur to drive to Fort McKinley. There the officer informed the Corporal of the guard that Miss Burleigh's body was in the car. He asked to be locked up.

Thompson was tried by court-martial on a charge of first degree murder. A plea of not guilty was entered, although Thompson admitted that he killed Miss Burleigh. His counsel sought to prove absence of malice or premeditation and obtained a continuance to introduce depositions that Thompson was of unsound mind.

The prosecution, however, produced several physicians who declared that after an observance of a month they were of the belief that Thompson "did not at any time suffer from any mental derangement, either temporary or permanent, and is not so suffering now."

When the court reassembled the prosecution read a signed confession by Thompson.

Reason for Crime.

"Why did you decide to shoot Miss Audrey Burleigh?" was asked.

Thompson replied: "First and most important because of the pay act of June 10, 1922, which deprives me, but not others of those commissioned, of credit for longevity pay for enlisted service while a cadet at West Point, which if granted, would be a big increase in salary, which is necessary for a second Lieutenant to marry.

"Second, fear of the loneliness to which I would be subjected during the next two years without her, and a doubt as to whether things would be quite the same."

The court found Thompson guilty of murder in the first degree, and sentenced Thompson to be hanged. The verdict was reviewed by the Judge-Advocate of the Philippines, the War Department at Washington, and was approved by President Coolidge.

Thompson was appointed from the ranks to the military academy at West Point. He graduated with the class of 1924.

The body will be sent to Thompson's parents at Far Rockaway, N. Y., on the next trip of the army transport Thomas.

Farm Industry in Good Shape.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The agricultural industry as a whole is in better condition this year than last, the Federal Farm Loan Board today reported to Congress. "Here and there, it is true, a probably may be the case any year, some bad spots, due to drought or other unavoidable causes, manifest themselves, yet, broadly speaking, a spirit of betterment is clearly in evidence," the board said.

CROAKING OF FROGS HEARD 'N VALLEY OF MERAMEC RIVER

All doubt of the amateur weather prognosticators of the Meramec River Valley that spring is on the wing at last was dispelled last night when they heard frogs croaking, as merrily as frogs can croak, in the lowlands. Furthermore, sniffing the air last night and early today they noted that intangible odor reminiscent of young grass, fishing worms and early golf, which made their assurance doubly sure.

It was the first time this year these signs had been observed in the Meramec Valley. The wind may blow again and water may even freeze once or twice more, but residents of that section cannot be convinced that spring is not here. They have begun to carry rakes and garden seed out from town.

The groundhog failed to see his shadow on Feb. 2 this year and, true to the myth, the following six weeks, just ended, were mild. The vernal equinox, marking the "official start" of spring, will be at 3:02 a. m. next Sunday.

MANNY KESSLER, BOOTLEG KING, NAMED IN NEW DRY LAW CASE

Accused of Operating Distillery Near New Brunswick, N. J.—Faces Income Tax Charges.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Emanuel "Manny" Kessler, known as king of the bootleggers, is under indictment for violating the prohibition law by operating a distillery near New Brunswick, N. J., it became known today when Samuel Senate of the Bronx was arraigned before United States Commissioner Cotter.

Kessler, Senate, Morris Sweetwood and 20 others are charged in the indictment with conspiring to re-distill and distribute denatured alcohol to bootleggers. They are alleged to have been doing business since last June 1, under the name of the South River Chemical Works Inc., South River, N. J., and to have produced 4,000 gallons of alcohol daily.

Kessler is also under another indictment which alleged that he has defrauded the United States Government of more than $1,560,000 due as income tax in 1922, on his alleged bootleg income. He was released recently from the Federal Penitentiary at Atlanta where he and Sweetwood served 20 months of a two-year sentence for violating the prohibition law.

Must Remain Outside Prison Until Warden Receives Commitment Papers.

By the Associated Press.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., March Charles R. Forbes, former director of the United States Veterans' Bureau, under sentence of two years for conspiracy to defraud the Government, appeared at the Federal penitentiary here this afternoon.

Forbes was without guard and without commitment papers. He will not be admitted until the necessary papers and identification record arrives at the prison, Warden W. I. Biddle said.

Gray-haired and bent, although he is only 47 years old, Forbes said he was recovering from a stroke of paralysis. "I am willing to do anything I am assigned to do and will obey all prison rules," Forbes told the Warden.

Forbes was advised to stay in the city to await arrival of the commitment papers.

DUMINI ASKED FOR PERMITS TO CARRY WEAPONS

DEFENSE STORY IS CONTRADICTED

Hotel Employes Deny Statements of Four Co-Defendants as to Whereabouts on Day.

By the Associated Press.

CHIETI, Italy, March 18.—Further testimony regarding the circumstances preceding the disappearance of the Socialist Deputy Matteotti in June, 1924 was adduced today at the trial of the five men accused of kidnaping and murdering the anti-Fascist leader.

Angelo Fazzi and Giovanni Divo, officers in the Caribinieri testified that they saw Amerigo Dumini, one of the defendants accompanied by two other persons arrive in an automobile at the Ministry of the Interior shortly before midnight on June 10.

Michele Iantaffi, Chief of Police Termini and other witnesses described how Dumini was arrested on the orders of General Debono, head of the Fascist militia, with whom he conversed before being taken prisoner.

Gaetano Laino, head of the staff of the Rome chief of police, said that on June 8, Dumini asked for permits to carry weapons for four persons, and that he (Laino) notified his superiors of this fact after the disappearance of Deputy Matteotti.

Watched Activities.

He asserted that the police would have watched Matteotti's activities even if he had not been a member of the Chamber of Deputies, because he was known as a "subversive."

Epifanio Pennetta, judicial police commissary, answering a question from Roberto Farinacci, secretary general of the Fascist party said that Matteotti's "work, before during and after the war, was nefarious, deleterious and anti-national."

Aldo Putato, who was originally accused of complicity in the murder of Matteotti, but was exonerated by the Attorney-General's verdict, on the ground that there was insufficient proof, was called to the stand at the opening of the afternoon session. He testified that he learned about the murder the night Matteotti was abducted, June 10, 1924, from Amelito Poveromo, one of the five defendants, who admitted participation in it.

Crown Prosecutor Salucci and Farinacci had a verbal encounter when Putato denied having said during the preliminary inquiry that Matteotti had been killed.

The prosecutor pointed out that Putato now spoke of "crime, not death." The Fascist secretary-general replied that Putato's previous statement had been made under unusual circumstances.

Excitement in Courtroom.

Cesare Volpini, a corporal of the Caribinieri, testifed that he had learned from a waitress that the accused men had often expressed the desire to punish their opponents.

The courtroom was thrown into excitement when Valeriano Giunchedi, who helped in the arrest of Albino Volpi, one of the five accused, became hysterical while on the stand, screaming, "I'm wounded; I've shell fragments in my flesh."

The tension was increased when Farinacci commented aloud, "He is unbalanced; he tried to extort money from Fascism."

Francesco Sainno, keeper of the Judicial Prison in Rome, testified that Sig Filipelli, former [illegible] of the Corriere Italiano who was arrested in connection with Matteotti's death, but acquitted at the preliminary hearing, told him that Dumini killed the Socialist Deputy.

Eight Witnesses Say Matteotti Was Beaten When Kidnaped.

Eight witnesses testified yesterday that Matteotti was mauled about the body and struck on the head and forcibly abducted by four men in an automobile driven by Dumini. Dumini had testified that he, unaided, kidnaped the anti-Fascist Deputy, and that Matteotti died in the automobile from a hemorrhage brought on by fright.

Testimony regarding the fateful events of the afternoon of June 10, 1924, the day on which the arch-enemy of Premier Mussolini was taken away from Rome by force occupied the entire second day of the trial. A small crowd in the court room, mostly composed of women, listened listlessly to the

FRIENDLY SUIT OVER $7,000,000 ESTATE

W. K. Bixby, Trustee, Asks for Court Orders on Disposition of McMillan Property.

A friendly suit was filed here this afternoon by William K. Bixby, as sole surviving trustee of the estate of William McMillan, against the St. Louis Union Trust Co., the Union Trust Co. of Detroit, and individual heirs of William McMillan. The purpose of the suit is to get court orders as to disposition of the estate of the elder McMillan, which is stated as being approximately $7,000,000.

Under the terms of William McMillan's will, the income of his estate was to be shared equally by his wife, Mrs. Eliza McMillan, and his son, William Northup McMillan. William McMillan died in 1901, Mrs. McMillan in 1915, and the son, who was knighted by the British Government for his war work in Africa, died a year ago.

Bixby's suit says that he paid the income as directed up to the death of the two heirs, and that he now wishes direction from the court as to the disposition of the remaining assets, and the award of compensation for services as trustee.

It was explained by the law firm of Fordyce, Holliday & White which filed the suit, that the estate, under the terms of the will, is to go to the Union Trust Co. of Detroit, for the benefit of the heirs of William McMillan's two brothers, James and Hugh McMillan.

The court is asked to inspect the trustee's accounts. The St. Louis Union Trust Co., named as a defendant in the proceedings, is executor of the estate of Sir Northrup McMillan, and trustee of the estate of Mrs. Eliza McMillan.

LOSING HOLDINGS IN GEBMANY

NEW YORK, March 18.—A movement to organize a protective society to combat reported attempts in Germany to despoil Americans of their real estate is under way, the New York Times says, asserting that Americans who bought property in Germany during the so-called inflation period are threatened with losses of hundreds of millions of dollars.

Information from Berlin, the newspaper says, indicates that the German courts are upholding former owners in suits to recover properties under a retroactive law enacted by the Prussian diet in 1925.

COOLIDGE COMMUTES RENARD'S SENTENCE

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Ray Renard, the St. Louis gunman, who turned against his fellow Egan gangsters, has been granted executive clemency by President Coolidge and will be released from the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary as he signs stipulations, which among other things, designate his proposed place of residence, it was learned at the Department of Justice today. He received a commutation of sentence, which is neither a pardon nor a parole.

It was not known at the department whether he had been released. The order was sent to the Warden at Atlanta Monday, but the closest secrecy was observed through fear that Renard would be killed by gangsters against whom he testified in the Staunton (Ill.) mail robbery.

At first the Department denied that Renard had been released. The explanation was that he could not be paroled as he would not have served a third of his term until Aug. 26. A Federal prisoner is eligible for parole after he has served a third of his sentence, but can receive executive clemency at any time.

Renard, a former associate of the Egan gang, after being sent to Atlanta prison for seven years on an interstate shipment theft charge, turned Government witness in the Staunton and downtown St. Louis mail robbery cases, and gave testimony on which "Dinty" Colbeck and two groups of his comrades were convicted at Quincy and here, and sent to Leavenworth prison for 15 to 25 years each. He is under sentences of two years in the penitentiary, and nine months in the workhouse, imposed by the State courts here and affirmed by the State Supreme Court, for carrying concealed weapons.

PASSENGERS AND CREW SAVED WHEN BRITISH SHIP BURNS

Three Steamers Answer S O S of Paparoa, 400 Miles Northwest of Capetown.

By the Associated Press.

CAPETOWN, Union of South Africa, March 18.—A disaster at sea was narrowly averted yesterday when a wireless S O S brought a rescuing ship in time to remove the passengers and crew from the burning British steamer Paparoa 400 miles northwest of this port.

The Paparoa, a vessel of 4986 tons, left Liverpool Feb. 20 for Brisbane, Australia. The fire broke out in her No. 3 hold the bunkers became ignited and the flames spread rapidly despite heroic efforts by the crew.

Distress calls brought the British steamers Barrabool, Diogenes and Aeneas racing to her assistance. The Barrabool took off the passengers and crew, and the Paparoa was abandoned.

PRESIDENT GOES TO BEDSIDE OF DYING FATHER

Executive and Wife, on Special Train, Will Reach Vermont Early in the Morning.

END MAY COME AT ANY MINUTE

Col. Coolidge Suffers Two Severe Heart Attacks During Night — Friends Make Last Call.

By the Associated Press.

Accompanied by Mrs. Coolidge, he will arrive at Woodstock, Vermont, early tomorrow morning. From that point he will make the 15-mile trip to Plymouth by motor.

In addition to Mrs. Coolidge, the President will be accompanied only by Attorney-General Sargent and Dr. James F. Coupal, White House physician.

By the Associated Press.

PLYMOUTH, Vt., March 18.—Col. John C. Coolidge is sinking fast. Dr. Albert M. Cram of Bridgewater, his physician, left the white farmhouse at 12:50, long enough to make this announcement.

"The Colonel has been failing rapidly the last two or three hours," the doctor said. "I do not look for anything to happen suddenly, but I would not be surprised if the end came at any time. He is losing ground and during the last hour it was at a pretty rapid rate."

Col. Coolidge, the physician said, was conscious but extremely weak.

Col. Coolidge was conscious at 3:30 p. m., but was somewhat weaker, his physician announced. His pulse was a little slower, the report added. He had failed slightly during the afternoon.

President Coolidge talked over the telephone with Dr. Cram late today. He was informed that the patient's condition remained unchanged from earlier bulletins. Col. Coolidge was very weak at 4:30 o'clock, the physician said. He was still conscious, however.

Afer the telephone conversation with the White House, Dr. Cram told the patient of his son's coming. "I think the Colonel understood," the doctor said. "I was not sure, for he is very weak."

Second Severe Attack.

At midnight, Col. Coolidge had a heart tremor which alarmed his nurse, but he rallied quickly and the physician was not summoned. Early today a second severe attack occurred, the Colonel's pulse reaching a beat of 140. Dr. Cram was called and soon afterward the President was informed by telephone, of his father's grave condition.

At 8:40 Dr. Cram left the house long enough to make public the following bulletin at the general store:

"Col. Coolidge has grown weaker during the night and his heart is not so good.

"It has improved over the condition at 6:30 this morning, but is more variable, ranging from 65 to 140. His temperature is about normal and his respiration 45."

Snowfall of an Inch.

It was snowing in Plymouth this morning, an inch of snow having fallen at 7 o'clock.

The home folks of Plymouth have been bidding farewell to "Col. John." Each day a few sad-faced neighbors have been admitted. Col. Coolidge, for many years the town's first citizen, requested their presence and they obeyed the summons.

In the general store where the citizens of this Green Mountain hamlet meet to discuss the affairs of the day, the Colonel's request stirs the memory of the elders. They recall that the Colonel's wife just before her death six years ago felt a similar urge to bid old friends goodbye. Ties are strong in these Vermont hills.

Lifelong friends are included in the list of those who have entered the sick room for the brief visit permitted by physician and nurse. Others were associated with Col. Coolidge in the public affairs of the town, were political friends or even foes. In the number have been some children, for the Colonel always took an affectionate interest in these.

Louis Chamberlain of Bridgewater, stage driver, is the most frequent caller. Twice each day he comes to the Coolidge home. In the early months of his illness, the Colonel found in the stage driver his only contact with the outside world, for he never was a great reader of newspapers.

RUSSIAN VILLAGES ENGAGE IN MASSED FISTIC ENCOUNTERS

By the Associated Press.

VLADIMAR, Russia, March 18.—MASSED pugilistic combats, in which whole villages are arrayed against each other, have been taken up as a sport in many Russian districts. One village challenges another to a test of collective fistic prowess, each selecting its most stalwart inhabitants for the fray.

Vladimar witnessed a display of the new sport yesterday, when 500 farmers fought 500 men from a neighboring town. The contest drew thousands of spectators from countryside, some coming from remote villages. The combatants fought bare-handed and Marquis of Queensbury rules went into the discard. When the boxers retired after two hours of furious fighting the scene resembled a battle field, both the ground and numerous victims being liberally blood-stained.

U. S. AERIAL GUNNERS SCORE 97 OUT OF 97 AT HIGH SPEED

Five Men of VT-2 Squadron of Seaplanes Thought to Hold World's Record.

By the Associated Press.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 18.—Seaplane gunners of the battle fleet aircraft squadrons under Commander Warren Child are thought to have established a world's record during the competitive gunnery year now nearing a close.

Five gunners of VT-2 squadron have scored the remarkable record of 97 hits in 97 shots, while their seaplanes were flying at a speed of better than 80 miles an hour. Several gunners of VJ-1 squadron, it was reported at North Island today, also attained perfect scores in firing machine guns at sleeve targets from their seaplanes.

Not content with their gunnery record, which Commander Child believes has never been equalled in the history of naval aviation, the personnel of the two squadrons has staged two gas attacks at sea against the destroyed Shirk with virtually perfect results.

Officers who witnessed the latest gas bomb attack on the destroyer by the aircraft assert that the dropping of the bombs, each weighing approximately 50 pounds, was so perfectly timed that a faultless pattern of gas was woven around the destroyer. Only the fact that extraordinary precautions had been taken by the destroyer crew to wear gas masks and protective clothing prevented the warship from being temporarily at least placed out of commission.

FAILURE AT EVERYTHING, SAYS SNIPER SLAYER AT HIS TRIAL

Omaha Killer Tells Jury He "Just Didn't Hold Up Right People."

By the Associated Press.

OMAHA, Neb., March 18.—Testifying that he was a "failure both as a worker and a holdup man," Frank Carter, sniper killer, today told the story of his life to a jury at his trial for the murder of Dr. A. D. Searles last February. He shot two other persons and fired other shots at night that terroized citizens.

"I guess I don't have a nose for money," Carter testified. "Like other things, I just didn't hold up the right people. I don't have any ability, as I was too slow in changing to some permanent work. Anyhow, I just wanted enough to live on for a while. I do not like to be called a highwayman."

Carter continued to maintain that he was sane despite efforts of his counsel to prove that he is a victim of intermittent insanity.

Sir Austen Chamberlain Says He Has No Doubt That Common Accord Will Be Reached.

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, March 18.—A conference of delegates of the 48 states which have signed the statutes of the Permanent Court of International Justice will be held at Geneva Sept. 1 to attempt to reach a common accord on the American reservations to adhesion to the court.

This decision was taken late today in the closing hours of the session of the League of Nations Council, which adopted a resolution for the convocation of such a meeting on the initiative of Sir Austen Chamberlain of England. The resolution provided that the United States be invited to participate.

Sir Austen told the Council that the special conditions under which the United States desires to adhere to the Court should be embodied in a multilateral instrument and could not appropriately be embodied in a series of separate exchanges of notes with the signatories of the Court protocol.

Chamberlain said that the fifth reservation of the United States Senate, concerning advisory opinions of the Court affecting the United States, might hamper the work of the Council and prejudice the rights of members of the League, but as its meaning was not clear it should be subjected to discussion and agreement upon it sought with the United States.

Predicts Agreement.

He expressed belief that it would not be difficult to frame an agreement which would satisfy America.

League officials said it is planned to elaborate an agreement in the September conference which would in effect amount to an amendment of the World Court statutes.

The Council had decided to discuss the question of America's adherance to the Court, including the reservations attached by the Senate.

The decision, which was unexpected, was taken on a motion by Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Foreign Secretary. Sir Austen is believed to have acted on advice from the British Ambassador at Washington that the American Government would not deem examination of the problem by the council offensive or unwarranted.

Chamberlain Explains.

Sir Austen explained that the Secretary-General of the League, Sir Eric Drummond, had received on Tuesday a communication from the American Minister at Berne enclosing a letter from Secretary of State Kellogg outlining the conditions of the American Government's proposed adherence to the Court.

Sir Eric immediately took steps to inform all the signatories to the court protocol of the American communication.

"I suggest," Sir Austen said, "that it would be courteous to the United States Government that we take notice of this communication and put the question on the agenda for this afternoon." The motion was carried unanimously.

Officials called attention to the fact that it was impossible totally to divorce the League from America's proposed adherance to the Court, first because eventual American ratification must be deposited with the League secreariat, and second because the American reservations affect the prerogatives and even the composition of the Council.

The Council is affected, it was pointed out, because one of the Senate's reservations emphasizes that the United States shall have the right to participate in the election of judges, and because the judges are elected concurrently by the Council and Assembly. Hence it was explained, it is conceivable that an official representative of the United States would wish to

Mayor Miller After Refusing, as Judge, to Hear Arguments of Counsel Defers His Decision.

OUSTER OF DIRECTOR SEEMS CERTAIN

Defendant, Apparently in No Doubt of Outcome, Prepared to End 34 Years' Service for City.

The jury was still out today in the case of Director of Public Utilities Wall, whose trial for his official life, on charges of inefficiency, neglect of duty, misconduct in office and insubordination, ended at 3:35 p. m. yesterday.

The case went to the jury without two things that are usual in trials—arguments of lawyers and instructions by the Judge to the jury. At least, if the Judge did instruct the jury, nobody else heard it. For the jury, as has been told through the progress of the trial, is a one-man affair, and consists of Mayor Miller, who was also the prosecutor, Judge and star witness.

There is an old saying around courts that you never can tell what a jury will do. But most of those who followed the Wall trial think they can tell what the one-man jury will do. Such expressions as "I'll get Wall out or get out myself," coming from the Mayoral lips in the past few days, seemed to leave little room for speculation.

Attitude of Wall.

Director Wall appeared to be in no doubt of the outcome, and he has for several days been straightening his desk, preparatory to ending his 34 years' connection with the city government. He resisted removal because he wished to disprove the charges against his efficiency and competency. In the defense testimony yesterday, the chief attempt was to overthrow the inefficiency charge, though the charge of insubordination was also denied.

Director Wall has not finally decided whether, in the event the Mayor declares him ousted, he will appeal to the courts. The form of the verdict, and the contents of any statement which may accompany it, probably will enter into his decision. Such an appeal would be expensive, and the courts have indicated in the past their support of the general view that the executive power includes, with the right to hire, the "right to fire" public servants even in important positions.

Discussion Over Successor.

About the City Hall, there was discussion of the question of a successor to Wall as director. Mayor Miller said recently that his selection, in case of a vacancy, would not be Leonard Day, who was his choice when he demanded Wall's resignation. The opinion was expressed that, outside the present personnel of the utilities department, the field of choice is limited, as the men available are making more in private employment than the director's $8000 salary. One name suggested is that of Edward Flad, former Water Commissioner and more recently member of the State Public Service Commission. It is not known whether he would consider the place.

The defense testimony did not bring out the facts which, in the public view, count most in Wall's favor—his long service in building up the waterworks and in planning the new $12,000,000 waterworks plant, and his acknowledged high position among the men in the engineering profession. As has been told, friends of Wall wished to make him president of the American Society of Engineers, the leading organization of that profession, for the coming year, but he declined to be a candidate. Wall is not dependent on his official salary, having independent means.

ACTING POLICE CHIEF TAKEN SERIOUSLY ILL

Albert W. Schwartz Was Appointed Assistant to Gerk Less Than a Month Ago.

Albert W. Schwartz, who was appointed Assistant Chief of Police less than a month ago, was taken from his home at 4356 Evans avenue to St. Luke's Hospital at 3:30 a. m. today, following an attack of indigestion yesterday which affected his heart.

"We haven't determined the underlying cause of his ailment," Dr. Louis T. Pim, police surgeon, said today. "We are watching his condition and giving him a rest, and look for no untoward symptoms."

The Assistant Chief, who holds the rank of Lieutenant Colonel, had been acting Chief of the department for several days in the absence of Chief Gerk, who is in Denver. His removal from active duty by illness makes Inspector William Walton, recently promoted from a captaincy, Acting Chief as next in rank.

Col. Schwartz, who is 71 years old, became ill in his office yesterday afternoon and went home at 4 o'clock. His illness became more severe during the night and when Dr. E. K. Dixon was called early today he ordered the patient removed to St. Luke's Hospital for diagnosis and treatment.

The Assistant Chief has been in the department for 36 years. An army veteran of the Indian campaigns of the 70's and 80's, he is a man of unusually strong constitution and police physicians, prior to his promotion from Captain to Lieutenant-Colonel, declared he was physically fitted for the job.

As Assistant Chief, he relieved William Rundle, who resigned because of ill health. The promotion of Schwartz and Walton was ordered Feb. 26. They took up their new duties on March 5.

OUSTED FOR DOUBTING BIBLE

By the Associated Press.

ASSEN, Holland, March 18.—The Rev. J. H. Geelkerken, who in a sermon expressed doubt regarding the Biblical story of Eve and the serpent, is to be expelled. The General Synod of the Calvinist Church, now in session, has made a unanimous decision to this effect. He also will be deprived of his pastorate at Amsterdam.

Last Saturday he was suspended for three months, but he preached while under suspension. At his trial for heresy, he refused to sign an undertaking to subscribe to a literal interpretattion of the chapter of Genesis referring to Eve and the Serpent. When asked whether he believed the serpent was a real creeping creature, Geelkerkin asserted he believed the traditional interpretation of the Secessionist Calvinist church, that it was a real creature, was quite possible, but he admitted he had believed the serpent was a figurative representation of the Devil.

ST. LOUIS SYMPHONY AT TULSA

TULSA, Ok., March 18.—The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra drew a large audience to Convention Hall last night and packed the auditorium with school children and adults at a special matinee concert. Both programs were enthusiastically received. Rudolph Ganz closed the night's program with his own composition, "St. Louis Symphony March."

Katheryn Brown, contralto, sang at the afternoon performance, and Caroline Powers Thomas, concert violinist of Tulsa, was soloist in the evening. She played Bruch's "Concert in G Minor."

RARE BIBLE OF 1540 OWNED BY ST. LOUISAN

Mrs. Alosia Lehman's Copy Probably a Reprint of Luther's Edition.

A rare old Bible, bearing the date 1540, and having all the marks of one of the first reprints of Martin Luther's own translation is in possession of Mrs. Alosia Lehman, 4127 Westminster place. The book was given to Mrs. Lehman 40 years ago by her father-in-law, Henry Lehman, of York, Pa., whose father came to this country from Holland, probably bringing the Bible with him.

Its condition indicates that it has been neglected for many years. The title page is missing, but the book bears the name of Christophre Froscheur, Zurich, Switzerland, as publisher. Froscheur and another early publisher named Lufft are the only known publishers of the Luther and Zwingli editions of the first Protestant translations of the Scriptures.

Dr. Graebner's Opinion.

According to Dr. Theodore Graebner, of Concordia Seminary, Jefferson avenue and Winnebago street, who has seen the book, it was probably one of the Zurich prints which were used by the Mennonites, an Evangelical sect of the Protestant Reformation in Holland and Southern Germany.

These books were not divided into verses, nor is the volume owned by Mrs. Lehman.

In Mrs. Lehman's volume the initials are crude and simple. These illustrated letters represent Biblical events, in some instances, with rare humor. A picture preceding the book of Genesis depicts the origin of Eve from Adam's rib. God is officiating, and in the background of wild beasts and birds, a barnyard fowl can be seen.

The book measures 14 by 9½ inches, and is 5 inches thick. It originally contained 1000 pages although it does not include the so-called apocryphal books of Tobias, Judith, Wisdom, Ecclesiasticus, Baruch, Maccabees and St. Jude. The covers are made of one-half inch oak board bound in heavy leather. The corners are guarded with brass.

Many Marginal Notes.

Numerous marginal notes and glossaries are to be seen throughout written in long hand of an old date. Many favorite passages have been marked with ink which has faded to a pale red. The ink used in the printing is still black and the letters well defined, showing that considerable care was used in printing as well as in choice of materials.

The book is printed from hand-carved wood type which was first used in Wittenberg, where all of Luther's original prints were made. This type was taken to Zurich and there used to print the Mennonite editions of which Mrs. Lehman's volume is one.

Early Protestant Bibles are not numerous. They were printed on the old hand press, and the quality of workmanship was the highest. Rare editions have always sold at a good price. The Gutenberg Bible last sold for $105,000. The Zwingli Bible, now in a college at Selin Grove, Pa., is valued at $25,000.

Fresh Meat Rates Approved.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Proposed changes in rates on fresh meats and packing house products from points in Western trunk line territory to destinations in Arkansas, Western Louisiana and Southern Missouri were found justified today by the Interstate Commerce Commission, except as they affect Mason City, Ia. The Mason City rates were ordered canceled. The rates, representing principally reductions, are based on differentials over commodity rates in southwestern territory.

then. The stage driver inquired one day if there was anything he could bring the patient from Ludlow.

"Yes, a new pair of legs" was the answer.

His Grave Prepared.

Chamberlain was present on a rare occasion when Col. Coolidge dropped the mantle of reserve and spoke of his malady.

"I hope no man will have to endure the pain I have suffered," he said.

The stage driver smiles when he recalls that the Colonel, in his days of activity beat him in a horse trade. Chamberlain gave a horse and $20 for the Colonel's colt. The colt proved to be worthless and the stage driver had to buy back his former horse for $100.

Azro Johnson, selectman and sexton of the Union Meeting House, has paid his call. To him Col. Coolidge has entrusted the task of preparing his grave in the little Plymouth Cemetery. There many members of the Coolidge family are buried and a stone already bears the Colonel's name.

The sick room is on the ground floor of the farm house, immediately behind the sitting room in which Calvin Coolidge was sworn in by his father in 1923 as President of the United States.

With the certainty that the President was on his way here, Selectman Azro Johnson and other town officials set about making the little village fit to be the nation's midwinter capital. Gangs of shovelers were set to work in the drifted roadway in front of the white farm house, and teams carted away the snow on sleighs. Old-timers said it was the first time in Plymouth's history that snow had been removed in this manner. The front yard of the Coolidge place was shoveled clean, and the end of the day found the automobile route from Woodstock station to the Coolidge farmhouse open.

POWERS TRICKING GERMANY, REED SAYS

Post-Dispatch Bureau,
20-23 Wyatt Building.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Returning to his fight against American participation in the World Court, Senator Reed of Missouri told the Senate this afternoon that the Powers composing the League of Nations had just been guilty of "a miserable exhibition of trickery, fraud, sham and shame in the negotiations over the question of Germany's admission to the league council."

Reed took as his text a telegram saying that the council of the league had decided to invite the United States to a conference at Geneva in September to discuss the American reservations to the World Court protocol.

"In view of the fact," said Reed, "that the American people have decided in two elections, by majorities of seven to eight million, that we should have nothing to do with the league, this telegram is highly interesting. We are now to be asked, it seems, to sit down outside the league and confer with the gentlemen inside the league.

"We ought immediately to draw up a resolution naming our delegate to this conference and put it through under the cloture rule so that the thing will be done before the American people know anything about it.

"This development indicates that we can't be half in the league and half out of it. We have either got to join the league and become an integral part of it or stay out completely and absolutely. To paraphrase Lincoln, our nation cannot remain half sovereign and half subordinate."

Alleges Paid Propaganda.

Reed again lashed the Senate for adoption of the cloture rule in the World Court debate. Back of the fight for the court, he said, was the White House influence, exerted to the utmost to hold the "staggering column" of the court supporters in line, and back of it also was a "paid propaganda which had been conducted for months."

The Senators who were willing to vote for the court on any terms were likened to "men who want a drink and are willing to take any kind of moonshine that may be offered them out of a bottle."

"What sincere and candid man," he continued, "does not now regret that hasty and precipitate action? What man is so blinded by prejudice that he does not find in the developments of the last six days an absolute demonstration of the falsity of the claims advanced for the league and the league court?

"What man does not now understand that the league is a political assembly of men controlled by the fears, hates and ambitions of their respective countries? Who does not know that the nations are playing the old game of balance of power and employing the league as an agency for their selfish aims?

"I say of the Locarno pacts that back of them were secret and treacherous understandings that substantially nullify the benefits they were supposed to confer.

"An Old-Fashioned Alliance."

"The present condition of the league is the result of trickery, chicanery and an absolute breach of faith. The league has been shown to be an offensive and defensive alliance, intended from the beginning to be controlled by three or four great Powers. The court is an integral part of the league and subservient to its dictates. Our reservations afford us no protection whatsoever.

"The reservations, indeed, are worse than that. They are offensive to every South American country and will provoke ill-feeling against the United States. Why is this? Because we say that no question can be submitted to the court without our consent, when some of the South American countries have already agreed to submit all their questions. Hence we make them subservient to our will. Who can calculate the offense that this will give to the proud Latin-American countries to the south of us?"

Criticises Locarno Pacts.

Turning again to the Locarno agreements, Reed said:

"The ink was not dry on the Locarno pacts until France and Poland made a separate agreement, an offensive and defensive alliance against Germany, for that is the meaning of the treaty when stripped of all its hypocritical language. It could have been aimed at no other nation than Germany. It was a cannon pointed at Germany's heart.

"At the same time France and Czecho-Slovakia negotiated an exactly similar treaty, so that the action taken amounts to nothing more nor less than an offensive and defensive alliance by three nations against Germany made at the very time that six nations were sitting down at the table proclaiming that the dawn of a new day had come and that brotherhood and amity and good-will were hereafter to control all their actions toward each other."

79,000 GAIN IN POPULATION OF MISSOURI SINCE 1920

Estimated Increase Made Known by Federal Census Bureau at Washington — Total for U. S. Given as 117,000,000.

Post-Dispatch Bureau,
20-23 Wyatt Building.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The Census Bureau today estimated the population of the United States, as of July 1, 1926, at 117,135,817, as compared with 115,378,094 on July 1, 1925, and 105,710,620 on Jan. 1, 1920. The estimate is based on the latest available data regarding births, deaths, immigration and emigration since 1920.

Missouri's population, according to the bureau's estimates, has shown a progression from 3,404,055 at the time of the 1920 census to 3,483,730 on July 1, 1925, with the prospect of 3,498,143 on next July 1.

The figures for the various states have been arrived at by distributing the total increase for the nation since 1920 on the basis of the distribution of the increase between 1910 and 1920, except that State census figures have been used in all cases where a State census was taken in 1925 and no estimates have been made for states which decreased in population between 1910 and 1920.

Advisory Opinions.

It was remarked that the Senate reservation concerning the Court's right to give advisory opinions affects the Council at least indirectly, as it is the council which always requests such opinions.

Nevertheless League leaders wish to keep sharply before them that the problem involved is one fundamentally affecting the countries that are signatories of the Court protocol, as some of the members of the League have not adhered to the Court.

Seek to Avoid Delay.

Members of the Council that desire to facilitate actual American participation in the court seek to prevent either the postponement or lapsing of that participation by inquiring whether some common attitude cannot be adopted by the court signatories concerning the American reservations.

The League leaders realize that one State can block American adherence, because all the signatories must accept the American conditions before the adherence becomes effective.

The demand of Greece that the Permanent Court of International Justice be asked to render an opinion in connection with the dispute between Turkey and Greece over the Thracian frontier, was rejected today by the council.

Afranio Mello Franco, the Brazilian member, presented a report to the council explaining that the league's jurists were agreed that the delimitation commision instituted by the treaty of Lausanne is fully qualified to fix the Greco-Turkish frontier in the vicinity of the Maritza River.

Judiciary Committee at Work Consolidating Charges Against East St. Louisan.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Chairman Graham of the House Judiciary Committee said today, during the recess of his committee, that the impeachment report with specifications against Federal Judge George W. English of East St. Louis would be made to the House early next week.

He indicated strongly that the final report would consolidate the 28 articles citing specific acts of misconduct which were drawn up by the special subcommittee headed by Representative Hersey of Maine.

At its meeting today the committee confined itself to a review of the report submitted by the subcommittee. There was no disagreement as to the substances of the charges, but Graham believed the form should be changed.

"This will be a historic case and I want the report to be in such a shape that we can be proud of it," Graham said. "I want it to be clear, concise English, without a long list of whereases, and that we can say without doubt that this defendant is guilty of certain acts."

Graham said the subcommittee would continue its work over the week-end and that the final draft of the report probably would be made by the entire committee next Tuesday. The report will be submitted to the House the same or the following day, he said.

10 DOCTORS HELD IN INQUIRY INTO LIQUOR PERMIT SALE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 18.—The arrest in a speakeasy last December of a man who possessed several liquor prescriptions, had its first aftermath in Federal Court yesterday when ten doctors, six druggists and two distillery agents were arraigned on charges of conspiring to violate the prohibition law.

Prohibition agents said last night that anywhere from 100 to 500 individuals might be arrested as members of a prescription bootleg ring. Besides the 18 defendants described, all of whom pleaded not guilty before a United States Commissioner, 17 other doctors and two distillery agents were named in warrants issued yesterday and are to be arrested.

All 37, including two women, are charged with sale, purchase or misuse of prescription blanks issued by the Government to physicians. District Attorney Buckner said the prescriptions had been sold by doctors wholesale to agents who turned them over to druggists to cover diversion of liquor into bootleg channels. The price was from $125 to $150 for a book of 100 prescriptions, Buckner said.

TAX APPEALS BOARD VISITS

Will Hear Disputed Cases in West and South.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The Board of Tax Appeals will visit 13 cities in the West and South to hear disputed tax cases, beginning April 19 under a program announced today. The board of 15 members will be divided into groups of three with four groups going into the field at that time for a period of four weeks.

The following cities will be visited, provided court rooms are available: Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Tulsa, Oklahoma City, Dallas, New Orleans, Birmingham, Atlanta, Chicago, Des Moines and St. Paul. More than 500 cases, mostly involving small amounts which would not pay the taxpayers to come to Washington to contest, will be heard.

Annual St. Patrick's Day Mass.

The Right Rev. Timothy Dempsey celebrated his annual St. Patrick's day mass at St. Patrick's Church yesterday afternoon with Archbishop Glennon and other churchmen in attendance. As is his custom, he welcomed all "Sons of Erin" outside the church in full vestments after the ceremony and declared that he was still trying to "free Ireland with my tongue."

KIEL TO MANAGE WILLIAMS' CAMPAIGN

Arrangement With Former Mayor Expected to Discourage Opposition in Party.

Former Mayor Kiel today was selected by United States Senator George H. Williams to manage his campaign in St. Louis for renomination. The Senator said that this morning he asked Kiel to take the work and that the former Mayor said he was ready "to start in immediately."

In the selection of Kiel, Senator Williams apparently had in mind the active efforts Mayor Miller has been making to induce some outstate Republican to file for the nomination against Williams.

In Republican politics there has been a strong disposition to compare Miller's administration with those of Kiel and to make comparisons of the popularity of the two. With Kiel in charge of the Williams' campaign, the politicians consider it likely that this disposition will be more noticeable.

Politically the action of the Senator is considered an excellent tactical move. Kiel probably has not an enemy among the Missouri Republicans who might be considered possible candidates against Williams, and it is probable that all possible candidates, knowing Kiel's strength in Republican politics in St. Louis, would hesitate much more about filing against Williams with the knowledge that they could not hope for assistance from Kiel, than if they believed Kiel would not take an active part in the campaign.

proceedings. The only lively moment came after a verbal tilt between Roberto Farinacci, counsel for the defense, and Judge Danza, which caused the Judge to take umbrage at a remark by the fiery secretary general of the Fascist party.

The outstanding feature of the day was the fact that every statement made by the witnesses clashed with the stories of the accused men related at Tuesday's session, particularly that of Dumini that he alone took Matteotti away in the automobile.

The testimony of the four codefendants with Dumini—Albino Volpi, Giuseppe Viola, Amelito Poveromo and Augusto Maloria—that they had kept close to the hotel where they were staying during the time when Matteotti was abducted was denied by the testimony of the hotel chambermaid.

Nello Quilici, former chief editor of Corriere Italliano, described how the kidnaping car, which he said was driven by Dumini, was left at his garage the night of the crime. It showed evidence of a struggle. There were bloodstains in it and also a pair of scissors, such as are used in newspaper offices.

During Quilici's testimony he said to Signor Farinacci, "Don't let us exaggerate."

The Fascist secretary-general replied hotly: "For the sake of the morality of this trial, I desire to make three statements: First, that the Corriere Italiano never was the organ of the Fascist party; second, that Filipelli never was a member of the party, and, third, that we consider the preliminary findings against Filipelli as one of the darkest pages in Italian political life."

(Filippelli was editor of the Corriere Italiano. He was arrested in connection with the killing of Matteotti but was acquitted at the preliminary hearing.)

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM E. TAYLOR.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Taylor Are Held Pending Inquest Into Death of Vinson L. Marcasol.

WOMAN RELATES STORY TO POLICE

Husband Avers That Offender Struck Him and That His Pistol Was Discharged Accidentally.

When William E. Taylor, 26 years old, a battery maker, living in two rooms with his wife and four small children at 1225A Dillon street, came home from work last evening, his wife told him improper advances had been made to her during the day by Vinson L. Marcasol, 41, a hotel steward, who roomed downstairs.

Taylor ate supper with his family and then took a revolver from a dresser drawer and called on Marcasol. In the fight that ensued Marcasol was shot and killed. Police are holding Taylor and his 22-year-old wife, Polly Belle, for investigation pending the inquest.

Marcasol was employed at the Maryland Hotel and came to St. Louis from Port Arthur, Tex., where his widow, Ella, still is. She was notified of his death by his half-brother, Louis Marchetti, a room clerk at Hotel Statler.

Taylors From Mississippi.

The Taylor family came here from Mississippi six months ago. The children are Eugene, 7; Lester, 5; Olgia, 4, and Willie Helen, 2. Last Saturday Mrs. Taylor's sister, Bessie, 19, who is married to Taylor's brother, Leroy Taylor, left him and came to live with her sister, bringing her two small children along.

"My husband went to work at 6 o'clock yesterday morning and at 8:30 o'clock I sent Eugene to school," Mrs. Taylor told police. "The other children were playing about the house and I was sitting on a bed writing a letter when Marcasol came up the stairs and climbed over a gate that was put up to keep the baby from falling downstairs.

"'Is the old man at home?' he asked.

"I said my husband was at work and continued writing. He asked me whom I was writing to, but I ignored him. Then he came into the room and began patting my shoulder. I ran from him and he chased me and tore my clothes. I screamed and threw a magazine at him and when my sister, who was in the next room, came in, he ran downstairs.

Had Made Previous Attempts.

"That was the first time he had ever come to my room, but he used to stop me and my sister in the hall downstairs and try to make dates and pet us."

Informed of the incident when he returned home, Taylor had his supper and at 6:30 o'clock, and went downstairs and interviewed the landlady, Mrs. Melinda Seels, who suggested he talk to Marcasol. In repsonse to a knock on his door, Marcasol appeared in the hallway and they went to the front porch to discuss the matter. Mrs. Taylor came downstairs and joined them.

"Marcasol admitted he had been upstairs and made no explanation of the matter," Taylor told police. "I was warning him not to do it again when I noticed he was about to strike me. I swung at him, but he was too strong for me and knocked me into the yard. I was willing to leave him alone then, but he began to choke my wife. I drew my revolver and tried to separate them, but he reached for it and it was accidentally discharged."

Marcasol was shot in the right chest and died instantly. Taylor waited for police and surrendered.

POLICEWOMAN GETS DRIVER WHO FLED

Mrs. Estelle Fritch, Who Saw Flight After Boy Was Injured, Sticks to Job.

Monday afternoon Policewoman Estelle Fritch, daughter of former Chief, now Capt. Martin O'Brien, saw an automobile truck drive off after it had struck, run over and seriously injured an 11-year-old boy. She vowed no rest for herself until she had found the driver and last night she arrested him.

Mrs. Fritch, mother of two children, was walking in Clara way, between Maple and Vernon avenues, on her way home from duty at the Page boulevard station.

A boy on roller skates, homeward bound from school, passed her and turned into an alley. Almost at the same time an automobile truck crossed Clara way in the alley and Mrs. Fritch observed that the rear pitched upward as if the wheels has passed over some obstacle.

As she reached the alley, she saw the boy on roller skates lying on the ground. He dragged himself toward her, and clutched at her knees, screaming.

Gave a Fictitious Name.

The truck stopped at some distance and one of two men alighted and returned to the scene. Almost immediately the truck drove off. The man who had returned to the scene gave Mrs. Fritch a name, later found to be fictitious, and gave an address on Olive street road in St. Louis county for the driver who had fled.

After taking the boy, Jack McLean, of 5823 Plymouth avenue, to a physician's office, where it was found he had suffered a fracture of the right leg and other injuries, Mrs. Fritch reported to the Page Boulevard Station, where her father is in command.

Waits Hours, Arrests Man.

A uniformed policeman was sent to the address given by the man who had returned to the accident scene. No man of the name he gave was known there. Thereupon, Mrs. Fritch herself went to the address, 3320 Washington avenue, and for three hours watched for the return of a roomer whom she suspected was her man. He returned at 6:30 o'clock and was arrested. He had given his name as George Brown, but then admitted he was David Blair, 29 years old, and also gave the correct county address for the driver of the truck, John A. Brown, 32, of 1291 Delaware avenue.

Mrs. Fritch and a uniformed policeman drove to that address and were told that Brown was spending the evening at 2821 South Seventh boulevard. He was found here at 10 p. m. He admitted running over the boy and that he fled because panic-stricken. A charge of feloniously leaving the scene of an accident was placed against him.

The cost is to be $245,790. The building will be two stories high, of fireproof brick and concrete, 157 by 92 feet.

REPORT ON ALABAMA PRISON CAMP DEATH

Convict Died of Heart Disease After Severe Ducking—Brutality Bared.

By the Associated Press.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 18.—Evidence taken in the inquiry into the death of James W. Knok of West Virginia, indicates that he died of heart disease while undergoing corporal punishment at the Flat Top prison mines in this county in August, 1924, Attorney-General Davis announced today in making public his findings in the case.

In submitting the report to Gov. Brandon, Davis said a "probable conclusion" was that Knox did not die from poison as was stated in the official death certificate. The report states that Homer Anderson, hospital steward, who testified Knox died by his own hand, "had perverted his own testimony." Anderson admitted, it was said, that he made no effort to give an antidote or use a stomach pump, and that he did not send for a doctor.

In a letter to the State Board of Administration, Gov. Brandon recommended that the Jefferson County grand jury "fully investigate the matter." Brandon said the testimony was conflicting and that he was "uncertain whether Knox died from self-administered poison." The Governor said that in his opinion Knox did not die from scalding and that death did not result from an intentional act to take his life. He said there was "no credible testimony" to show that any responsible employe of the State had any part in Knox's death.

The death of Knox was attributed to self-administered poison in the death certificate on file at the camp, but evidence during the inquiry brought out that he had been ducked into vats of hot and cold water and beaten with a blackjack by Charles R. Davis, the warden.

The testimony indicated Knox died while being dipped in the vats by Negro trustees under supervision of the warden and expert testimony was that fear and unusual physical exertion probably superinduced death.

Reports that Knox had been scalded to death were declared untrue, but it was stated in the report that after his death a metallic poison was forced into his stomach by a pump, giving the impression that he had committed suicide.

Testimony that a Negro prisoner had died two minutes after Bill Bates, a deputy warden, had beaten, kicked and stamped on him was given by Crady Jenks, a former convict. Other convicts declared that at times the hills resounded with the wails of men under the lash, that threats to kill were common and they named a number of instruments used to supplement blows from hands and feet in discipling convicts. Among them were shovels and pieces of rubber hose with lead inserted in the handle end and coffin-like contrivance, into which men were placed so thta they could not recline.

CUMMINS DENIES REPORTS OVER STECK-BROOKHART CASE

Iowa Senator Asserts His Political Fortunes Have No Bearing on the Contest.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Rising to a question of personal privilege for the first time in his long Senate career, Senator Cummins (Rep.) of Iowa today declared "wholly, utterly untrue" reports that had been widely printed yesterday that his Senate friends might consider the effect on his own personal and political fortunes in deciding the Steck-Brookhart election contest.

ST. LOUIS-CHICAGO AIR MAIL STARTS APRIL 15

Chamber of Commerce to Make Campaign for Patronage of Service Soon.

Service on the St. Louis-Chicago aerial mail route will begin April 15 instead of April 1, as previously announced, Maj. William B. Robertson, president of the Robertson Aircraft Co., said today.

The date was set after a conference with Postoffice Department officials and also will mark inauguration of service on several other contract lines which, like the St. Louis-Chicago shuttle route, will connect with the transcontinental air mail.

A tentative schedule submitted by Robertson to the Postoffice Department calls for the departure of the mail plane from Lambert-St. Louis Field at 4:20 p. m. with stops at Springfield and Peoria and arrival at Maywood Field, Chicago, at 7:25 p. m. in time to connect with the transcontinental planes east and west.

Southbound planes will leave Chicago at 5:45 a. m., immediately after the arrival of the transcontinental ships from east and west and will land at Lambert-St. Louis Field at [illegible]:50 a. m. The route will provide overnight service between St. Louis and New York. Under present plans it will be operated only five days a week, no mail being carried on Saturday or Sunday because of the belief that business will not demand the service on those days.

Maj. Robertson announced that his company had received a guarantee of 1000 letters daily from the Association of Commerce of Peoria. No guarantee has been made in St. Louis, but a campaign for patronage for the aerial line will be begun here shortly by the Chamber of Commerce.

The Robertson company has completed four DH-4 airplanes, powered with new Liberty engines. The ships will be complemented in the service by a Curtiss Oriole, powered with a Hispano engine and with the same speed as the DH's.

The best previous record was five hours and five minutes actual flying time. The distance between the two air mail fields is 726 miles.

JUSTICES OF PEACE FREED WITHOUT TRIAL

Indictments in County Charging Illegal Exaction of Fees Are Dismissed.

In keeping with the statement he made when eight St. Louis County Justices of the Peace were indicted for oppression in office, due to alleged extortionate collection of costs in traffic cases, Jan. 4, Prosecuting Attorney Mueller yesterday dismissed the 19 indictments against the Justices without prosecution.

He explained he did not think he could "make the cases," meaning he was doubtful of obtaining convictions. Circuit Judge Wurdeman told a reporter he thought the prosecutor had acted wisely, as the cases would have been hard to try, and there was a question whether the Justices could have been made to produce their fee record books, which, in effect, would have constituted testifying against themselves.

Mueller had announced in January that he told the grand jury he intended to dismiss most of the indictments. The Justices now freed of charges are: Edward Blinne of Ballwin, William E. Gould of Webster Groves, George M. Peters of Kirkwood, Jasper C. Pittman of Eureka, Irvin H. Skinker of Ferguson, Henry Stecker of Clayton, J. O. Sturdy of Valley Park and A. H. Werremeyer of Clayton.

The indictments grew out of complaints by the Automobile Club of Missouri as to the enforcement of speed and other traffic laws in the county.

Mueller also dismissed yesterday an indictment voted in the same inquiry charging Constable John E. Flood of St. Ferdinand Township with oppression in office in connection with alleged collection of extortionate fees.

Indictments charging two of Flood's deputies, George James and George Rose, with accepting bribes from speeders on the road to avoid court proceedings, still are pending.

The Automobile Club of Missouri will renew its effort to have justices accused of collecting extortionate fees tried in court, its attorney, Gustav Vahlkamp, announced. The only reason for "so-called enforcement" of traffic laws in the county, he asserted, was to swell the bank accounts of officials. Justices have been trying defendants without formal charges being made through informations, in violation of the laws, he declared.

Drugs Seized, Three Persons Held.

Information obtained from two persons arrested yesterday in a narcotic raid at 214 North Second street, East St. Louis, resulted today in the arrest of one man and the seizure of 113 cubes of morphine and seven hypodermic needles in a room at the Southern Hotel, Third street and Broadway, East St. Louis. The man arrested today said he was J. O. Letcher, 34 years old. Those arrested yesterday identified themselves as Cynthia Barker, 28, and Leo Norton, 22. Three needles and 214 cubes of morphine were found in the raid yesterday.

JOHN R. OWINGS.

BURIAL OF JOHN R. OWINGS AT BELLEFONTAINE TODAY

John R. Owings, 85 years old, died of heart disease yesterday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Blanche Goodman, Kirksville, Mo. The body was brought to St. Louis for burial at 2:30 p. m. today in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

Mr. Owings was born in Warren County, Mo., and spent almost his entire life in St. Louis. He was manager of the Barnum, St. James and Laclede hotels at various times, and retired in 1912. He was acquainted with Mark Twain and President Grant. In recent years he made his home at the Hermitage Apartments, 4458 Washington boulevard. He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Goodman, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. M. R. Owings, 716 N. Taylor avenue.

TWO DEATHS LAID TO ALCOHOL

Bodies of Wealthy Philadelphian and Woman in Farmhouse.

By the Associated Press.

SELLERSVILLE, Pa., March 18.—Impure alcohol was ascribed today by Coroner Sweeney as the cause of the deaths of Charles H. Clinton, wealthy Philadelphia paper manufacturer, and Mrs. Susan B. Johnson, whose bodies were found Tuesday at Clinton's farmhouse, near here. Mrs. Johnson, a widow, was a friend of the Clinton family.

Members of the Clinton family maintain that the manufacturer died of pneumonia. He was 55 years old. Mrs. Johnson was 50. Her brother, Dr. F. L. Abbott of Philadelphia, with whom she lived, said members of his family had known Clinton many years and frequently spent the week-end at his farm.

NAVAL CRUISES MAY 1

Missouri Reserves to Train on Regulation River Warship.

The annual cruises of the Missouri Naval Reserves will begin May 1 when a group of 50 men under Commander G. F. Schwartz will begin a 15-day cruise on the Mississippi in a regulation river warship. Other men will start on similar cruises on May 25 and June 13, the river cruise being required of all members of the reserve.

In addition to the river cruise, there will be a cruise on the Great Lakes, Aug. 1 to 15, on the U. S. S. Wilmette, accommodating 220 men from St. Louis and Kansas City, and later in August a cruise with destroyers of the Atlantic fleet starting from Philadelphia.

$15 in 17 Years, Gets Divorce.

Laura Renard, 4033 South Grand boulevard, was awarded a divorce from her husband, William Renard, by Judge Pearcy yesterday after she had testified that in 17 years of their married life her husband had given her only $15 for her own use. She also alleged that Renard had insisted on doing the cooking, and that she had been forced to eat burned food. In Renard's cross bill, which was dismissed, he alleged he had been compelled to do the housework and cooking throughout the marriage. Mrs. Renard was awarded $200 alimony.

RAILROAD EXECUTIVES SPLIT OVER NEW LABOR MEASURE

Conference Ends in Uproar, With Minority of 19, Led by L. F. Lee, Assailing Bill.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 18.—The Association of Railway Executives was divided into two camps today, the majority favoring the Watson-Parker railroad bill, the minority opposed to it unless amended.

Nineteen railroad representatives, led by L. F. Loree, president of the Delaware & Hudson Railroad, objected to the bill at an all-day meeting yesterday which ended in an uproar. This minority adopted a resolution notifying the secretary that they repudiated the action of the association's Labor Committee. This committee, headed by W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and a committee of railway workers drew up the bill, which already has been passed by the House of Representatives and recommended to the Senate. It would abolish the Labor Board and substitute an arbitration board of labor and employers to settle wage disputes.

The open split came only after a futile effort by the minority to insert a provision that the Interstate Commerce Commission be empowered to set aside any wage agreement which might affect rates.

Loree charged that the bill leaves the railroads at the mercy of employes and gives the public no protection. Atterbury denied this, calling it the "Locarno" of railroading.

Among the railroads that opposed the bill were the St. Louis-San Francisco, Pere Marquette, Wabash, Missouri-Kansas-Texas, St. Louis Southwestern and Rock Island.

NEGRO ACTORS PLEASE RUSSIA

American Troupe's Folk Songs Enthusiastically Encored.

By the Associated Press.

MOSCOW, March 18.—Thirty-five American Negro actors and actresses, the first American theatrical troupe to visit Russia under the Soviet, received an enthusiastic reception when they gave their first performance here Tuesday night. Negro folk songs and plantation melodies, sung both in English and German to the accompaniment of a jazz band, evoked demands for many encores.

Owing to the housing shortage, the Soviet authorities have experienced much difficulty in finding accommodations for the Negroes who will remain in Russia veeks.

BUILDING TRADES SEEK RETURN OF 5 UNIONS

Locals Said to Have Given Assurance They Will Accept —Withdrew in 1923.

Representatives of 16 building trades local unions, affiliated with the St. Louis Building Trades Council, last night voted unanimously to invite five of the more important locals to return to the council.

Crafts invited to return are the painters, bricklayers, plumbers, plasterers and carpenters. All withdrew from the body after the St. Louis organization was suspended by the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor in 1923 for failure to unseat delegates from the Ironworkers' Union, at that time under suspension by their international body.

W. J. McSorley, president of the building trades department of the Federation, who has been here this week conducting conferences to effect the return of these five crafts to the local council, said he has received assurance that they will accept the invitation and return to the council, membership of which has dwindled from 15,000 to 5000 since the dispute in 1923.

If the invitation is accepted, new officers of the local council will be elected May 5, although the terms of John Barry, president, and Maurice J. Cassidy, secretary, do not expire until July. The election date was advanced, McSorley explained, to give the new locals expected to affiliate a voice in the council's management at the earliest possible time.

McSorley has stated that the chief purpose of the return of the locals to the council is to harmonize building labor and avert jurisdictional disputes, which in recent years have necessitated legal action to avert a tie-up of important building projects here.

Seismograph Indicates Severe Quakes 5700 Miles Distant.

Earth shocks of unusual intensity were recorded by the seismograph at St. Louis University today. The tremors started at 8:19 a. m. and lasted until 9:20. $30,000 Verdict for Injuries.

Eczema Goes In Seven Days Or Money Back

Thousands of people who suffer from itching skin, Eczema and unsightly eruptions will be glad to know that Moone's Emerald Oil, a clean, powerful, penetrating Antiseptic Oil, will banish their trouble in seven days or less.

For years they have been using Ointments and Salves, and while they helped to relieve the itching, soreness and pain, they often choked the pores and did not allow the poisonous matter to escape.

Moone's Emerald Oil overcomes this objection for the Oil penetrates down through the pores to the cause of the trouble and leaves them free to discharge all poisonous secretions. It is very concentrated and only a few drops are required at an application. You can get it at Keiffer Drug Co. or Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., 700 Washington Av. and Grand & Olive Sts., Johnson Bros. VERDICT OF $11,000 ON $7500 POLICY

W. C. Snowden, Realty Salesman Gets Interest and Legal Fees for Injury.

William C. Snowden, 3017A Magnolia avenue, a realty salesman, obtained a jury verdict in Circuit Judge Rosskopf's court for $11,078.50 yesterday against the Missouri State Life Insurance Co. on an accident insurance policy which the company had refused to pay.

On Sept. 10, 1924, after he had returned from a hunting trip, a loaded shotgun, which he had leaned against a wall in his living room, was accidentally knocked over by him and was discharged, wounding him in the left foot. Snowden was taken to City Hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate the foot.

Snowden contended the shotgun had become jammed on the hunting trip and he was unable to extract the load. He knocked it over, he said, when carrying a portion of his hunting equipment from one room to the other. One of the provisions of the accident policy, which was issued July 2, 1924, entitled the insured to $7500 in event he lost a foot by accidental means, but it was the contention of the insurance company that it would have been physically impossible for plaintiff to have been wounded in the manner described by him.

Counsel for the defense gave a demonstration to the jury to show that plaintiff would not have been in the range of fire if the facts were as plaintiff related.

The jury's verdict includes the $75000 principal, interest at 6 per cent, $500 for vexatious delay in making payment and $2000 for plaintiff's counsel, W. O. Reeder and James J. O'Donohoe.

SAYS TOWN OFFICIAL TOOK HALF OF PAY FOR CITY JOB

Wood River Man Makes Affidavit That Warrant Was Drawn for Twice What He Got.

An affidavit was made this afternoon by John W. Kerlie of Wood River that an official of that Illinois refinery town had split a town warrant with him. Kerlie said the official had engaged him to haul sand for the municipality at 25 cents a cubic yard. He hauled 852 yards, but a bill in his behalf for $426 was presented in the City Council Monday and approved. This was at the rate of 50 cents a yard.

He was given a warrant in that sum, he said, and cashed it at the official's direction at an East Alton bank, giving the official half, or $213. He talked about "conditions" later and Mayor Tipton induced him to make the affidavit, with the Mayor, Chief of Police and five others as witnesses. Police Magistrate Wilson attested it as a notary public.

The official mentioned in the affidavit could not be reached.

M'CAMANT REJECTED FOR BENCH BY SENATE

Man Who Nominated Coolidge Turned Down Without Debate.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—President Coolidge today lost his fight to keep on the Federal bench Wallace McCamant of Oregon, who placed his name in nomination for the vice presidency at the Republican National Convention in 1920.

Without a record vote, or even discussion, the Senate yesterday approved the report of its Judiciary Committee, which recommended against confirmation by a vote of 10 to 4.

The action of the Senate automatically removes Judge McCamant from the bench of the Ninth Circuit Court, where he has served since last September under a recess appointment.

The adverse report of the committee was taken up out of order in executive session at the request of Chairman Cummins of the Judiciary Committee, who moved its adoption. No objection was offered either by administration leaders or the friends of McCamant and the vote was taken.

Reports were that McCamant had let it become known that he did not care to press the fight after the committee which gave him a personal hearing had voted so overwhelmingly against him.

Immediately after the Senate voted discussion arose as to a successor to McCamant. The names of Federal District Judge James of California, and former Federal Judge Frank Norcross of Nevada, were among those mentioned.

Senator Johnson's opposition to McCamant was based on the fact that the Oregon man, when a delegate to the 1920 Republican convention did not abide by primary instructions and vote for the nomination of Johnson for President.

McCamant, when before the Senate Committee, defended his course, on the ground that he was not pledged to Johnson and that Johnson was not a good American because he favored a referendum on judicial decisions. McCamant then was reminded that the late Theodore Roosevelt favored such a referendum in 1912, and McCamant replied that Roosevelt was not a good American.

This answer strengthened the opposition to McCamant's confirmation.

Opposition was also based on McCamant's action as organizer for a spruce company.

Sues Actress for $500.

Suit for $500 was filed in Justice of the Peace Court yesterday by Sol Goldman, manager of the St. Louis Yiddish Theater, against Miss Bessie Thomashefski, star of "Zirel and Mirel from Galicia," a Yiddish comedy. Goldman alleges that her refusal to appear at the Odeon Sunday night, unless paid $100 in advance, caused him to lose $500 in refunds to playgoers and expenses.

HOMICIDE VERDICT IN KILLINGS BY CAR WITH POOR BRAKES

Negro Driver and Woman Who Fled With Him Held Without Bond by Coroner's Jury

Jack Gorman, a Negro janitor, and Rosie Brown, a passenger in Gorman's $125 second-hand automobile, bought on instalments, when it killed a young mother and her infant daughter Tuesday night, were ordered held for the Circuit Attorney without bond today, after a Coroner's jury had returned a verdict of homicide.

On advice of counsel neither Gorman nor the Brown woman took the stand, but other witnesses told of the collision of Brown's speeding Hudson automobile with a machine driven by Frank M. Holtsclaw, an auto mechanic of 3207 Iowa avenue. Holtsclaw's 20-year-old wife, Mildred, and their six-weeks-old daughter were killed.

Husband's Story.

"I was just driving our car across Franklin avenue at Leonard when he struck us," Holtsclaw testified in a voice broken with grief. "I saw an automobile coming east, but it seemed too far away to threaten our safety. I didn't know how fast it was coming.

"As we got to the middle of the street I heard the roar of a motor. A big black machine bore down on us. There was a crash and the next thing I knew I was standing on the sidewalk."

On taking the stand Holtsclaw was so overcome with emotion that he would not speak, but when he was assured he need not testify, he answered, "I'll be all right in a moment," sand soon began his story.

Leon Davis, a Negro chauffeur, of 2901 Morgan street, testified that Gorman's car was traveling about 40 miles an hour when it crashed into Holtsclaw's Lextington touring car. The Lexington was going less than 20 miles an hour, he said.

Policemen testified that after his arrest Gorman was taken to City Hospital where examining physicians said he had been drinking, but was not drunk. Two bottles, one empty and the other containing a small quantity of fliud, were found in his machine. The liquid was turned over t othe city chemist for analysis.

Brakes on Car Defective.

As was told yesterday, Gorman confessed he was driving the car in the collision. He was arrested at 4045 Washington boulevard, a rooming house where he works as a janitor at $40 a month. He had fled from the scene of the accident, as had Rosie Brown. He declared his machine had defective brakes.

He had bought the automobile in December at a purchase price of $125 and still owed $78 in time payments. The license plates on the machine were traced to a resident of North Leffingwell avenue, who had reported them stolen in December.

Holtsclaw, who owns the automobile in which he and his family were riding, has not been working steadily for several months. He was taking his wife and baby home after a visit to her father's home when the car was struck.

QUICK ACTION SOUGHT ON CITY ZONING BILL

Chamber of Commerce Directors Write Letter to Aldermanic Committee.

Immediate action on the city zoning ordinance, pending in the legislative committee of the Board of Aldermen since Dec. 11 last, is sought in a letter sent to the committee yesterday by the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

The letter says in part:

"The Chamber of Commerce feels that this measure has received most careful study in the course of its preparation by the Zoning Commission and having received a long and careful consideration by the Legislative Committee (having been referred to your committee on Dec. 11, 1925) that in the interest of promoting the welfare of St. Louis, the time has arrived for its passage.

"Statements have appeared that the enactment of this legislation will tend to hamper or retard altogether the prosperity of the community. This view is not well taken. Twenty-seven of the biggest competitors of the City of St. Louis have adopted zoning ordinances and it is reasonable to assume that if their interests are not in any way adversely affected by zoning legislation, the City of St. Louis will not experience anything except beneficial returns in the passage of this legislation.

ST. LOUIS BOND FORFEITURE SET ASIDE BY GOVERNOR

George J. Dominick Relieved From Paying $3000 in Case of Man Who Fled to Mexico.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 18. 18.—A bond forfeiture of $3000 by the St. Louis Circuit Court against George J. Dominick, bondsman for Alberto Morfino, alias Frank Webb, who fled when under bond on charges of grand larceny and receiving stolen property, was set aside yesterday by Gov. Baker, thereby relieving Dominick of the payment. The forfeiture was ordered by the lower court in February, 1922.

At the Governor's office it was stated Dominick's application for remission of the forfeiture was investigated by Leroy H. Kelsey, secretary of the Governor, and Perry Painter, assistant counsel of the Public Service Commission, and remission of the forfeiture recommended to the Governor.

Kelsey said Dominick had made an effort to return Morfino to St. Louis after locating him in Mexico, but that Mexican authorities had refused to honor a requisition for extradition of Morfino. He said it appeared that Dominick had made a reasonable effort to get Morfino into the custody of the court.

44-YEAR-OLD BELLED BUZZARD KILLED IN NORTHEAST GEORGIA

Hunter Takes Pot Shot at Geese; Brings Down Diferent Sort of Prey.

By the Associated Press.

ATHENS, Ga., March 18.—Not all belled buzzards are of the proverbial variety. One of them, at least, was an actuality and for 44 years was a bell ringer over the valleys and hills of northeast Georgia, or wherever his wanderlust took him.

W. C. Birchmore, who lives near here, was hunting wild gese and took a pot shot at several on the wing, only to bring down a buzzard. Examination disclosed that he had killed a genuine belled buzzard. Around its neck was a small brass bell, about two inches across the base, fastened with a wire. On the bell was the date, "1882" and the name, which was hardly legible, "Joel Mine, Lianville."

HEAVY TRADE IN ALASKA

By the Associated Press.

JUNEAU, Alaska, March 18.—Trade figures compiled by John C. McBride, Collector of Customs for the territory, show that Alaska, for which the United States in 1867 paid $7,200,000, exported $62,223,735 worth of products in 1925 alone. The territory closed the year with a favorable trade balance of $29,024,224. There was an increase of $1,828,133 in the total value of merchandise shipped from and into Alaska.

The territory's total commerce was $95,423,246, of which $33,199,511 was imported and the balance exported.

Gold, silver and copper production materially increased. The fish industry showed a slight decrease, the total being $38,163,845 in 1924, and $37,609,451 in 1925. The shortage was attributed partly to a small salmon run in the Bristol Bay district and to restrictions made by the Government for preservation of the industry.

RHEUMATISM

Came Back to the United States to Get Rid of His Rheumatism.

"When in Victoria, British Columbia, last summer," said H. W. Purcell, 1139 Clarkson St., Denver, Colo., "I went down to the Beach swimming; the water was icy cold. That night I had an acute attack of rheumatism in my left leg with pleurisy in my side. The pain was excruciating and I didn't sleep a wink all night. The very next day I took the boat for Seattle, and there, bought Trunk's Prescription, consisting of an internal Medicine and Liniment. The treatment acted almost instantaneously, and that same week without further ache or pain I could walk miles, calling upon my trade as I am a saleman. This same treatment relieved my wife from chronic rheumatism so I knew it was good. It will help others suffering from rheumatism."

Trunk's Prescription contains no mercury or narcotics; it does not depress the heart or ruin the stomach, neither does it require any dieting to make it effective.

Trunk's Prescription sells for $1.75 or 3 for only $5.00 at leading druggists.

DICKEY'S AIDS SURVEY WILLIAMS OPPOSITION

Kansas Cityan May Seek Senate Nomination—Reed's Attitude a Puzzle.

By CURTIS A. BETTS.

With the political situation in both parties in Missouri becoming more and more muddled in advance of the campaign for nominations of candidates for United States Senator, it becomes apparent that in neither party is the list of candidates by any means definitely closed and the issues drawn.

A few weeks ago it seemed probable there would be only three seekers for the Democratic nomination—Congressman Harry B. Hawes of St. Louis, Judge Ewing Cockrell of Warrensburg and Willis H. Meredith of Poplar Bluff. On the Republican side it looked as though Senator Williams would be unopposed.

Now the indications are that there will be at least one more Democratic candidate, a man who will seek the nomination on a straight-out issue of repeal of the eighteenth amendment and a backup on adherence to the World Court.

Dickey May Enter Race.

Republican opposition to Senator Williams has failed so far to find a candidate against him, but it has not abandoned hope. Only last Sunday Ralph Ellis, managing editor of the Kansas City Journal-Post, owned by Walter S. Dickey, and Bayard Taylor, a Dickey scout, were in St. Louis sounding out the extent of opposition to Williams. They permitted it to become known to a few friends that a survey of the entire state was being made, and that upon Dickey's return from a sojourn in Florida, they would have a report ready for him. On the showing in this report, it is expected, Dickey will decide whether he will enter the race against Williams.

The center of political speculation in Missouri, however, is the attitude Senator Reed will take toward the candidacy of Hawes. They have been friends for many years, but Reed is on record as heading a movement to defeat all candidates for the Senate who do not pledge themselves in opposition to the World Court.

Several weeks ago he entered the Illinois campaign in an effort to defeat Senator McKinley for renomination. If he would intermeddle, as Senator Robinson termed it, in a Republican campaign in another state, what will keep him out of a campaign of his own party in his own State?

It is extremely doubtful, however, that the Reed following is anything like as strong in Missouri as it was in 1922, when in a spectacular campaign he overcame almost the united opposition of his own party, and was renominated and re-elected. There is a different feeling now. For one thing, much to the surprise of many Reed followers, the saloons did not reopen the day after his election. It is, of course, an exaggeration to say that very many persons expected immediate return to pre-Volstead days, but there is no doubt that thousands of voters had been led to believe that Reed's re-election would quite soon alter the prohibition situation. They have even failed to observe any particularly activity on the Senator's part toward changing the Volstead law, and it is doubtful that they would follow him again.

About all Reed would have now if he entered the Missouri campaign would be his fight on the World Court. There has been no indication that voters of the Middle West are particularly concerned about the Court, one way or the other, certainly they are not stirred up about it.

However, if Reed should decide to make an anticourt fight in Missouri during the primary and election campaigns he could cause Hawes and all the Democratic candidates for Congress considerable trouble. He might succeed in defeating the entire Democratic ticket. He would, of course, do none of the Congressmen any good in their campaigns for re-election.

Hawes Voted for Court.

Hawes, with the other Democrats from Missouri, voted in favor of the court. He has not announced a position on the subject in the present campaign, but his close friends say it is inconceivable that he will back-track.

Hawes' opponents so far are classed as extreme "drys," and may be expected to divide the support of those who will be satisfied with nothing less than retention of the Volstead law, and who would prefer to see a law even more extreme.

This would make Hawes' nomination certain if no other candidate entered, but it now appears that there will be another candidate, either former Judge Henry S. Priest or E. G. Hancock, either of whom would run on a platform of repeal of the eighteenth amendment. The effect on Hawes' candidacy of either of these would be mere guesswork, though virtually the total vote either would get would be taken from Hawes. Priest, as a candidate for Governor in 1924 on that issue, polled 50,860 votes, most of which would have gone to George H. Moore if Priest had not been in the race.

Hancock has had no political prominence and has not had the support of any political leaders, yet in the 1924 campaign he picked upon 52,501 votes for the nomination for Lieutenant-Governor on his argument for repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

On the Republican side it does not appear that Williams is seriously menaced, but the rumblings of opposition have reached him in Washington in a volume sufficient to cause him to abandon Senatorial duties and hurry to Missouri to look the situation over and confer with the leaders among his supporters with a view to bringing pressure to bear to keep other candidates out of the contest.

"The Place to Buy Shoes"
711 WASHINGTON

Thousands of people who are sufferers from constipation do not become aware of it until they seek out the cause of their frequent headaches.

"Those bilious headaches can be prevented"

"I know how agonizing they are. For years I was a chronic sufferer.

"And the headaches were not the worst part of it. The strong drugs I used to take to relieve the pain upset my stomach and slowly but surely undermined my general health.

"Finally I found out that my headaches were due to constipation. My doctor advised Nujol. After taking it regularly a few weeks the trouble disappeared.

"Since then I have never had another headache. There is no reason why I should, for the cause has been corrected."

Nujol Corrects Constipation in Nature's Way

Constipation is dangerous for anybody. Nujol is safe for everybody. Nujol simply softens the waste matter and thus permits regular and thorough elimination without overtaxing the intestinal muscles. Medical authorities approve Nujol because it is gentle, safe and natural in its action.

You can take Nujol for any length of time without ill effects. To insure internal cleanliness, it should be taken regularly. Unlike laxatives, it does not form a habit and can be discontinued at any time.

Ask your druggist for Nujol today and begin to enjoy the perfect health that is possible only when elimination is normal and regular.

NEW SITE FOR POLICE OFFICES PURCHASED

Southwest Corner of Twelfth and Clark Bought for $280,000.

A site, costing $280,000, on which it is proposed to build a new police headquarters building, was purchased today by the Police Board at the southwest corner of Twelfth boulevard and Clark avenue, opposite the City Hall, it was announced by President Allen C. Orrick.

The plot runs from Clark avenue to Spruce street on the west side of Twelfth boulevard and 396 feet west on Clark avenue and 180 feet west on Spruce street.

Arrangements for a new headquarters site were made necessary by the decision to widen Twelfth boulevard, from Market street, south to the viaduct, which will take 40 feet off the east side. Orrick said this would run almost back to the present cell rooms. No decision has been reached about the use of the part of the present building remaining.

It is expected that about $30,000 in benefits will be awarded the Police Department for the condemnation of its present building but since the city must pay it, the purchase price of the new site is not lessened.

Orrick said that about $200,000 of the $300,000 included in the 1925-26 appropriation for building remained in the board's possession and would be applied to the purchase price. No plans have been drawn for the new building and construction cannot possibly be started in less than six months. One and two-story buildings and houses occupy the site at present.

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets.

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.

DELAY IN ARMS MEETING UNTIL NEXT FALL LIKELY

Nations Can Hardly Prepare for Preliminary Session Which Was to Have Met by May 15.

PESSIMISTIC VIEW IN WASHINGTON

None of European Nations, It Is Held, Wants to Disarm Except on Its Own Plan.

By CHARLES MICHELSON,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Postponement until next September is predicted for the preparatory meeting to arrange for the arms conference, an invitation to which the United States accepted.

Alanson B. Houghton, American Ambassador to Great Britain, and Hugh Gibson, Minister to Switzerland, who are to be the American representatives at the preliminary sessions, conferred yesterday with the President and Secretary of State Kellogg. Secretary Hoover sat in on several of these talks. None of the conferees will talk for publication, but the prediction is based on what is understood to have been the burden of the conversations.

Another deduction is that there is no use talking for a few years about a separate conference on naval disarmament in Washington, which has been suggested tentatively by President Coolidge on several occasions.

The delays are predicated on the postponement of Germany's entrance into the League of Nations until next fall—and the fact that it is not certain that the same European maneuvering that blocked her joining now will not keep her out even beyond September.

It is possible that the league, to avoid an appearance of impotence, might go ahead with the arms conference without Germany, but this seems unlikely.

Lack of Time to Prepare.

Within the next day or two the league council is supposed to set a date for the holding of the preparatory conference "not later than May 15." Under all the conditions a postponement is indicated. There must be some action or the whole business will expire by limitation. A reason for putting it off is that there is hardly time for the nations to prepare their views and data even for the preliminaries.

When they get together, it is believed that a year at least will be consumed in threshing out the agenda on which the real conference is to work.

Altogether it is rather a pessimistic picture the administration has before it so far as actual disarmament is concerned. It will not come, in the opinion of Americans best able to judge, until economic pressure forces it; that is, Europe is not likely to junk its guns until the various states find they cannot longer afford to keep their big military establishments.

No Desire to Disarm.

It is being emphasized the United States never has intervened in European controversies unless it was invited, which is a broad hint that until Europe is ready we will not suggest a solution to the present impasse.

The theory developed is that none of the European nations really wants to disarm, except on its own formula. England's idea is the simple one of cutting down visible peace time strength. France takes the view that the potential strength of the nations concerned must be the yard stick. The recent utterances of Mussolini relative to the destiny of Italy as a successor to the Roman Empire frequently were quoted today as showing how far from the purpose of real disarmament Europe is today.

CECIL GROOMED FOR SUCCESSOR TO CHAMBERLAIN

By JOHN L. BALDERSTON,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1926, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Cos. (New York World and Post-Dispatch.)

LONDON, March 18.—Foreign Secretary Chamberlain, who got the ribbon of the Garter, the highest honor a British subject can receive, after the Locarno treaties, is likely to resign as a result of the Geneva fiasco. That is the opinion in best informed Unionist circles.

It is expected he will face parliamentary criticisms Wednesday, and remain in office a few weeks in order to save his face and that of the Government.

Already the controlling influences in the Foreign Office are working for the appointment of Viscount Cecil to take Chamberlain's place. Other candidates are the Earl of Birkenhead, Secretary of State for India, who violently attacked Chamberlain in a Cabinet meeting two weeks ago for his desire to enlarge the League council, and Colonial Secretary L. S. Amery. Both are regarded as jingos and neither would be welcomed by the permanent officials.

Since the death of Sir Eyre Crowe, Sir William Tirrell has become almost supreme in the Foreign Office and he is believed to want Lord Cecil if Chamberlain goes.

Italy and Brazil.

The inside story of Brazil's pertinacity in Geneva, the correspondent believes to be this: After France dropped Brazil's claim, the Fascist Undersecretary for Foreign Affairs made a deal with Brazil without the approval of the Senior Italian delegate, Signor Scialoja, who is not a Fascist. By this Italy pledged herself to support Brazil in return for a promise that Brazil would relax her immigration restrictions which prevent Italy from flooding the country with immigrants who cannot get into the United States.

Opinion grows here that "the 10 days that shrook the league" have crippled or killed the Locarno settlement, and attempts by French, British and German statesmen to represent the Locarno treaties and spirit as still alive are strongly discounted.

Answering searching questions from Lord Parmoor in the House of Lords last night, the Earl of Clarendon on behalf of the Government declared that during the negotiation of the Locarno treaty the Dominions had been kept fully informed of events. But Clarendon said the correspondence with the Dominions would not be published as it would be prejudicial "to future free interchange of opinion not only between foreign governments, but between the Governments of the emprie itself."

Parmoor tried to find out whether the Dominions have expressed views regarding article 9 under which their consent is necessary if the Locarno pact is to bind them.

Opposition to Chamberlain.

Anti-Chamberlain feeling is growing both in Parliament and outside. It is nowhere stronger than among the rank and file of his own party. London is buzzing with rumors that Chamberlain double-crossed the Cabinet. He went to Geneva, so he told the House of Commons, with a free hand, but the Cabinet had bound him so that if his hands were free his feet were tied. Nevertheless he is said to have run counter to almost the unanimous opinion of the House of Commons and a majority of the Cabinet.

The vote of censure which the Labor party talks of introducing could not be carried as the Tories, however strongly they condemn the Foreign Secretary in private, would not strike such a blow at the Government publicly. It is possible that before the debate takes place, the House will get the tip that Chamberlain will resign within a few weeks and the opposition leaders would be urged, for the sake of Britain's prestige abroad, to refrain from pressing criticism to extremes.

STRESEMANN FEARS GERMAN REACTION AGAINST LEAGUE

Thinks Geneva Events May Make It Difficult to Persuade Public Opinion of Necessity of Membership.

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, March 18.—Dr. Gustav Stresemann, the German Foreign Minister, in an interview with the foreign newspaper men voiced a warning that it would be a hard task to bring German public opinion now to the necessity of joining the League of Nations, in view of yesterday's events in the league assembly.

"But, nevertheless," he continued, "the statements of M. Briand and Sir Austen Chamberlain in the assembly will help greatly. We will be particularly sustained by the assembly's applause for those orators who maintained that Germany will soon be welcomed into the League."

He made it plain that he did not consider that the League's organism had received a setback, but he said that "the big idea of the league as conceived in the hearts of men has been shaken."

The antileague minority in the Reichstag might be converted into an antileague majority, he said, and added: "You know that parliaments are not true barometers of public opinion, but live in an atmosphere of cabals and intrigues.

"The Germans were converted to the league idea. Now I fear reaction. While the interests and objections of the separate powers may be quite justified, I fear that the German people will not understand the reasons therefor."

Good will among the nations, peace and universal understanding were Germany's aims, he concluded.

Stresemann and Dr. Luther, the German Chancellor, left here for Berlin last night amid "hochs" thrice repeated by the German newspaper men and other sympathizers remaining behind.

"Yes, I will see you here again in September," Dr. Stresemann said to the correspondent of the Associated Press.

Chancellor Luther was slightly less hopeful, saying: "Yes, I think so."

The League of Nations Council, in public session this afternoon ratified the decision taken in its secret sitting of last night to appoint a special committee including Germany to study the problem of reconstructing the council.

A resolution adopted asks this committee to give particular attention to all claims for council seats; to hear all governments in regard to this question and to bear in mind geographical and other considerations raised by the impasse reached over the admission of Germany and the suggestions put forward in yesterday's session of the assembly. If the committee is unable to make a unanimous report, it is asked to bring in both majority and minority reports.

The council approved the selection of May 10 as the date for convening the committee, which besides representatives of the 10 states now members of the council, will include also those of Germany, Argentina, China, Poland and Switzerland.

Nationalists to Try to Overthrow Luther Cabinet.

BERLIN, March 18.—Motions of nonconfidence in the Government, introduced by the Nationalists and supported by the communists, will greet Chancellor Luther and Foreign Minister Stresemann soon after their reappearance in the Reichstag.

The Nationalists take the position, in an official party pronouncement, that "the manner in which the German application for admission to the League of Nations was treated and the attitude of the German delegates at Geneva have led to a complete fiasco in the foreign policy of the Luther-Stresemann Cabinet."

The Government parties see in the joint communique of the Locarno signatories, issued at Geneva, an assurance for continuation of the policy of pacifying Europe, and will uphold the Government's course.

League Disarmament Commission Will Meet May 17.

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, March 18.—The Council of the League of Nations today set May 17 for the first meeting of the preparatory commission on the league's disarmament conference. It decided to add delegates from the United States, Germany, Japan and Russia to the joint committee of experts which will advise the commission. It was also decided to submit all military matters to a special subcommission, including representatives of all states which participate in the preparatory commission. The resolution embodying these decisions made no mention of the place of the meeting, thus avoiding commitment regarding the situation arising from Russia's refusal to participate in meetings held on Swiss soil.

The Council did, however, draft a letter to Russia, urging her participation in the work of the preparatory commission, this letter mentioning that the commission would meet at Geneva.

PRESIDENT SOUGHT TO HALT SUGAR INQUIRY, REPORT SHOWS

Minutes of Tariff Commission Delivered to Senate in Response to Resolution.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Minutes of the Tariff Commission, delivered to the Senate in response to a resolution confirmed the report printed some time ago in the Post-Dispatch that President Coolidge, July 9, 1924, through his secretary, unsuccessfully sought to have it lay aside the controverted sugar investigation and take up the inquiry into the cost of butter production.

Commissioner Costigan, with the support of Commissioners Culbertson and Lewis, prevented the laying aside of the sugar inquiry, the records showed, and, as the controversy progressed, Commissioners Glassie and Burgess and Chairman Marvin, in turn, withdrew from the investigation. Culbertson, Lewis and Burgess all have since retired from the commission.

Commissioner Glassie's participation in the investigation, which has been the subject of considerable discussion because of the interest of his family in the industry, the minutes disclosed, ended at a meeting May 23, 1924, at which the sugar controversy started. A point of order he had raised against a motion by Commissioner Costigan was protested by Lewis.

MALVY FAINTS IN PARLIAMENT AFTER BRIAND'S DEFENSE

French Minister of Interior, Who Was Once Banished, Accused of Treason by Fascist Deputy.

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE IS GIVEN PREMIER

Carried by 336 to 164 After Socialists Agree to Support Ministerial Declaration of Government.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, March 18.—Louis Malvy, Minister of Interior, fainted in the Chamber of Deputies today after replying to accusations of treason, leveled at him by the Fascist Deputy Ybarnegaray.

M. Malvy was subjected to the bitterest attack and bore up under it courageously until Premier Briand took the rostrum in his defense. The Premier, pointing at his Minister of Interior, declared solemnly:

"This man has been the victim of a most outrageous miscarriage of justice. He is innocent!"

M. Malvy put his hand to his face, his body shaking with emotion, and then sank in a dead faint. He was carried off by his friends of the Left, while even his bitterest political enemies remained silent.

The Socialists, angered by the attack upon him, unanimously decided to vote in favor of the Government on the ministerial declaration, assuring Premier Briand of a majority.

The chamber this evening adopted a vote of confidence in the reorganized Cabinet by 361 to 164.

Louis Malvy resigned from the Cabinet in 1917, after being accused of having engaged in defeatist propaganda. The Chamber of Deputies voted that he be impeached and the Senate, sitting as a high court in 1918, found him guilty of dealing with the enemy and sentenced him to five years' banishment, which he spent in Spain. With the return of the Radicals to power in 1924, he was granted amnesty. He was appointed president of the Finance Committee of the Chamber last September and was given the portfolio of interior in the reorganization of the Cabinet last week.

The Premier, speaking on the League of Nations sessions at Geneva, declared that no discord whatever existed between France, Germany and the other signatories of the locarno pact, but added, "in returning to Paris this morning I found an atmosphere that was not quite the same."

"There appears to be in this chamber," he continued, "the elements of majority opposed to the government. If it is the intention of this majority to overthrow me it would be better that this be done immediately. I can wait, but the country cannot.

"We cannot lose more time. In any case I hope that if you throw me down you will not wait until dawn to accomplish it."

CHEMICAL BOMBS THROWN AT WALES AND BALDWIN

LONDON, March 18.—When hundreds of guests leaned forward to hear Premier Baldwin speak at a St. Patrick's dinner last night, a spluttering chemical bomb was hurled from a balcony, struck the table and bounded to the floor.

Before it could release its full force it was extinguished by quick application of champagne, wine and soda from the glasses of the diners. Even before it was recognized the missile was not dangerous, the guests behaved with admirable calm, the Premier continuing to puff his pipe. The bomb thrower was arrested but later released at Baldwin's request.

The Prince of Wales is declared not to have been aware that a missile containing moistened calcium carbide was thrown into the lobby of the restaurant where he was dining with members of the Irish Club. A pasteboard box containing the calcium carbide and a piece of tarred rope broke as it fell and its contents were scattered over the floor.

SHOALS FUND REPORT ORDERED

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Secretary Mellon was directed today by the Senate to report as to expenditures made from the $20,000,000 Muscle Shoals fund provided for in the national defense act of 1916.

Senator Norris of Nebraska, at whose request the action was taken, said that, although the appropriation was for construction of public works, he was informed part of it had been used for other purposes, including the cost of the President's Muscle Shoals commission.

SHORT-HAUL BILL NOT LIKELY TO BE VOTED BY SENATE

Fess of Ohio Claims There Will Be 10 or 12 Margin Against Gooding Railroad Measure.

ACTION TO BE TAKEN NEXT WEDNESDAY

But Even if It Passes It Still Must Go Through House Where It Never Has Found Favor.

By CHARLES G. ROSS,
Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—That hardy legislative perennial, the Gooding long-and-short-haul bill, is again the subject of exhaustive and exhausting discussion in Congress, and under a unanimous consent agreement will be voted upon in the Senate next Wednesday. The lines for and against the measure are much more closely drawn than in the last Senate, when it was passed by a vote on 54 to 23. There is, indeed, a large chance that the bill this time will be defeated; according to Senator Fess (Rep.) of Ohio, a leader of the opposition, there will be a margin of 10 or 12 votes against it.

If passed by the Senate the bill will still have to run the gauntlet of the House, where its friends thus far have never succeeded in bringing it to a vote. The measure in the House is known as the Hoch bill, after the Kansas Congressman who is sponsoring it.

Provisions of the Bill.

What is the long and short haul bill, and why the pother about it? Briefly, the bill in the Senate, which bears the name of the junior Senator from Idaho, provides that no common carrier shall be permitted by the Interstate Commerce Commission to charge less for a long haul than for a shorter intermediate haul, of goods or passengers, over the same line in the same direction, "on account of water competition, either actual or potential or direct or indirect."

For example, a railroad would not be allowed, on account of the actual or potential water competition through the Panama Canal and up the West Coast, to make a lower freight rate from Chicago to Seattle, on the coast, than from Chicago to Spokane, in the interior.

The nucleus of the support for the Gooding bill is made up of the Senators from the seven or eight so-called inter-mountain states of the West. These states, it is argued, have been unjustly handicapped by the way in which the Interstate Commerce Commission has administered the famous fourth section of the Interstate Commerce act—the section which authorizes the commission, under certain conditions, to permit a departure from the principle that more should be charged for a long than a short haul.

Interior Cities Damaged.

Permission given to the transcontinental lines to charge lower rates to the coast than to interior points, because of the competition of water lines running to the coast cities, is declared by Gooding and his associates to have resulted in the industrial aggrandizement of the favored localities at the expense of the interior.

"The Panama Canal," said Gooding in a report on the bill, "was built by all the people of the United States. The interior was taxed its full proportion, but has received no benefit therefrom; in fact, the interior has been irreparably damaged through a system of freight rates fostered by the railroads and the Interstate Commerce Commission."

Some other contentions set out in this report and now being amplified on the Senate floor run as follows:

That manufacturers have left the interior to locate at points with more favorable freight rates—a condition which has contributed to the congestion of population at a few great centers.

That the law as now administered results in "rank and un-American discrimination by imposing on the interior unjust and prejudicial rates and by compelling the interior to pay the transportation costs of more favored points."

I. C. C. Policy Hurtful.

That if the rate to the more distant of two points is "reasonably compensatory" to a railroad (as the Interstate Commerce Commission says it must be), then the rate to a less distant point is "grossly excessive and unreasonable."

That the policy of the Interstate Commerce Commission in granting "fourth section relief" to the railroads is hurtful to the development of water transportation, which Congress has engaged itself to preserve in full vigor.

Opposition to the bill has been

FASCISM FROM THE INSIDE

Mussolini's Dupes Don't Read and Won't Argue, So Fall Prey to Abuses

Rossi Says Federzoni and Farinacci Are Real Strong Men of Cabinet and They Are Bickering.

COUNT CESARE ROSSI, former intimate friend and aid of Mussolini, the Italian dictator, who is now an exile in Paris, has told in preceding articles published by the Post-Dispatch of a series of episodes upon which he bases his charge that Mussolini and his Government were responsible for the slaying of Matteotti, the socialist leader. In today's chapter Gen. Rossi presents some views from the inside of Fascism and Fascist leaders.

By CESARE ROSSI.

PARIS, March 18.

UNDOUBTEDLY many readers may reflect that when I, as the former collaborator of Mussolini, express hostility toward the Italian dictatorship, I am moved by resentment against the regime which mistreated me personally.

Such resentment is certainly pardonable after 18 months in prison. Bitterness and mortification would fill the most faithful and courageous heart. But my convictions outweigh my passions in this matter.

I have already given some inkling of this in recalling my constant efforts as a high government official toward compromise with other national parties and constant friendly relations with men of the old regime who were disposed to work with Fascism in the interests of the country.

These facts show that my mentality is diametrically opposed to the attitude adopted by Fascism today. The records show that I never dreamed of subscribing to the methods which the dominant factions of the party now advocate and even then advocated — their "all or nothing" attitude of absolute implacability.

Not Foreseen Till 1924.

That the divine right of government is perpetual and infallible has never been among my doctrines. Moreover, I did not believe in perpetual reaction which can lead only to tyranny and absolutism.

Whether or not it was the opposition's deliberate, fundamental and implacable enmity which exasperated the Fascisti and Mussolini and threw them into a state of blind intolerance need not be decided now. All I would show is that the recent arbitrariness of Fascism could not possibly have been foreseen until 1924.

Mussolini does not deserve the whole blame for this. The dictatorship has now become a necessity in all Italy as it was formerly in only a few provinces where Fascism was most aggressive. The dictatorship is in harmony with the arrogant egotism which is Fascism's foundation.

I, myself, have, on occasions, resorted to violence and do not repent thereof because I did so only as a reply to the violence or attempted violence of extremists. What I disapprove is rural Fascism's general assumption that it is entitled to repress with violence even peaceful propaganda. I never understood why Fascisti did not welcome the opportunity to meet opponents in debate. The refusal to answer an opponent's argument too often is a confession that one has no arguments oneself.

Non-Reading Ignorance.

I, myself, when secretary of the Milan Fascio, in 1922, I organized a series of 20 lectures at the principal theaters. They were always attended by thousands of interested auditors. Although the object was to vindicate Fascism, the plan was criticised as "a return to democratic methods."

The plan was abandoned, then resumed later by the national Fascist propaganda bureau, but I must confess no great results ever came from it.

Facisti seem temperamentally incapable of reading books or even newspapers and this weakness paves the way for the dictatorship and other abuses.

"Discipline" and "Nation" are two words whereunder every wickedness in the world can now be perpetrated in Italy, not only by the central government, but by every one of 9000 local dictators, each a strutting part of a reduced facsimile of Mussolini.

Everybody regards Mussolini as standing at the apex of the dictatorship, but in actual practice Farinacci, general secretary of the Fascist party, often acts against the Duce's wishes. Several times Mussolini has bitten the dust in attempting to thwart Farinacci's counter-attacks.

Farinacci dominates the party, generally using his own name but often Mussolini's. Farinacci's ambition and thirst for power are not confined to exercising authority over provincial leaders and deputies but extend to public officials of the highest rank.

ONE OF THE POWERS IN FASCIST CABINET

FARINACCI.

Federzoni vs Farinacci.

This constant interference galls Federzoni, Minister of the Interior. A close range duel between these two rivals has been going on for a long time. But Fascism cannot yet enjoy the luxury of public discord and hence news of the quarrels is suppressed.

Farinacci will certainly get the worst of the encounter, eventually because he is an uncultured, uncouth villain and an arrant fool who has chastised and expelled at least a hundred deputies and party leaders and has no worth-while supporters, despite the apparent unanimity of his following.

On the other hand, Federzoni, Rocco, Forges-Davanzati, Maraviglia and their associates, have occupied all the strategic posts, including all the principal jobs of the Foreign Office, among which is that of general secretary of the Contarini. The Defense Ministry, nominally headed by Mussolini, is actually run by the Nationalists. The banks, particularly the Banca Commerciale, is friendly to them, while Rocco's big stick controls the magistracy. Prefects carefully selected by Federzoni maintain a daily telephone contact with him. The Nationalists have even obtained entire domination of the national militia, which was to have been a reserve of the "Fascist revolution," but now is reluctantly obliged to swear allegiance to the King.

Shifting Blame on Duce.

Federzoni handles newspaper traffic and that is what most annoys Farinacci. Federzoni is behind all the rumors and intrigues, such as the Matteotti investigation, the Chieti trial and the Zaniboni attempt.

Federzoni, stodgy and clumsy, has not had much luck in the role of agent-provocateur. His intelligence is unequal to his perfidy. His game is simply to aid and abet Mussolini, thereby getting an absolute grip on the Duce through his inside knowledge on intrigues. At the same time, he causes his faithful supporters to spread the report that Nationalist hands are clean and all blame lies on Mussolini and the Fascisti.

Clearly, then, neither Farinacci's buffoonery nor Mussolini's theatricality are the real dictatorship, but rather Federzoni's which is also fickle, because it rests upon the new Italian laws.

The Nationalists plan this: Wear Farinacci out and discredit Mussolini, whom they now look upon as a stuffed Napoleon. They flatter him only in order to keep unsuspecting Fascist support.

Federzoni's friends believe this plan ultimately will put Federzoni in Mussolini's place.

But they are mistaken in their blind greed for power. That very Mussolini myth which they helped to create will fall when Mussolini falls and down with it will go Fascisti and Nationalists as well. They have a well organized general staff, but without troops. The Fascisti will desert them. But any effort to set up a second Fascist regime will be mown down in bloody fury.

Italy's Tomorrow.

Such is Italy's tomorrow unless the Government recedes from its rule of terrorism.

Mussolini will not recede. He may execute some new coup—no matter in what direction—for variety is his watchword.

As for Fascism being a bulwark

Crowd of 1000 Was Demonstrating Before Cabinet Offices Against Assent to Note of Powers.

ARMY PROMISES TO OPEN HARBOR

Americans in Pekin Protest Against Participation by U. S. in Armed Action to Raise Blockade.

By the Associated Press.

PEKIN, March 18.—Seventeen students were killed and 16 wounded by guards who fired on a thousand students who were demonstrating before the Cabinet offices today.

The demonstration was in protest against the Government's acquiescence in, the ultimatum of the Powers regarding the restoration of free communication between Pekin and Tientsin and the sea.

Troops are guarding the residence of the chief of the military squad which fired on the students.

The Powers' ultimatum demanded action by noon today.

The Foreign Office memorandum to the Powers comments on the alleged lack of patience on the part of the diplomats, but assures the Powers that competent military authorities have been authorized to take proper measures regarding the clauses in the note of the Powers.

China's Reply.

The substance of the reply to the five demands of the Powers follows:

The Kuominchun National Peoples' Army will undertake to observe the protocol of 1901, with the United States, Great Britain, Japan and Italy, which provides for the disarmament of forts at Taku at the mouth of the Pei River, and guarantees an open way to the sea.

Measures taken at Taku were purely defensive and intended to guarantee the safety of Tientsin. They will cease automatically when the danger has been averted.

Provided the Powers guarantee that the Fengtien warships retire, thereby removing the danger to Tientsin, the Kuominchun will abandon measures being applied.

Investigation is urged of Chinese passengers aboard all ships as necessary to safeguard Tientsin against infiltration of armed Fengtieners likely to create disturbances.

What Powers Demanded.

The demands contained in the ultimatum of the Powers were:

Hostilities in the channel from the Taku Bar to Tientsin must be discontinued.

Mines and other obstructions must be removed.

Combatant vessels must remain outside the bar and refrain from interference with foreign ships.

Protest by Americans.

American residents of Pekin, representing chiefly missionary interests, yesterday took action in protest against American participation in possible armed action by the Powers to compel raising of the blockade of Tientsin.

A group of 10 Americans called on John V. A. MacMurray, the American Minister, and urged him to prevail on the Washington Government to prevent American participation in the proposed action by foreign naval forces to compel reopening of navigation on the Pei River.

They represented the Rockefeller Foundation, which maintains the Pekin Union Medical College; Yenching University, a joint missionary institution, and the Presbyterian and Methodist missionary bodies.

Later this group issued a declaration, expressing the belief that the action taken by the Powers raises grave issues and involves the principle of international fair play. They argued that the provisions of the 1901 protocol for the maintenance of free access to the sea are applicable only in the event of danger of an armed attack on foreign residents, and that such danger does not exist at present.

American participation in naval action, they asserted, would violate the spirit of friendly co-operation in the efforts of the Chinese to solve their own problems, and would constitute a departure from the traditional American policy of friendship for China.

The declaration said the conse-

Webster Groves Bond Issue.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

AS a resident of the beautiful suburb of Webster Groves, who voted against the bond issue proposal Tuesday for $225,000 for parks and playgrounds and yet who believes he has the Webster Groves spirit in favor of progress and added improvement, I would suggest that a somewhat different method of submitting the proposition might be successful.

We were asked to vote $225,000 without adequate information on the subject. I would suggest that options be obtained on the property to be purchased and that voters be informed exactly the locations and the amounts to be paid. There is no suspicion that anybody desired to make an unfair profit, but the voters are entitled to determine for themselves the question of whether the property is worth what is being asked for it.

If the taxpayers of Webster Groves are given full and complete information, and if the proposition is reasonably fair, I have no doubt the bonds will be voted when again submitted. But I do not believe they will blindly vote the additional taxes which would result.

Continue City Lodging House.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THE officers of the Junior League of St. Louis, an organization interested in social economic and civic welfare, view with alarm and apprehension the possible discontinuance of the Municipal Lodging House and its service to homeless men, and at a special meeting Saturday, March 13, resolved:

That the Board of Estimate and Apportionment be asked to continue the appropriation for the Municipal Lodging House, so that it can be continued in a suitable location which certainly can be found and the work of caring for the helpless down-and-out men of the city be carried on in the future as it has been in the past and not left to random chance or charity.

The league also asks for the retention of the city budget of the appropriation of $16,714, recommended by H. F. Salisbury, Director of Public Welfare, for the Psychiatric Clinic, which does work which we consider of great value in the care and treatment of delinquent and dependent children.

OFFICERS OF THE JUNIOR LEAGUE OF ST. LOUIS.

Time to Abandon It.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I WAS told by a U. R. employe that the pay as you leave plan was only temporary and was to be tried for a time to see how the people liked it. I think the company must know by now how the people "like" it, and I think they better change back to the old way. People nearly have their clothing torn off in the mad rush to get off at the back end, and some who are not intending to get off for about four blocks, will go to the back end of the car and stand there and keep many who have to get off at a transfer point from getting out in time, as the conductor naturally thinks everyone is off when he sees some standing, evidently waiting for the next stop. It seems to me if six passengers got on at once, time would be saved by the car moving on while the conductor collects those six fares, instead of its having to stand still while he collects. If "good service" is their motto, they had better change soon.

Railway Men's Wages.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

RESPONDENT to Mr. R. E. Dwyer's article of recent date published in this column opposing the increase in wages the railroad trainmen are seeking to obtain. Is it not an astonishing conclusion he arrived at after his so-called "taking into consideration the amount of skill they must have, the amount of time it takes to master that skill and the fact that the majority of them have steady work that is certainly not strenuous, mentally or physically."

Undoubtedly, his statements are not the result of a fair and impartial consideration of the literal facts but merely an item by one not thoroughly acquainted with actual conditions.

His assertion that their work is not strenuous, mentally or physically, was assuredly not derived from actual experience. What is a greater strain on the human physique and mental faculties than rising with probably insufficient rest and going to work at all hours of the night and working outside during all weather conditions?

Do you really think his idea, "that young farmers and laborers of ordinary intelligence could qualify in a very short time," is extremely characteristic of one who is familiar with the railroad, when trainmen and yardmen of long service will readily admit that there is something new to learn every day and that "Safety First" is the watchword at all times lest your family collect on your insurance?

Bestow upon the guardians of transportation their just and proper rewards for they are not unreasonable.

MILLER'S SHAMEFUL EXHIBITION

The farce at the city hall is over. There is no doubt of the verdict of every citizen of St. Louis except Juryman Miller, who has been instructed by Judge Miller, after prosecution by Prosecutor Miller, on the evidence of Witness Miller and his political henchmen. The jury is withholding its verdict for further consultation with himself.

Mayor Miller owes Director Wall an abject apology and amends, not only for trying without cause to oust him from office, but to ruin his fine reputation as an engineer and as a faithful and efficient public officer, with a long and honorable record for high-class public service.

Mayor Miller owes the people of St. Louis an apology for bringing reproach and shame upon the city, by repaying the long and faithful service of one of its best public officers with an attempt to oust him from office and ruin him on unjust and unfounded charges against his official competence and conduct.

The charges against Director Wall brought publicly by Mayor Miller, which the Mayor himself did not withdraw as false and utterly unfounded, were shot full of holes even in the farcical trial in which the Mayor himself was witness, prosecutor, judge and jury. The only charges that stood in the sham trial were two. A silly charge that Director Wall wrote a letter complaining that he was not asked to speak at a meeting celebrating the installation of lights under his own supervision, and a charge that he refused to discharge Ralf Toensfeldt, a competent and experienced official in his department, and substitute another man who had been discharged from his department for cause.

The whole nub of the case finally rested on the refusal of Director Wall to let the Mayor control contracts and appointments in his department.

Mayor Miller owes an apology to the four members of the Board of Public Service. He humiliated them by compelling them as his appointees to hold a meeting in secret, and, without Director Wall's knowledge, without a hearing, to condemn Wall and support his plan to oust him. He compelled them to set aside not only justice but common decency in their subservience to the Mayor and their maltreatment of a fellow member of the board.

Mayor Miller has humiliated all the heads of departments in his administration except Director Wall, by compelling them to testify that they would obey his orders with regard to the conduct of and appointments in their departments, regardless of their own conscience and judgment as to the public welfare. He has exhibited them as his own puppets.

The Mayor has made a pitiable exhibition of his appointees, and his administration the sorriest spectacle the people of St. Louis have seen in the city hall.

Director Wall is vindicated by the Mayor's own trial. He can resign with a good conscience, and take what action he sees fit with regard to his maltreatment by the Mayor. We are sure the popular verdict vindicates him and condemns the Mayor.

THIS LAW SHOULD BE PASSED.

Mrs. Mildred Holtsclaw, a 20-year-old mother, and her baby daughter are dead. They were killed by a Negro driving at high speed a second-hand automobile with defective brakes, on which he had paid $40.

If liability insurance were compulsory in Missouri it is doubtful whether that Negro could have qualified for driving a car and doubtful whether such a car could have been driven.

But the Automobile Club of Missouri is opposed to compulsory liability insurance. Its opposition is short-sighted and doctrinaire. It should face realities—tragic realities in this instance—and exert its influence in urging this necessary and protective law.

THE BRILLIANT VAN SWERINGENS.

A romance of high finance might be written around the career of the Van Sweringen brothers which, for subtlety and far-reaching complications, would make the most dashing yarn of the Spanish Main seem a dull and prosy tale. In this romance there would be no cutlasses or bearded buccaneers or treasure chests bursting with yellow coins. But there would be two suave and smiling youngsters, former Cleveland newsboys, who, armed only with mother-wit, have acquired a great steel-railed dominion worth untold millions of dollars.

It is true that the Van Sweringen dream of a railroad system of 9000 miles, valued at $1,600,000,000, has been temporarily obscured by a recent decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission, but to two such men still in their forties that is a hurdle which may still be leaped. The Van Sweringens made their original stake in Cleveland real estate, but they first attracted national attention when they bought the moribund Nickel Plate Railroad about 1913. In this transaction they put up $520,000 in cash and, though they have been buying railroad properties on a gargantuan scale ever since, this is the only cash that has come out of the Van Sweringen wallet.

To complete the Nickel Plate bargain, they got a $2,000,000 loan, and they sold preferred stock in a new holding corporation to pay off the loan. They retained three-fourths of the common stock, which assured their control, and in selling a block of this managed to get back part of their cash. The Nickel Plate had, at the time of its purchase, nearly $4,000,000 in its treasury, four times as much as the railroad had actually cost its new owners in cash. It was not long before the two geniuses required the Nickel Plate to declare a dividend, thus producing new capital in the amount of a half-million dollars.

Thus off to a flying start, the Van Sweringens embarked on an orgy of railroad buying, reorganizations and stock legerdemain which staggers the imagination. The story is told in a sketchy fashion in The Nation by Hobart S. Bird, who claims that up to this time the Van Sweringens have made $80,000,000 from their original investment.

We, of course, do not mean to imply that the Van Sweringens have broken any law or engaged in any corrupt practice. They have simply demonstrated the magnificent profit-making possibilities of our financial system.

THE CELTIC BARQUE MAKES PORT.

St. Patrick's Day in the morning has lost its ancient flavor. The parades, the perfervid oratory, the conviviality, with now and then the whack of the shillalah to emphasize a point or end a controversy—they are gone. The day doubtless invokes memories among the elders to whom indeed "It's a long, long way to Tipperary," but the second and third generations of that tide of immigration that poured into the United States in the '40s and '50s of the last century have built their own Lares and Penates and developed their own traditions, their own loyalties and their own culture. The Irish-American passes. The hyphen disappears—absorbed in the melting pot's tempering swirl.

The tragedy of a race, at home everywhere yet racially homeless, is erased from the scroll. A free Ireland, the age-long dream of a people's poets and savants and the passionate creed of the people themselves is today an essential fact. The martyrs are in marble now. The cadences of the miserere are replaced by the swinging tempo of national pride in national accomplishment and progress.

Two eminent Irishmen, President Cosgrave and the Right Hon. Baron Glenavy, expressed themselves in the Post-Dispatch yesterday. They are agreed that the outstanding achievement of last year was the settlement of the boundary question and the friendly relations that have followed between the Free State and Northern Ireland. Glenavy, in his comment, has preached a philosophy which any people might profitably ponder, and especially ourselves. He said:

> If Northern and Southern Ireland are ever to be brought together it can only be as the result of stable government, both in North and South, by the fearless and impartial administration of even-handed justice, by respect for the rights of minorities and for their civil and religious liberty.

He concluded with this auspicious observation: "I cannot recall, within a long recollection, any period in which there was a more general desire and effort for good will and tolerance among all creeds and classes of Irishmen."

After centuries of buffeting the Celtic barque makes port.

IF A CERTAIN GHOST SHOULD WALK.

Old Levi Z. Leiter died in 1904. His body is a-moldering in the grave, but his fortune goes marching on. We wonder what the patriarch of the Leiter family would say if he could be induced to leave the fields of asphodel and enter a certain courtroom in Chicago. There he would see some dimly familiar faces. That no-longer-young man in a dark suit, white vest and walking stick is his son, Joe. We do not think Levi could forget Joe. In 1898 Joe cut quite a swath. He tried to corner the wheat crop of the United States. This little prank cost the old man $7,000,000. Yes, we think Levi would remember the chap in the white vest.

Next to Joe, Levi would spot his daughter Nancy, now known as Lady Campbell. He would be quick to discern a person he used to know as his daughter, Marguerite Daisy. She was a belle of Washington in the old days. She is middle-aged now, and a very imposing woman whose title is the Countess of Suffolk and Berks. Levi could tell at a glance, from her chic clothing and haughty bearing, that she was at least a Countess. He would hear names like Lady Cynthia Mosley, Lady Curzon, the Baroness of Ravensdale and Lady Alexandra Metcalf, which might not mean much until it were explained that these are relatives also, children, grandchildren and the like.

For a moment it would look to the old man like an old-fashioned family union, and a grand one, too, what with all these titles and such. But soon he would find it to be a family feud, with Joe and his cohorts on one side and the Countess of Suffolk and Berks, with her supporters, on the other. The issue: Levi Z. Leiter's money. What would Levi do? We think he would hurry back to elysium as fast as his ghostly legs could carry him there.

GUILTY AND SANE.

Criminal Judge Kavanaugh, in Chicago the other day, did an amazing thing. He refused to accept medical testimony of witnesses hired by the opposing lawyers in the Costello murder case and announced that the Court would engage its own expert witnesses. Accordingly, Judge Kavanaugh asked the Chicago Medical Society to appoint three reputable physicians, who examined Costello and found his insanity plea groundless.

"Guilty and sane" might be the phrase with which the jury announced its verdict. It meant just that, and Costello, who was convicted of brutally killing a young girl, was sentenced to hang.

Such a change in court procedure is of tremendous importance. We are all familiar with the spectacle which usually is presented when a plea of insanity enters a murder case. High-priced and supposedly reputable specialists testify for the State and the defense, and their opinions of the defendant's sanity almost always depend on who is paying them. Too often juries, bewildered by the welter of conflicting opinions as to a murder defendant's sanity, decide to give him the benefit of doubt and return their verdict, "Guilty, but insane."

It is the fairer and more enlightened way, certainly, to have experts appointed by the Court, and paid by the Court. They are thus detached from the controversial aspects of the case and can render an opinion as impartial as an opinion from the bench.

PANETELA.

Yes, Luella,
Things are cheering,
Just as sure
As you were born:
Let us take
The silver beauty
Of the countryside
At morn.
Merely looking
From your window
At the rousing
Of the day,
You can form
A first-rate notion
Whether spring
Is far away.

In a little while,
My dearie,
Say when March
Has had his sway,
All the ills
We knew of winter
Shall be wholly Swept away.
Not one thing
That has oppressed us
But will vacate
Its abode
And in hope
Of better fortune
Wearily resume
The road.

This is why
We like Missouri.
Florida may Be sublime,
Or we'll say
That California
Has a celebrated
Clime.
All the same,
We like Missouri,
All despite
The winter's sting,
Just because
We like to be here
And experience
The spring.

After years
Of this sensation,
Having waited
Through the snows
And the months
Of preparation,
This thing truly
Sort of grows.
Maybe we pay
Too much for it,
And the price
Is never light,
But since nothing
Is for nothing,
Very likely
We are right.

Thus it is,
My sweet Luella,
With the balances
Of life:
Peace, rewards
And other blessings,
Follow industry
And strife.
So that when
We hear a robin,
We have more joy
Of a song
Than if we Lived in the tropics
Where the birds
Sing right along.

POOR ROYALTY!

The King and Queen of England attended a charity bazar, and when they were asked to buy something for the starving daughters of the stylish stout, or whatever charity it was, they searched their royal pockets and found that neither of them had any money. Of course, maybe the King and Queen were like most human beings who go to charity bazars without any money in order to avoid the inevitable hold-up. Such suspicions are rife concerning the royal lack of change. Now if it had been their son, David, the glass of fashion, His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, he would have had a very adequate and plausible excuse for not having any money in his stylish jeans.

He changes his clothes so often!

VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION.

OSCAR M. SULLIVAN in the Century Magazine for March.

THE Federal act appropriated a million dollars a year for four years "for the vocational rehabilitation of persons disabled in industry or otherwise," to be divided among the States in proportion to population, and conditional on the spending of an equal amount of money for the same purpose by each State receiving aid. The Federal Board for Vocational Education was given the administration of the act and authorized to assist the States by research and advice. In 1924 the act was renewed for six years, notwithstanding the gathering storm of antagonism to Federal subsidies. * * * * The States have done the actual work of rehabilitation, and the Federal Board has punctiliously kept within its advisory sphere. Since that time three more, with their eyes wide open and with the experience of the other States before them, have come in. * * * * Few know of the movement or realize its accomplishments. They do not know that in the third year after the beginning of the work, when Congress was deliberating whether to continue its support, the official records showed that 4530 handicapped persons had been converted into producers, and that the annual earnings of those persons were $1,530,000. IMPROVING THE MISSOURI.

From the Kansas City Star.

THE Missouri Valley states that have made the inland waterways fight will be greatly disappointed if only one and one-half million dollars is set aside for Missouri River work out of the $50,000,000 appropriated by Congress. An additional one-half million is counted on from benefited districts. But a total of two and one-half million dollars, instead of $2,000,000, had been confidently expected. If the present equipment will take care of only the smaller volume of work, then additional equipment should be procured. For there is to be a continuing program until the channel is completed. Work could be let also by contract. Now that the Missouri Valley states have won the fight for the additional $10,000,000 in the appropriation bill—and they were responsible for winning it—they ought not to be cheated out of the fruits of their victory. If the Missouri allotment is cut below $2,000,000, with a total of $2,500,000 available, there will be a strong feeling that this great inland region has been unfairly dealt with.

HEAD OF BIGGEST BANK FAVORS BRANCHES

Growth of the branch banking system, to extend conveniences within easy reach of customers, was predicted by Charles E. Mitchell, president of the National City Bank and National City Co., New York, before the Chamber of Commerce and Bankers' Club, at luncheon at the Chamber yesterday.

The present American controversy over the right of national banks to conduct branches started with the opening of branches here by the First National Bank, it will be recalled. Sentiment of St. Louis bankers have been divided. John G. Lonsdale, president of the National Bank of Commerce and president of the Bankers' Club, presided at the luncheon, which many leading financiers attended.

Mitchell, who, at the age of 48, has been head of the nation's largest bank for five years, told how financial institutions in New York City had found it necessary to establish branches and mentioned the numerous failures of small, rural banks.

A Modern Development.

"Branches," he said, "are a modern development, likely to go far despite the temporary feeling that exists in this country against such banking. Certainly the day will come, perhaps not in our time, when we will follow the footsteps of other countries with longer experience, which all have adopted a system far different than ours."

Mitchell went on to tell of the change in bankers from austere, long-whiskered men to warm-blooded humans with deep knowledge of commerce.

"Growth of mutual understanding between the banker and the business man," he said, "has developed American industry and commerce. Banking has become a profession. The modern banker has a better understanding if he has had experience in some particular line of business. Sometimes I feel the banker growing up through the books to the carpet of administration is at a disadvantage because he never had a chance to see how it feels to make a dollar.

Banker Must Be a Specialist.

"Sitting in the center of a web, the banker finds the man in steel coming to him with his problems, the man in lumber, oil, trades and merchandising. It is up to him at the center to advise them properly. No banker can give correct advice unless he knows the working of economic laws. He must be an economic specialist. It is an indefinite science, dependent on time, influenced by politics; the banker must be a student of politics. He must be a student of and have some experience in investment finance.

"These are the essentials necessary basically for the modern banker. Beyond them he must have human qualities to make it easy for men to come to him confidentially with their problems, human understanding and feeling for the men with whom he comes in contact.

"We have gotten beyond the time when banking was a high-grade hockshop business and when loans were made only on the yardstick of credit judgment. Banking now is part and parcel of the entire commercial and industrial fabric of the nation.

Department Store of Finance.

"Today we have developed from a cold, hard, credit-measuring loan institution to a department store of finance. We must carry the customer through from the cradle to the grave. We must extend to the citizens of our cities the conveniences of banking."

Mitchell said there had been danger, after the prosperity of 1925, of inflation and possible hard times starting this year, but declared, "Since the first of the year it looks as though we were saved from that." He saw no reason for pessimism and described as "fluffy clouds" these disturbing factors: Overspeculation in securities, speculation in land and excessive installment buying.

"We, as Americans," he said in closing, "are dependent for true prosperity on the prosperity of foreign countries and the world. I am satisfied the foreign situation is moving in the right direction toward rehabilitation and construction."

Mitchell is a Republican and a protectionist.

W. H. FINLEY, FORMER HEAD OF C. & N. W., DIES AT HOME

Entered Service of Road as Civil Engineer in 1892; Influenza Cause of Death.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 18.—W. H. Finley, former president of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad, is dead at his home in Wheaton, Ill.

Death was due to influenza complicated by pneumonia.

Mr. Finley had been president of the Chicago & Northwestern from 1918 until 1925, when he was succeeded by Fred W. Sargent.

He entered the service of the Chicago & Northwestern in 1892. He was a civil engineer and rose to his last position through the engineering service. How to Have Soft, Pretty White Hands

Many women will undoubtedly be glad to know how they may have beautiful, white, soft, pretty hands regardless of the work they have to do. The secret lies in rubbing a little Ice-Mint into the hands occasionally, preferably just before retiring at night. In the morning you will be agreeably surprised at the pleasant transformation that has been wrought by even a single application. Ice-Mint is made from a Japanese product that is simply marvelous for its beautifying properties whether used on the hands or face. Regardless of what kind of work a woman does she should have pretty hands as they are really the true marks of refinement. A few applications of Ice-Mint will actually make any woman proud of her hands and skin. It costs little and is sold and recommended by good druggists everywhere.

MEETINGS AND PUBLIC ADDRESSES

The adequacy of the State workman's compensation law which is to come up for referendum vote next fall will be discussed at a meeting of the Missouri Women's Legislative Committee at the College Club at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. Mrs. R. Walston Chubb, Mrs. Olive C. Cadbury, Miss May Shannon and Mrs. Walter Harrel will be the speakers.

Clarence Darrow, criminal lawyer and one of defending counsel in the Scopes evolution trial at Dayton, Tenn., will speak next Thursday night at a joint meeting of the Brotherhoods of Temple Israel, United Hebrew congregation, Shaare Emeth and B'Nai El, at the City Club. His topic will be "Crime—Its Cause and Cure."

James Rowland Angell, president of Yale University, and Dr. Clare Mendell, dean of Yale College, will be guests of honor at the annual dinner of the Yale Alumni Association at the University Club, Saturday evening.

A prediction of the ultimate electrification of railroad terminals in St. Louis was made last night by Peter Junkersfeld, New York engineer, who designed Cahokia, the new power station of Union Electric Light and Power Co., in an address before the St. Louis section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. He made no forecast as to probable date for the electrification. Junkersfeld also thought that some way soon would be found to economically carry electric power to farms.

Donald B. MacMillan, Arctic explorer, will lecture on his experiences as an explorer at Howard Hall, The Principia, Saturday evening, March 27.

John Langdon-Davies, British Laborite, journalist and Oxford scholar, will speak before the Contemporary Club Friday, March 26, at the Coronado Hotel on "Is Europe Walking the Plank?" in which he will recount personalities of some of the present-day figures of European politics.

26th Ward G. O. P. Meeting.

The Regular Republican Club of the Twenty-sixth Ward will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in Cabanne Branch Library, Union boulevard and Cabanne avenue. quences of such action would be a marked increase of anti-foreign feeling among the Chinese and injury to American interests.

Both Sides Agree to Cease Hostilities in River.

By the Associated Press.

TIENTSIN, March 18.—It is semiofficially announced that the Kuominchun (National People's Army) and the Fengtien troops of Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, Manchurian dictator, have accepted the demands of the great Powers that they cease their warlike operations around Taku bar in the Pei River.

Apparently river traffic between Taku and Tientsin has been reopened in part, at least, as French and Italian gunboats went out over the Taku bar this morning from Tangku and the American gunboat Asheville went to Taku from Tientsin, which is 37 miles up the Pei River.

The customs boats are standing by at Taku in readiness to restore the leading lights in the channel.

Japan to Demand Formal Apology From China.

By the Associated Press.

TOKIO, March 18.—The Cabinet today decided to instruct Kenkichi Yoshizawa, Japanese Minister at Pekin, to demand from China a formal apology, the punishment of guilty Chinese and the indemnification of the wounded for the action of the national army troops in firing upon two Japanese destroyers in the Pei River last week when one Japanese officer was killed and several wounded.

Minister Yoshizawa was instructed to negotiate the details for the carrying out of the demands and to make them as lenient as possible.

It is said that no matter whether China accepts the responsibility Japan does not intend to resort to force, but if no agreement is reached might take the matter to the World Court. It is pointed out that a friendly and peaceful adjustment is Japan's main idea.

MUSSOLINI'S DUPES DON'T READ AND WILL NOT ARGUE

against Bolshevism, this is an utter absurdity. One must smile when one reads in foreign newspapers that Mussolini destroyed Bolshevism. All Fascism did was to scatter accomplices—democrats, right wing, Socialists, popolari—who, in August, 1922, wanted to unite and form a Left cabinet. These were accomplices of a certain brand of Bolshevism existing in Italy in 1919 and 1920.

It is true Bolshevism was buried in 1920 by the conversatism of the leaders of the Federation of Labor when they ordered the factories evacuated after two weeks' occupation by the workers.

The only Bolshevism in Italy today, if the word means anything, is represented by the Fascist regime which is leading the country toward chaos.

Against these plain facts pro-Fascisti abroad can only give such arguments as "Italian trains now run on schedule time." But should not the Government, which has literally everything at its disposal, be able to give the people some small thing in return.

The Price of It All.

Many democratic countries have equally good transportation. But what is the value of this kind of order if the country is suffering from a horrible moral disorder?

Harmony between the Government and the governed is necessary to the life of a nation. This harmony is shattered in Italy and it is the duty of Italians who love their country to protest and come to the rescue.

SHORT-HAUL BILL NOT LIKELY TO BE VOTED BY SENATE

voiced by many chambers of commerce throughout the United States. So insistent has been this opposition that Senator Wheeler (Dem.) of Montana, speaking for the bill yesterday, charged that a chamber of commerce lobby, as well as a railroad lobby, was at work to defeat the bill.

The argument most stressed against the bill in the Senate debate is that the intricate business of rate-making ought to be left in the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission and not transferred to the floor of Congress. Rates should be fixed, it is contended, by experts, and they should not be bound by the rigid rule proposed by the Gooding bill.

Alleged Safeguards.

The commission itself, runs the argument, has surrounded the granting of "fourth section relief" with ample safeguards, its policy being not to give relief unless the long-haul rate is "reasonably compensatory," unless it offers no threat to water competition and unless it is such as not to place a burden on other traffic.

Numerous instances have been cited in the Senate to support the apparently paradoxical proposition that a carrier may be justified in receiving more for a short than a long haul. Cities A and B, for illustration, are connected by two railroads, one of them on a straight line between the two and the other following a circuitous route. To permit competition between the two lines, the Interstate Commerce Commission lets the longer road charge the same rate for the full distance as the shorter road. But, it is pointed out, if the longer road were required also to lower its rates to the intermediate points on its tracks, it might have to go out of business.

The validity of the argument that "fourth section relief" is appropriate in such a case has apparently been recognized by the friends of the Gooding bill. In an earlier form it would have forbidden relief to the circuitous road, but as it now stands before the Senate it would ban only such relief as might be predicated on water competition.

Contention of Fess.

Fess contends that the intermountain states are benefitted rather than hurt by the working of the relief clause. What this part of the country needs more than anything else, he says, is a supply of cars for out-bound produce; it is more likely to get these cars when the rate to the Pacific Coast is such as to encourage shipments by rail.

The argument of those opposed to the bill comes down to this: That the Interstate Commerce Commission should not be tied down by a rigid inhibition, but should be left free to meet rate-making problems as they arise, and meet them in such a way that both rail and water transportation will be fostered.

CAMILLE MEETS HER FRIENDS

I saw a lot of new faces and a lot of my friends among them at the Buckingham Hotel Coffee Shop the other day. Evidently my readers are taking my tip about the 65c luncheon served there, which is undoubtedly the greatest luncheon value you can find anywhere.

And, who do you think is stopping at the Buckingham this week? The cast of the George Arliss Show, "Old English!" I got a glimpse of some of the actors in the Coffee Shop—it was so exciting to see them off stage.

By the way, the crowds at the Egyptian Room last week were so tremendous that the management has decided to hold the Saturday night dance in the spacious, beautiful Rose Room and use the Egyptian Room for Friday nights.

Last Friday night, Mr. Charles H. Harris, the world's greatest whistler, and a member of the Kosher Kitty Kelly Co., gave us some impromptu entertainment. It's this kind of surprises that helps make the Egyptian Room a wonderful place in which to have fun.

I had a million dollars worth of fun, real dance music and the finest food in the world there. I'm going again, and often!

R-----'S TROUSSEAU

LINGERIE, decidedly new, from BARRY'S peeked from out the folds and folds of crisp tissue, as one of my friends displayed her trousseau.

"I bought most everything there, girls," she explained, "because ever since I was a little girl, Mother has always bought at Barry's."

We have all heard that story before—and knew just what to expect, when R—— unfolded irresistible bits of lacy, georgette pieces, others with cobwebby laces from across the seas, fine hand drawnwork—just everything — typically French!

Judge Thomas M. Reed and District Attorney Albert C. Shoup Under Investigation.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Charges of wide-open lawlessness in Alaska were put under scrutiny yesterday by a Senate Judiciary Subcommittee. Throughout hearings granted Federal Judge Thomas M. Reed and United States District Attorney Albert G. Shoup, whose renominations in the First Alaskan Judicial District are under fire, there was spread on the record frequent references to bootlegging, narcotic traffic and other forms of vice and purported miscarriages of justice. The accused officials, however, contended that conditions in Alaska were no worse than in other places similarly situated.

Delegate Sutherland of Alaska is leading the fight against the two men. One of the charges against Judge Reed is that he imposed jail sentences upon three men whom he had found guilty of contempt because of their manner in testifying. He said yesterday the act was "something I am highly ashamed of." He declared he now believed he was not justified in sending the men to jail.

Much of the testimony concerned conditions at Ketchikan, where Judge Reed said the municipal authorities seemed to be opposed to the strict enforcement of prohibition. Sutherland charged Shoup had failed diligently to prosecute several liquor cases which had resulted in the failure to convict "Frozen Foot" Johnson, whom he described as "the biggest bootlegger in Alaska." Shoup denied the charges.

U. S. Closes Song Shark Concern.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 18.—The Equitable Music Corporation, declared by Postoffice inspectors to be the last of the "song shark" concerns they have been prosecuting, has been closed under a fraud order from Postmaster-General New. Inspector Allen said the Equitable concern and allied companies had mulcted would-be song writers out of about $700,000 by offering to publish songs sent to it with a small advance fee.

SPECIFICATIONS FOR ROAD MATERIALS UNDER FIRE

County Judge Smiley Intimates He May Stop Advertising for Bids.

Charges that specifications for road materials drafted by County Highway Engineer Jablonsky are "closed" and prevent competitive bids was made yesterday by Presiding Judge Smiley of the St. Louis County Court, and H. C. Smith, representative of asphalt companies.

The County Court has been advertising for bids on 300,000 gallons of either asphalt or tar and on 50,000 gallons of tar, to be used for repairing county roads. Smith said the specifications on the 300,000-gallon item were so worded as to favor tar over asphalt and would tend to discredit asphalt if used. He said the specifications restricted the bidding to one large tar company.

County Judge Smiley agreed with Smith and declared "I'm going to eliminate any apparent graft and closed specifications." Later he told reporters he might stop the advertising and have the specifications changed.

DRASTIC CHANGES IN POLICE WORK IN NEW YORK SOUGHT

Committee on Co-Ordination of Civil and Criminal Practices Reports to Legislature.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 18.—Sweeping changes in the criminal law and practices of criminal courts, with large increases in police forces throughout the State, are recommended in a report by the Joint Legislative Committee on Co-Ordination of the Civil and Criminal Practices Acts. The committee is headed by State Senator Baumes, Republican, of Newburgh.

Bills carrying out the main suggestions made by the committee have been introduced.

The most important recommendations include establishment of a central criminal identification bureau in the office of the Superintendent of Prisons, prompt collection of forfeited bail bonds, a removal of the privilege which the defendant now has of keeping off the witness stand without the fact being referred to by the prosecuting attorney, additional punishment for prisoners caught with firearms in their possession, and organization of a detective squad by the State police available to District Attorneys throughout the State.

Answering the question, "Is there a crime wave?" the committee found that crimes of violence, "particularly robbery, have more than doubled in the last five years in this State. On that account the committee recommends the repeal of the 20-year limit on sentence for robbery in the first degree, and the making of it to correspond with the punishment for burglary, so that the offense will be punishable with not less than 15 years and as much more as the Judge believes fits the crime."

Gov. Smith is criticised for granting during the last year 92 pardons, 79 commutations, 202 restorations to citizenship and 13 respites in capital cases. The report declares this to be the largest number of executive acts of this character for many years.

One of the bills introduced would require that full term of imprisonment be served without opportunity of commutation.

Premier Informs Chamber He Is Prepared to Consolidate Debt and Industrialize Railroads.

By the Associated Press.

BRUSSELS, March 18.—Belgium once more must work out her own salvation, Premier Poullet announced in the Chamber of Deputies in discussing the financial situation and the depreciation of the Belgian franc.

He admitted the failure of the negotiations to obtain a loan in the United States and Great Britain to stabilize the franc. The Belgian Government, he added, had fulfilled all the conditions laid down by leaders, but it now was confronted with sterner conditions which Belgium was unable to accept, such as making the loan for a period of three years, instead of for a long term.

M. Poullet said Belgium was prepared to consolidate her debt and industrialize the railroads under a system similar to that in effect in Switzerland where the Government had direct supervision. He added that the floating debt had not increased and Belgium financially was sound, but she could not withstand attacks from within. The Premier referred to internal speculation in the franc and declared that those found guilty of the practice would be sternly punished.

Finance Minister Janssen Told the chamber that all hopes of a foreign loan to stabilize the franc and the funding of a floating loan had not disappeared. He said an accord had been reached in principle and he hoped to be able to convince the American and British bankers that they should recede from their stand that the loan should be for only three years duration.

WILDCAT BREWERY SEIZED

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., March 18.—A new wildcat brewery, valued at from $30,000 to $40,000, was seized 15 miles north of Peoria today by Prohibition Agents working under the direction of John B. Madden, Deputy Prohibition Administrator of the Springfield district.

The brewery had been recently built, Madden said, and had a capacity of from 30 to 40 barrels every 12 hours. The building, on a farm, contained new brewing machinery of the latest type. No one has been arrested.

Argentina Records Earth Shocks.

By the Associated Press.

LA PLATA, Argentina, March 18.—The seismographs of the National observatory here yesterday registered a series of strong earth shocks. The disturbance was recorded beginning at 8:03 o'clock in the morning. The indications were that the center of the shocks was somewhere in the Caribbean Sea.

Alien Separation Act in Senate.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—A draft of a resolution designed to grant relief to citizens and aliens in the United States who are separated from their families because of immigration quota restrictions has been sent to the Senate by Secretary of Labor Davis. It would be operative for one year beginning June 30, 1927, and under it any alien over 21 who has been lawfully admitted could petition the Secretary of Labor for priority in the issuance of a quota immigration visa for a wife, husband, minor children, step-children, father or mother.

What good is a screen that rusts?

A single rust hole robs an entire screen of its protective value because insect pests will find the hole.

The way to keep pests out is by installing BRONZE or COPPER insect screens. They do not rust.

Goodbye "Blue Monday"!

New kind of soap soaks week's wash whiter than washboard rubbing

HERE'S a new kind of soap that ends washboard scrubbing forever.

It's all you need no matter how hard the water—no bar soaps, chips or softeners—just this amazing granulated soap that soaks clothes whiter than you could rub them!

Even in hardest water

Gone are the weary hours over washtubs. Gone are the reddened hands of washday.

Now you just soak the clothes in Rinso suds an hour or two, or overnight if you like, and the dirt and stains float right off without scrubbing.

The most soiled parts need only a gentle rub between the fingers to make them snowy. Even in the hardest water, clothes rinse spotless!

Saves hands—saves clothes

No other laundry soap is easier on hands or clothes than Rinso; it contains no acids, or bleaches to injure white clothes or fast colors.

Clothes really last longer this new way, because there's no hard friction against a board. Even boiling isn't needed, for soaking in Rinso whitens better than boiling—and sterilizes, too.

Fine in washing machines

Rinso is recommended for safety, and for a whiter wash, by 23 washing machine makers.

"You can't imagine how much easier washday is since I gave up my old soap and began using Rinso. Why, I get the whole wash done in half the time—and so much whiter and brighter, too. All I have to do is to soak everything in Rinso suds. That loosens the dirt and stains. Then I put the clothes into my washing machine with more Rinso and they come out of the machine—whiter than ever! Hardly a spot needs rubbing. I use just Rinso—no other soap, no water softener, so I save money, too."

OFFICE BOY STEALS $337 AND DRESSES UP

He Disposes of All but $85 Getting Complete New Outfit of Clothes.

Albert Murray, 16-year-old office boy, decked in a resplendent outfit that was brand-new, even to his garters, was arrested at 6 p. m. yesterday by two detectives as he was about to board a train for his home in Boyce, La., and admitted a short time later that he had stolen $337 entrusted to him by his employer.

Shorn now of his finery, Albert is waiting in a cell at police headquarters while his boss, Henry L. Korn, French Steamship Line agent, with offices at 313 North Eleventh street, decides whether he will prosecute the youth or give him a chance to make restitution.

Korn sent Albert to the bank yesterday with $337 in cash and $807 in checks. When the youth returned the employer failed to notice that the $337 had not been deposited. Later, however, he got an anonymous telephone call that Albert was going back home and he called the police.

Albert had only $85 left when he was arrested, but he managed to account for his expenditures. He had sent $50 to his mother, he said, and had spent $25 for a handbag, $22.92 for tickets, $2 for supper and the rest for clothes, including a $10 hat, a $9 shirt, a half dozen pairs of socks at $1.50 and $2 each, and other expensive items, most of which he was wearing.

After he had made his confession, his clothes were taken from him. He is outfitted now in a collection of castoffs gathered by policemen of Central District. He had been living here at 7558 North Broadway.

TWO STOLEN LICENSE PLATES ON AUTO, DRIVER ARRESTED

Tires and Generator Also Found in Machine Driven by George Biederman, 19.

Suspicious because the front license of an automobile at Gravois avenue and Devolsey street bore a different number from the rear tag, Patrolman Stickney yesterday arrested the driver, who said he was George Biederman, 19 years old, of 3309 South Eighteenth street.

The car proved to be the property of Biederman's employer, Bango Genovese, of 4162 Maryland avenue, and had been reported missing Monday by Biederman, who was driving it at the time with his employer's consent. In the rear of the machine Stickney found four tires and a generator which was identified later as having been stolen from a Ford automobile in front of 2300 Sidney street three days ago.

The front license plate on the car was reported stolen from a car in front of 3246 Michigan avenue and the rear plate from in front of 4529 Arco avenue on Monday afternoon. Police will apply today for a warrant for Biederman.

TABLET TO MOVIE PIONEERS

French Say Lumiere Brothers Were First in the Field.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, March 18.—Frenchmen commemorated what they claim was the first public presentation of motion pictures by placing a tablet on the wall of a building in the cellar of which the Lumiere brothers exhibited their apparatus 30 years ago. This building stands on the Grand boulevard and formerly housed the Grand Cafe where the Lumiere brothers worked.

The tablet reads: "Here on Dec. 28, 1895, took place the first public projections of animated photography by the use of a projection machine invented by the Lumiere brothers."

He was one of six Passionists to establish the order in St. Louis in 1885. A sister, Mrs. Anna Lyons of New York, survives him.

INCREASE LAST YEAR IN CORPORATE EARNINGS

Federal Reserve Board Also Reports Steady Incomes for Individual Workers.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Corporate earnings during the last year exceeded those of any other recent year, the Federal Reserve Board says, in calling attention to the almost record volume of security issues in the United States.

Relatively large and steady incomes also were received by individuals and factory workers, the board said, and while the individual income of farmers was reported as somewhat smaller than in 1924, it was in larger volume. As a result, there was a large growth in the volume of funds available for investment.

"With funds flowing into investment channels," the board found the year had been one during which a large amount of the national income had been used for permanent improvements, and the volume of the nation's savings had been exceptionally large.

New security issues in recent months were described as in a larger amount than in any other period since the war. The total of issues in 1925 aggregated more than $6,200,000,000 and were $600,000,000 larger than in 1924, which held the peace-time record heretofore.

Last month bond prices were at the highest level since 1917, the board said, but with funds available for investment, interest rates on long-term securities were at the lowest level in February in nearly a decade.

Reports from 485 corporations in New York City showed net profits last year of $2,312,000,000, as compared with $1,880,000,000 in 1924.

"With incomes of consumers at a generally high level," the board concluded, "there has been a sustained demand for commodities, which has been an important factor in the activity of trade and industry, and at the same time there has been a continued growth of savings deposits held by the banks of the country and in the assets of life insurance companies."

EXPEDITION TO NEW GUINEA

Americans and Dutch Collaborators to Sail in April.

By the Associated Press.

WELTEVREDEN, Java, March 18.—The American scientific expedition under Prof. Matthew W. Stirling of Berkeley, Cal., which intends to penetrate the unknown interior of Dutch New Guinea to study pygmy and other primitive tribes, has fixed its departure from Java for April 4. On that date the first party, consisting of the American members and a detachment of Dutch infantry, will take a steamer at Batavia for New Guinea.

The second party, consisting of 130 natives and two detachments of infantry under a Dutch Captain, will leave Java April 20. The scientists will be accompanied by Dr. Hoffman, a Dutch army surgeon, and three helpers. Measures have been taken to enable the expedition to proceed, even if an accident happens to its airplane, on which much dependence is placed for exploration work. The Americans and their Dutch collaborators are expected to be away from Java about eight months.

Child Identifies Her Abductor.

By the Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, March 18.—Frank Krohn, 55 years old, a carpenter, was identified last night as the abductor of Lucille Babin, an 8-year-old girl, who was found bound and unclad in a park here. The girl pointed a finger at Krohn and declared. "That's the man, Daddy; that's the man who ran away with me." Krohn, who was recently released from a hospital for mental diseases, denied having any connection with the case. The Babin child disappeared Tuesday. When found she told of being choked and otherwise mistreated.

Got a Cold coming on?

There is no finer way to nip it in the bud than by taking an Internal Bath with the J. B. L. Cascade. The Cascade cleanses the entire intestinal tract of its impurities and poisons in fifteen minutes. And cleanliness here means health and vigor throughout the system.

Among those who have found Internal Bathing with the J. B. L. Cascade extremely effective in the checking of colds is Mrs. A. L. Bacher of Applegate, Cal. She adds, in a letter:

"I am sure I prevented an attack of pneumonia by its use."

Relieving colds is only one of the numerous uses for the J. B. L. Cascade. How it has renewed health for thousands of men and women variously afflicted—opened the flood gates of health after innumerable remedies had failed—is told graphically in a booklet which you should get today at the drug store below. It is named "Why We Should Bathe Internally" and is FREE. Read it and be convinced that it is the first and foremost health aid you should have in your home.

PREDICTS GOOD FROM LEITER ROW

Attorney Says Suit Will Establish Rights of Grandchildren, the Ultimate Heirs.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 18.—Something good in the family bickering and bitterness over the huge estate of the late Levi Z. Leiter was remarked upon today in the opening statement of Attorney Horace K. Tenney in the suit brought by the Countess of Suffolk and Berks to oust her brother, Joseph Leiter, as a co-trustee.

Five attorneys who had preceded him in addressing Judge D. E. Sullivan in the three days since the contest was begun concentrated upon the factional angles. Tenney virtually disregarded the Countess' claims that her brother had been high-handed and negligent in his handling of the estate, had placed a cat's paw as a trustee in the person of William Warr, and the counter claims of efficiency and devotion to the trust made in behalf of Leiter and Warr.

As guardian ad litem for Lady Suffolks' three children, he voiced the interest of the next generation. It is good that the family strife has been brought into court, he said, because it will lead to establishing Levi Z. Leiter's grandchildren's property rights in the vast estate as differentiated from the interests of the pioneer Chicago merchant prince's children.

Hope Will Will Be Construed.

Whatever the truth of the charges, he said, the trustees were at war among themselves, which threatened the good of the ultimate beneficiaries. Without a court decision as to whether the precise terms of the will should apply, or whether the interests of the trustees should rule, the course which has been pursued would be most inimical in its ultimate results.

A Court's construction of the will, which disposed of an estate variously estimated at from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000, would be for the good of all concerned, he sadi.

The opening statement in behalf of Warr by Colin C. H. Fyffe pictured that former Leiter employe as trained by the elder Leiter for big business.

Fyffe read from the will, which was executed in 1904, to support his contention that Levi Leiter's plainly expressed idea was that a majority of the trustees should rule, and that Warr, after many years of training, had been so chosen upon the death of an original trustee, Seymour Morris.

Warr grew from a highly-trusted secretary to the elder Leiter, Fyffe said, additional duties gradually being heaped upon his shoulders until, in 1913 and 1914, when Joseph Leiter was on a tour, Warr actually was in control of the estate.

PRIVATE DETECTIVES TRAIL WRONG MAN AND ARE HELD

Insurance Agency Head, in Another Machine, Is Charged With Carrying Concealed Weapons.

Cabell Gray, head of an insurance agency in the Pierce Building, drove to the Newstead Avenue Police Station at 8:30 o'clock last night and complained to the desk sergeant that he was being followed by two men in another car and might be compelled to shoot them eventually.

Police went outside and arrested two men in a car pointed out by Gray. They described themselves as Jay W. Palmer and Percy H. Weston, erstwhile chauffeur and salesman, respectively, but now private detectives. They were mysterious as to their mission. They admitted they had been arrested March 4 on complaint of residents in the 4700 block of Vernon avenue, who informed police the pair were lurking behind trees.

The two were charged with disturbing Gray's peace, and Gray was charged with possession of a concealed weapon, as a revolver was found in his car. The head of the detective agency for which Palmer and Weston were working said it was all a mistake—they should have been trailing another man, not Gray.

LAMBERT CO. STOCK SOLD IN 15 MINUTES

190,624 Shares Offered by Newly Formed Syndicate Find Ready Buyers.

The Lamber Co., a new organization composed of a syndicate which recently purchased 56 per cent of the stock of the Lambert Pharmacal Co., today announced that the 190,624 shares of the common stock offered today to the public had been oversubscribed within 15 minutes after the books were opened.

The company was authorized to issue 1,000,000 shares of common stock without par value, of which 281,250 shares are to be issued at $41.75 a share, or a total of $11,742,187.50 for a 56 per cent interest in the stock of the Lambert Pharmacal Co.

The Lambert family, which had owned the stock of the Lambert Pharmacal Co. in its entirety before the deal with the syndicate, retains 44 per cent of the stock of the Lambert Pharmacal Co., and also has large holdings in the syndicate, which retains 90,628 shares of the new stock. The Lambert family's interest in these shares, together with their 44 per cent of the Lambert Pharmacal Co. stock, keeps them in control of the company.

The Lambert holdings of 44 per cent, based on the price of the stock marketed today, amount to $9,132,811. This together with the $11,742,187.50 value placed on the syndicate's holdings, gives the issue of securities in the new company a market value of approximately $20,874,000.

Gerard Lambert, who resides in New York, will be president of the new Lambert Co., and representatives Goldman, Sachs & Co. and Bond & Goodwin, New York and Boston brokers who formed the syndicate, will have places on the board of directors.

How systematic advertising of Listerine on a big scale enormously increased the profits of the Lamber Pharmacal Co., within the last five years is told in an advertisement by the syndicate, offering the stock for sale.

"The company's advertising of Listerine has had an unusual record," says the statement. "Starting with practically no expenditure in 1921, each monthly increase in advertising has been met during that month by an increase in profit as great as the advertising increase and a substantial additional profit.

"The growth of our advertising expenditures is indicated by the fact that in 1925 our advertising expenses were about $2,100,000, and in 1926 they will exceed $3,000,000. During the last four years we have spent $4,400,000 in advertising."

The sales in January and February of this year showed an increase of $470,000 over the same two months last year, when an increase of $365,000 over January and February, 1924, was shown.

Net profits, after Federal income taxes were deducted, in the last four years were as follows: 1922, $724,542.53; 1923, $1,078,437.31; 1924, $1,499,210.77; 1925, $2,011,940.89.

Johnson admitted that he had robbed Murray of $11 and had taken money and jewelry valued at $14 from Robert G. McFarland, 5981 Garfield avenue, who was a customer.

That's How We Found Our Home!

There we sat, looking through that wonderful catalogue of dwellings—the Post-Dispatch Real Estate Directory.

We were not sure just what would suit us, until we happened upon this beautiful place. We both agreed, from the description and location given, that this home was one we could be proud of—and was exactly suited to our needs.

This couple learned what many others learn—the ease with which Homes of every description are found through the carefully grouped, attractively priced offers in the Real Estate Columns of the Post-Dispatch

The Overwhelming Supremacy of the Post-Dispatch in Home-Finding and Selling Service

The strongest evidence of the people's choice of newspapers is shown in the comparison of separate advertisements printed.

During 1925 the Post-Dispatch carried 179,733 Real Estate and Farm Ads—40,221 more than the THREE other St. Louis newspapers COMBINED.

This far greater number of Home offers for readers, with the far greater number of St. Louis readers reached through the Post-Dispatch, is positive proof that the Post-Dispatch is the ONE BIG, universally recognized Real Estate medium of St. Louis.

BROWNS' BATTING AND PITCHING WEAK IN GAMES WITH DODGERS

Grimes, Vance and McGraw Hold Sislermen to 4 Hits; St. Louis Hurlers Pounded

By John E. Wray.
Sports Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

TARPON SPRINGS, Fla., March 18.—"Our hitters aren't hitting and some of our pitchers are not pitching," replied Manager Sisler today in answer to that query, so noxious when asked in midseason, "What's the matter with the Browns?"

"We really haven't a complaint to make, for outside of windy and rather chill weather we have no grounds. The men are in splendid shape for the most part, although a few of our pitchers have sore arms. The team will come along soon," the Browns' leader added. "We still have three weeks before we face the Cardinals and almost a month before we begin our opening championship series. By that time we ought to see everyone going at his best."

To supporters of the team, eager to see the club get away to an early start, the series with Brooklyn has not been satisfactory. In both hitting and pitching the Dodgers have appeared to be much further advanced than the Browns.

Brownies Handcuffed.

Yesterday Grimes and Vance had the Browns' backs creaking with vain swinging at pitches they could not locate. George Sisler did manage to pitch one over the short right field fence for a home run with a man in front of him, but even against the sore-armed McGraw who walked eight Brownies in three innings, four of them in succession to start the eighth, the Browns could roll up but one meager little single when they should have wrecked the game. Of course, it was not reasonable to expect the Browns to do much against a pitcher called Robert Emmet McGraw on St. Patrick's day.

Four hits were all the Browns made during nine innings and if it had not been for 11 walks they would not have had more than two of their total of five runs. The final score for Brooklyn was 10 and they loafed for the last half of the game.

Sore Arms and Base Hits.

The Dodgers didn't have to hurry. Gaston was fairly good, holding the Dodgers to two runs and three hits, one of them Standaert's homer over that joke right field fence with one on. But Vangilder, whose arm is not yet free from kinks, was not there, while Wingard, another member of the sore-arm brigade, was better but very unsteady. The records of the pitchers for the game show how they performed better than words:

PITCHER.	In.	R.	H.	Bb.	So.
Vance	3	0	1	1	2
Grimes	3	2	2	2	1
McGraw	3	3	1	8	2
Gaston	3	2	3	1	1
Vangilder	3	6	7	2	0
Wingard	2	2	3	3	1

The Brooklyn club started training at the same time as the Browns and has experienced the same climate conditions, mostly frigid. By one of those queer freaks that happen every training season, the Browns, with every reason to be advanced, are backward in finding their pitching and hitting form, while the Dodgers with many, many old men to nurse, are right "in the pink." Today the Brooklyn pitchers have five regulars able to bear down and the Browns perhaps two.

There is no answer to the natural "Why?" It just happened so, the men believe.

Bob Lamotte Injured.

Another discouraging happening of yesterday was the injury to Bob Lamotte. Today Lamotte's left eye is closed and a bruise as large as a small orange decorates his cheek bone, the result of a bad hop taken by a ground ball in the fourth inning. Lamotte was all set for an easy chance when the ball, on its last bounce, caromed off a clod and struck him full force in the face, felling him. The physician attending him said no bones appeared to be broken but that his eye would be of little use for several days.

The failure of the team to hit in several real "pinches" caused Sisler most worry. In the eighth and ninth innings the Browns had the bases filled, but little came of it. In the eighth McGraw passed the first four men up, but the Browns, despite that terrible strain on McGraw's morale, could not get one safe hit. Bennett, Hargrave and Robertson all failed. A sacrifice fly drove in the second run of the round. But confronted with full bases in the ninth due to more walks, couldn't connect.

As a result the club is crabbing and this morning's workout sounded like a congress of dyspeptics.

Brooklyn still has two games with the Browns, one tomorrow, and the final affair next Monday. The best the Browns can do is to tie them on the series.

The defensive play of the Browns' infield and outfield in a measure is consoling. In five exhibition games, four against Brooklyn and one against Buffalo, the Browns have made one error. Their opponents made 14, Brooklyn booting 11 times in four games. Yesterday the Browns turned three double plays in three innings and had a fourth in sight when Lamotte was hurt.

"I wish we had that infield," a Brooklyn player was heard to say. "We would win the pennant."

Right back at him came this: "We wish we had Vance and Grimes; the Browns wouldn't have to worry."

Butler, Dodgers' High-Priced Rookie, Goes to Hospital

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 18.

JOHNNY BUTLER, high-priced infielder purchased from the American Association by the Brooklyn Dodgers, has been ordered to the Johns Hopkins Hospital at Baltimore from the camp at Clearwater, Fla.

He has been ill ever since his arrival at the training site, although he struggled through nine innings Tuesday.

Butler, Brooklyn's $100,000 infielder, was shipped to Johns Hopkins Hospital at Baltimore today to find just what is wrong with him.

Cards to Play Houston Today And Tomorrow

Hornsby's Squad Showing Effects of Bad Weather—Two Pitchers Ill.

By William J. McGoogan.
Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.

HOUSTON, Tex., March 18.—Manager Rogers Hornsby led 21 Cardinals into town this morning for games against the Houston Buffaloes today and tomorrow. Included in the squad are Pitchers Haines, Rhem, Sothoron, Mails, Reinhart, Keen, Huntzinger and Miller; Catchers O'Farrell, Vick and Warwick; Outfielders Blades, Mueller, Hafey, Douthit and Roettger; Infielders Bottomley, Hornsby, Thevenow, Bell and Flowers, and Coaches Killefer and Williams.

It is hoped that the rain which has played such havoc with Hornsby's training plans so far this week will not interfere with the contests here.

Two Pitchers Ailing.

The players are beginning to show the effects of the inclement weather and resultant idleness. Bill Hallahan, southpaw pitcher, reported ill yesterday morning and it was necessary to call in a physician who said Bill was suffering from a bad cold. Sherdel also has a cold. Several others are complaining of sore arms and muscles.

Jack Smith is still rubbing the leg he strained nearly two weeks ago. Seeing the long faces on the men sitting around the hotel lobby yesterday, Hornsby cast about to find some sort of a place which would permit them to get a little exercise and work up an appetite. He was tipped off to a large building at Camp Normyle, about seven miles from San Antonio, which is used by the Motor Transport Corps of the United States Army for storing trucks. Rogers investigated and found that it was large enough to permit his men to do a little work. It has a high roof and dirt floor.

Batterymen Work.

Yesterday, however, there were some trucks there and only the pitchers and catchers could practice. They got in about an hour and a half and the business of the hotel dining room was increased somewhat. The army officers in charge at the camp told Hornsby he was welcome to use the building at any time and if given a little advance notice they would see to it that all the trucks were removed and electric lights installed. If the bad weather continues after the club returns to San Antonio, Rogers plans to take advantage of the offer.

President Sam Breadon accompanied the players to Houston to see his pennant hopes perform. He has been in camp for about two weeks but has not seen the regular team in a contest. Duster Mails is scheduled to start this afternoon's game on the mound.

ST. LOUIS U. PLANS TO PLAY FOOTBALL GAMES AT SPORTSMAN'S PARK

St. Louis University football games will be played at Sportsman's Park next fall, if negotiations now in progress go through. For the past two seasons the Billikens have used the old Handlan's Park at Grand and Laclede.

While their contract calls for another year of occupancy arrangements can probably be made with other interests to take over the field and prevent a financial deficit. The reason for the shift is believed to be the small capacity of the Laclede avenue stands. The crowds at several games last season severely taxed the capacity of the seats and difficulty was encountered in keeping the spectators off the field.

Three Basket Players Selected Unanimousl for All-Star Team

Central Places Two Men on Mythical Squad, With Soldan, Beaumont and Cleveland Gaining One Position Each — Spuering, Cameron and Christiansen Named by All Coaches

The championship Central five placed two players on the mythical all-star team of the City High School Basketball League, selected by the coaches. Soldan, Beaumont and Cleveland each placed one on the first team. Central and Roosevelt each was honored with two positions on the second five, while Beaumont gained the remaining place.

Nearly all the coaches were agreed upon the first quint. Spuering, Cameron and Christiansen were chosen unanimously for positions. Musgrove and Willits only lacked one vote. With the exception of Forrest Willits, all the members on the All-Star five have seen several years of service.

Among the first five, Homer Musgrove and George Cameron were picked as superlative players on last year's All-Star team.

Gardener Christiansen redeemed his rather poor start in the season's play by a scintillating finish, providing most of the offensive for the Soldan five. One of the coaches of the league stated that he did not think Christiansen was a team player, but that there was no denying his value as an asset to the Soldan squad.

This was Willits' first season as a basketeer and much credit should be given C. A. "Doc" Callan for developing the green lad into a player of such excellent caliber.

There was little doubt about picking Cameron, Musgrove and Richard Spuering. Central was not considered a threat for the championship by most of the other schools until Cameron reported for duty after the first few practice games.

Three hundred nights on Broadway, and the manager says the run has just started!

He used to smoke nothing but big, black Havana cigars. So they said I couldn't please him.

"He likes 'em rich and heavy," they told me. "He'll scoff the idea that a cigar can be mild yet fragrantly full-bodied."

But after my first try-out, I had him won completely.

BRADLEY DERBY CANDIDATES RUN ONE-TWO IN $10,000 STAKE

Bagenbaggage Sets Track Mark Gaining Victory

NURMI NEVER IN RACE

Winner of New Orleans Handicap Shows Effects of Long Ride From Miami.

By the Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 18.—Western colts dominated the running of the fifth Louisiana Derby at Jefferson Park here yesterday when E. R. Bradley's Bagenbaggage won from his Idle Hour Farm Stable mate Boot-to-Boot, in the record time of 1:51 1-5 for the mile and an eighth.

The time clipped three-fifths of a second off the track record of 1:51 4-5. Navigator, coupled with Lancaster and Nurmi, as the Green Tree Stable entry, was third.

The race with $10,000 added, was worth $9800 to the winner. The Idle Hour entry paid $3.40, $3.20 and $2.40. The Green Tree Stable entry paid $5 to show.

It was a race of favorites all of the way. Bagenbaggage, packing 116 pounds, off to a bad start, and forced to go wide around the first turn, picked up his trappings in the final quarter and won handily. Boot-to-Boot, with 112 pounds up, and Navigator, loaded with 122 pounds, got away in front. The Idle Hour colt chased the Eastern-owned Navigator for three-quarters of the route before overtaking him.

Nurmi Never a Contender.

As the three leaders swung into the stretch, Jockey E. Blind turned loose and the fast-coming Bagenbaggage flagged Boot-to-Boot and Navigator hung out the distress signals. The winner finished two lengths ahead of Boot-to-Boot and the same distance separated the latter from the show horse.

Nurmi, winner of the $30,000 New Orleans Handicap, showed the effects of his long ride from Miami which ended here Tuesday night, and was never a contender. He carried top weight of 126 pounds.

All of the entries except Searocket are eligible for the Kentucky Derby, to be run at Churchill Downs, Louisville, on May 15.

There was a larger crowd in attendance than at any previous runnings of the classic.

BAGGENBAGGAGE CUT TO 10 TO 1 AFTER VICTORY

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW ORLEANS, March 18.—Odds against Bagenbaggage in the future book on the Kentucky Derby were slashed after the Idle Hour Farm colt's sensational victory in the Louisiana Derby. Prior to the running of Wednesday's Derby odds of 25 to 1 could be obtained against the son of Under Fire on the play or pay basis, but the price was cut to 10 to 1 after his easy victory.

Mayor Dever of Chicago tossed up the ball which began the play for the National Catholic prep crown, for which 32 teams from 21 States are competing. The games will continue until Sunday night, when the two surviving quintets will play for the championship and the Cardinal Mundelein title trophy.

Hoff to Compete In Outdoor Title Games Next July

Norwegian Granted Permission to Remain in America for Longer Stay.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Charley Hoff of Norway hailed as a super-athlete as a result of his record shattering triumph in the world's indoor all-around championship, yesterday laid plans for a country-wide tour of athletic contests after receiving cabled permission from Norwegian authorities to extend his American invasion to the middle of July.

The 23-year-old viking's original permit covered only a three months' period of competition, ending May 4. The extension will enable him to take part in the National A. A. U. championships at Philadelphia, July 5 and 6.

The National decathlon title test at Philadelphia will give Hoff an opportunity to try conclusions for outdoor all-around honors with Emerson Norton, Georgetown giant, who finished second to the Norwegian in last night's indoor battle, as well as with Harold Osborn of the Illinois Athletic Club.

Osborn, who holds the world's record in the decathlon, as well as the American and Olympic championships, was forced to withdraw from the three-cornered struggle because of a sprained ankle.

Another Record Attempt.

Hoff is particularly eager to have a conclusive test with Osborn. He expressed keen regret over the mishap which put the Chicago star out of the running at Madison Square Garden.

Hoff will wind up his indoor campaign here next Saturday night at the Postoffice Clerks games with an attempt to eclipse the pole vault record for the tenth time. In nine tries he has raised the record from 13 feet to 13 feet 7 inches. Hoff also is slated to compete in the broad jump. His opponents will be Dehart Hubbard, negro athlete, who holds the world's outdoor record and William Dowding of Georgetown, whose indoor record was surpassed by Hoff. Norton will be the Norwegian's chief opponent in the pole vault.

Accompanied by his bride and brother-in-law, John G. Dean of New York, the Norwegian star expects to leave by automobile the latter part of the month for his cross-country trip, which will take him as far as Los Angeles. He will perform at several intermediate points, including the Drake relay carnival at Des Moines, Ia., April 23 and 24.

St. Louisans Play Title Holders in Handball Event

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 18.—Walter Kammann and George Sanford advanced to the third round of the doubles in the National handball championship tournament through the second default in as many days. The St. Louisans meet Kammann and Dworman of Detroit, who are defending the title won last year at Cleveland today. This will bring two brothers together.

Sanford yesterday was beaten by Al Shauffelberger of Detroit in the singles by scores of 21 to 8 and 21 to 10. Shauffelberger used a fist serve with a cut. Sanford could not return the serve effectively enough to keep his rival from "kills."

It is expected that if Laswell, who has won the title two consecutive years, is to be beaten, Shauffelberger will be the one to do it.

The finish of the third round singles found eight players still in the running. They are Nelson of Baltimore, who furnished the biggest upset of the tourney in beating "Murder Ball" Ranft; Friedenberg, of Frisco, who is highly touted among the coast players; Shauffelberger, of Detroit last year's runner up; Donavan and McMillan Olympic Club, San Francisco entries; Goodreau, Cleveland, Haedge, St. Paul and the defending champion Laswell, who is the favorite to repeat.

The teams of Walker and Berg, Toledo, O., and Kammann and Dworman are favorites in the doubles.

Twenty personal fouls were called in the progress of the game, setting a season record. St. Michaels defeated Rock Church High School, 12 to 9, in the other contest.

Emporia (Kan.) State Teachers' College vs. Pittsburg (Kan.) State Teachers' College.

The Werner-Werners are going strong, however, as was evidenced yesterday in their walkaway defeat of the Fort Pierce Indrios of Florida, 59 to 14, their third straight victory. The St. Louisans were leading at the half, 21 to 2, scoring 14 points before the Floridans counted on a free throw. The St. Louis defense prevented the Indrios from scoring a field basket in the first period.

Everybody Scores.

In the other games the national champions, Washburn College of Topeka, were eliminated by the Pittsburg (Kan.) State Teachers' College, 29 to 25, while last year's runners-up, the Hillyards of St. Joseph, beat the Monon A. C. of Lafayette (Ind.), 47 to 24.

Boston Red Sox.

MINOR LEAGUE recruits are expected to play an important part in the attempt of the Red Sox to get out of the cellar in the 1926 American League marathon. On records, Lee Fohl has some likely looking talent at the spring training camp. This list includes battery men, infielders and outfielders. Strength in all positions is needed.

Not a few of the athletes have a chance to gain regular berths. For instance, but one regular on the infield is certain. That player is Todt at first. Haney, from the Tigers, is favored for third base. Fowler, Geygan and Herrera are the leading candidates for short to fight it out with Dudley Lee. Fowler and Geygan have had previous major league experience. McCann, a one-time Athletic player, from Portland, is expected to win the second basing job.

Included in the list of new outfielders are Jenkins, who topped the Three Eye in batting; Langford and Shaner, two Western League clubbers and Rosenthal from San Antonio. Alex Gaston from Toledo, a brother to the Brownie pitcher, is expected to do a lot of backstopping for Lee Fohl now that Picinich and Heving have been passed along.

Five new men will try for berths on the pitching staff. Of the lot, Kiefer, last season with Jersey City in the International League, had the best record.

Title Basketball Tourney Opens At W. U. Today

The opening games of the Mississippi Valley Interscholastic Basketball Tournament at Washington University this afternoon resulted in the advance of two of the strongest of the 43 entries, Sparta and Mount Vernon high schools.

Mount Vernon literally swamped Effingham under a 48 to 7 score after leading at the close of the first half, 25 to 2.

Sparta, on the other hand, had a difficult time with Witt High. The final score was 21 to 17. The all-around excellence of Capt. Holcomb, a forward, had much to do with Sparta's victory. The teamplay on both sides was deliberate and effective.

Soldan High of St. Louis, which finished last in the local league race, defeated the Waverly, Mo., team, 25 to 20. Soldan's early rush brought 11 points while Waverly was collecting 2. Christiansen, at a forward berth, scored 5 field goals and 3 free throws for Soldan.

Centralia, Ill., last year's champions, played their characteristical watchful waiting game and handed Elvins, Mo., a trimming, 28 to 14. A short-passing system was employed by Centralia and the passes usually led to a short shot. Wham and Fox starred for the winners.

Seven local high schools were among the 43 entrants. They are Soldan, Cleveland, Roosevelt, University City, Central, Webster Groves and Kirkwood.

The tournament will not be concluded until Saturday evening.

No Cold Tomorrow

If Hot Lemonade Tonight!

WHEN you first suspect a cold—then is the time to stop it. Don't wait for chills and fever.

The simple, pleasant and effective way is to take a hot lemonade at night. Then a hot bath and bed, with plenty of warm covers. If the cold is just beginning, this will check it.

The effectiveness of hot lemonade in the prevention or treatment of a cold is due to more than its heat.

Be prepared for such an emergency. Keep lemons always in the house. Give to children after play or after school on disagreeable days. It is the best insurance against colds that anyone can use.

Thousands depended on it during the influenza epidemic. You, too, can depend on it today. Take old-fashioned hot lemonade tonight if you suspect a cold. Just squeeze the juice of a lemon in glass or cup of hot water. Add sugar if you wish.

DAY OF THANKSGIVING IN 1925 TORNADO AREA

Memorial Service in Murphysboro, Ill., at Hour Storm Struck City Year Ago.

By the Associated Press.

MURPHYSBORO, Ill., March 18.—Today is a day of thanksgiving in Murphysboro. The occasion is the first anniversary of the tornado of March 18, 1925, which swept through Southern Missouri, Illinois and Indiana. Murphysboro, a town of 12,000 inhabitants, suffered greatest from the storm, which killed some 800 and left approximately 30,000 homeless.

The arrangements included a memorial service for the city's 225 tornado dead, without making it a day of mourning, but rather a day of thanksgiving for the new city that has arisen from the ruin.

The American Red Cross will officially close its work of reconstruction and relief and ceremonies attendant to this will be held. The Red Cross has been in charge of rehabilitation throughout the storm area and it has announced that its work is virtually complete and ready to be turned over to local chapters.

The memorial and thanksgiving services were set for 2:35 in the Hippodrome Theater, at the hour the storm struck a year ago. At 1:30, the National Red Cross arranged to turn over its responsibility to the Jackson County Chapter at the Chamber of Commerce.

STOLEN AUTO LOADED WITH LIQUOR TAKEN IN BELLEVILLE

A stolen Hudson coach, loaded with liquor, sought in response to a message from Florida, was located in Belleville yesterday by two Department of Justice agents and two St. Louis police Sergeants. The load was a large quantity of champagne, cognac and whisky.

The driver said he was Monroe Armes, 20 years old, of Herrin, Ill., and his companion was identified by the agents as Jack Cooper of 1617 State street, East St. Louis. Armes, the officers reported, admitted having stolen the car at Herrin, Feb. 21, from a man who was intoxicated and who had told him he could use it.

He said he got an order for liquor at East St. Louis, borrowed $2000 from his brother and bought a cargo at Jacksonville, Fla. There he met Cooper, he went on, and brought him back for company. He declared the liquor was destined for a former resident of Herrin who was involved in charges growing out of Ku Klux Klan trouble there. This man furnished $4000 bonds for Armes and Cooper, after they had been charged in warrants with transporting a stolen automobile and transporting liquor.

POLICEMAN SHOOTS MAN FLEEING AFTER ARREST

Prisoner Breaks Away at Station and Later Is Found in Alley, Wounded.

A man searched on suspicion by two policemen at Broadway and St. Joseph street, before daylight today, objected to arrest and was shot in flight, later being apprehended.

The policemen found he had a razor in his pocket. On the way to a police telephone he kicked one officer in the leg. Leaving a patrol at the Soulard Street Station, he said they would have to kill him to take him inside, and broke away. The policemen fired in the air. He threw away his overcoat and vest, to run with greater freedom. Another shot was fired directly at him. Some time later one of the policemen encountered him in an alley near Seventh and Hickory streets, with a serious bullet wound in his right side.

At city hospital, where he is held for investigation, he said he was Herman Anderson, 24 years old, a coal handler, of 1105 South Sixth street, but did not explain his flight.

Ping-Pong to Present Petition.

A petition of incorporation, signed by more than 50 residents of Ping-Pong, a community on the outskirts of East St. Louis, will be presented to County Judge Weber today for approval. The signatures were obtained at a meeting last night of 200 residents of the community in the district school house. As has been told, the citizens of Ping-Pong desire to incorporate under the name of Bluff View to prevent annexation by East St. Louis.

LIQUID CORN-CURES ARE OFTEN DANGEROUS

Why Not Really End Your Corn and Callous Troubles in the Surest, Safest Way With "End-O-Corn"?

"End-O-Corn" actually ENDS CORNS and every package contains a MONEY GUARANTEE that you can cash at any bank if your corns do not entirely disappear.

If you have a corn that is stubborn and that nothing has ever removed, you probably have a VASCULAR. A chiropodist will not remove it for you—none of the better known "corn cures" will rid you of it. The only treatment that will remove it is "END-O-CORN."

Liquid corn remedies are often dangerous. They contain ether or some other liquid that evaporates quickly. So after you have opened a bottle, the strength of the remedy is never again the same and you are liable to burn the skin or irritate the flesh and cause blood poison.

The Wolff-Wilson Drug Stores, 7th and Washington and Grand and Olive St., Paul P. Sanders, druggist, 1001 O'Fallon St., urge everyone who has corn or callous troubles to use "End-O-Corn" because every jar means a happy and satisfied customer.

Little Children

Need a tonic now. Growing children use up a lot of the nutriment which they get from their food in building new bone and muscle, and therefore they often suffer from a lack of nourishment.

FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE

contains the nourishment your children need. It is a pure food tonic which builds new tissue, flesh and strength. 70 years in use. Contains no alcohol or dangerous drugs.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga.

MAN SHOT TO DEATH BY OFFICER ON HIS WEDDING DAY

B. J. Leach Had Wounded Deputy Sheriff in Resisting Arrest at Poplar Bluff, Mo.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., March 18.—Bulah J. Leach, 30 years old, was killed and Deputy Sheriff Claude Graham was seriously wounded late yesterday when Leach resisted arrest. Sheriff T. D. McCown suffered three wounds from Leach's revolver, but is less seriously hurt than his stepson, the deputy.

The officers went to a rooming house on South Main street to arrest Leach on a charge of stealing chickens in Stoddard County. They put him in Graham's coupe and started to jail with him. As they neared the jail the man began firing, while still inside the car. After being shot, Graham allowed the car to crash into the rear of the jail. The officers then shot Leach 10 times and he died in the jail 15 minutes later.

Graham was shot through the cheek and one arm, and the Sheriff's right arm was broken, a bullet entered his left shoulder and another gave him a flesh wound in the abdomen.

Leach's wife was arrested shortly after her husband died. She and Leach had been married here yesterday.

HELD FOR DETROIT POLICE AFTER ASSAULT ON WIFE

Jack Seidor, or Seeder, 36 years old, an Italian, is being held for the Detroit police for an alleged assault to kill on his wife, Clara, 25. He and his wife were arrested at their rooms at 1503 Franklin avenue yesterday on cross charges of disturbing the peace.

It was not known that the man was wanted elsewhere until the pair was in Police Court today, and they were rearrested there. In a patrol wagon Seidor struck a policeman and in being subdued his scalp was lacerated.

Mrs. Seidor told the police her husband had shot her in the stomach twice in Detroit last December. When recovering in a hospital she received threatening letters, telling her to bring their three children here, and she obeyed. She said she had been married 11 years.

FRENCH TROOPS AMBUSHED AND MASSACRED BY DRUSES

By the Associated Press.

BEIRUT, Syria, March 18.—A detachment of French and Senegalese troops, marching from Karabkale to Rachava, was ambushed today by Druse tribesmen and most of its members killed. Only a few escaped to rejoin their comrades at Rachava. They reported that the Druses had massacred the wounded on the field.

A French relief column later attacked the Druse band and dispersed it after inflicting heavy losses.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

The Post-Dispatch reserves the right to reject any query. Personal and telephone calls, or answers by mail, cannot be given attention, except letters on medical questions of undoubted sincerity when accompanied by stamped addressed envelope.

HARRY.—We do not solve problems in this column.

B. G.—Take the coins to a dealer in order to determine their value.

R. B.—Address Robert Todd Lincoln, 3014 North street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

A READER.—Report the violators of the Volstead Act to the prohibition enforcement officer, Custom House, Eighth and Olive streets.

ANNA K. — The 10-cent piece dated 1913 does not command any premium. The dime dated 1884 is worth from 10c to 15c; and that of the mint of 1876 is worth from 10c to 15c.

M. P. Q.—To clean candlesticks, whether tin or enameled, fill them with boiling water to clean them. Do not allow the water to stand any time, but pour it off and then thorougly dry the candlestick with a cloth. In this manner grease and dirt may be removed without damage to the color or substance of the candlestick.

H. B. G.—Eiffel Tower, Paris, is 1000 feet high. (2) The United States Weather Bureau operates nine telegraph and telephone lines in localities where no commercial lines are available, primarily for the purpose of transmitting meteorological observation, weather forecasts and warnings, vessel and wreck reports and general Government business.

VIVIAN.—Five courses at most (not counting the passing of a dish of candy or after-dinner coffee as a course), or more usually four actual courses, are thought sufficient for any luncheon menu. Below are two menus from which you might choose: Fruit or soup in cups, eggs, meat and vegetables, salad and dessert or fruit, soup, meat and vegetables, salad and dessert.

C. L. L.—Clean spots on kalsomine with white chalk, blending the edges with the surrounding surface by rubbing gently with a clean dry sponge. Painted walls may be washed with lukewarm suds, or cleaned with a cloth wrung out in kerosene. For hard-finished walls use dry bread as you would upon a papered surface, rubbing always in one direction and changing the bread frequently.

GEORGIA C.—If you will consult a formula book at the Public Library you can obtain many ways of developing pictures. The following hydrochinon developer is for producing great contrast and intensity, also for developing over-exposed plates: Distilled or ice water, 25 ounces; sulphite of soda, crystals, 3 ounces; hydrochinon, 3 ounces; bromide of potassium, ¼ ounce. Dissolve by warming and let cool before use.

JANE. — If you have colored muslin, callicoes or ginghams to wash, mix a tablespoonful of oxgall in each gallon of cold water and leave the articles in this for two hours, or make a strong brine of fine salt and cold water, and soak the colored cotton or linen in it before washing, dry quickly, always with the wrong side out, in the shade. Colored things fade more in the drying than in the tub.

READER.—Go over all the paper to be removed from the walls with paste on a brush, not missing one inch, and the paper will come off in one-tenth of the time it will with water. The secret lies in the fact that the paste keeps the paper damp and loosens it completely. Holes in the walls can be stopped with plaster of Paris, but mix this with vinegar instead of water, or it will harden so quickly that it will be difficult to manipulate.

LEGAL INFORMATION

(By a Member of the St. Louis Bar Association.)

ANXIOUS.—The will will be legal if it has been properly drawn.

J. C. McD.—We advise you to consult a lawyer regarding the property in question.

E. W. K.—Most States, including Missouri, have "Sunday blue laws" of some kind, but these laws are different in the various States.

MRS. A. D. — You can sell the cure. If you carry any stock of goods you will need a merchant's license—that is all.

FRANK J. — Your parents can obtain your discharge by applying to the commanding officer of your regiment.

POST-DISPATCH READER.—The deed of trust can be extended by indorsement on the back of the principal note.

A SUBSCRIBER.—Write to the Secretary of the State Board of Medical Examiners, Jefferson City, Mo., for the information regarding the doctor.

WORRIED.—He can sell his interest in the property, but he can not give a clear title without your mother's signature. We suggest that you consult a lawyer with regard to the matter.

A READER.—The party who drew up the will or any other interested party can take it to the Probate Court to be filed for probate. This can be done at any time after the death. Inquire of the clerk regarding the amount of the court costs.

MEDICAL QUESTIONS

Health and sanitation questions of public interest only will be considered. Diagnosis or treatment of individual cases will not be given.

C. G. M. — You should go to Barnes Hospital, where they are equipped for giving the kind of treatment most likely to benefit the condition of the hand and legs. For what you mostly need is gentle and systematic massage, hot packs alternated with cold, galvanic electricity and vibratory motion. You must realize that such treatment could only be had in an institution properly equipped and administered by those trained for such work. Such is known as "Hydro-Therapy" and you should ask to see the doctor in charge of this department.

E. C. S.—The trouble you mention is a modfied form of what is called "sea sickness," such as persons not accustomed to sea-faring experience, and is supposed to be due to the shaking up and unbalancing of the fluid surrounding the brain and spinal cord. When a sea voyage is contemplated by those who suffer in this way they abstain from food as much as possible for a few days before embarking and take light effervescing nerve sedatives such as bromo seltzer, carbonated waters and milk of magnesia and see that the bowels are kept active.

COLD RAIN PROSPECTS FACTOR IN COTTON TRADE

NEW YORK, March 18.—Prospects for cold rains in the South served to offset relatively easy Liverpool cables, and prices held fairly steady in the cotton market early today.

The opening was steady, at a decline of 1 point to an advance of 3 points, and after selling off 3 or 4 points under liquidation and Southern selling, the market rallied to about yesterday's closing figures.

Private cables said the decline in Liverpool was due to hedge selling, which had supplied covering and trade calling. Some trade buying to fix prices was reported here in early trading, but the bulk of the demand was attributed to covering by Wall street and local shorts. July fluctuated between 18.15c and 18.19c, and was holding around 18.18c at the end of the first hour.

Reports that one of the private authorities estimated ginnings for the season at 16,163,000 bales were without any apparent effect on the market, which worked up to 18.74c for May and 17.57c for October, or about 5 to 8 points net higher on further covering. The advance was checked by realizing at these figures, however, and prices at midday showed reactions of 3 or 4 points from the best.

The early afternoon market remained quiet, but there was a little Wall street selling and prices worked back to about yesterday's closing quotations. May was selling around 18.67c and October 17.52c at 2 o'clock, or about net unchanged to one point higher.

Mr. Gerard B. Lambert, President of Lambert Pharmacal Company, who will be President of Lambert Company, has furnished a letter in reference to the Company, attached to which is a balance sheet of Lambert Pharmacal Company as of December 31, 1925. Copies of this letter and the balance sheet attached thereto may be obtained from the undersigned upon request. Mr. Lambert has summarized this letter in part, as follows:

"Lambert Company has been organized under the laws of Delaware to own 56¼% of the capital stock of Lambert Pharmacal Company, a Missouri corporation.

HISTORY AND BUSINESS

"Lambert Pharmacal Company was founded 47 years ago to manufacture and sell 'Listerine' and other pharmaceutical products.

"Listerine is today the standard antiseptic of the world and it occupies this position approached by no competing preparation. The remarkable merit of the product itself is responsible for its continuing and increasing success, which is evidenced by its uninterrupted growth in sales for about half a century.

"Each year since its foundation the Company has made a substantial profit. From 1921 to this date the sales of Listerine as well as the total sales of the Company each month have shown an increase over the sales for the same month of the previous year. As a further illustration of growth, the increase of about $470,000 in the Company's sales of January and February, 1926, over the same two months of 1925 was greater than the increase of January and February, 1925, over the same two months of 1924, when the increase amounted to about $365,000. The net profit of the first two months of 1926, also, shows an increase over the same two months of 1925 greater than the latter's increase over the first two months of 1924. This is in spite of the fact that the advertising expenditures for January and February, 1926, increased over those of the corresponding months of 1925 by a very large figure. The increasing profits of the Company are being augmented by the increasing sales of new products which are being brought out from time to time, such as Listerine Tooth Paste and Listerine Throat Tablets.

"The present management and present policies were inaugurated in 1921, and it is the purpose of this issue to enable us to continue that management and those policies. Goldman, Sachs & Co. and Bond & Goodwin, Inc., will each be invited to name a member of the Board of Directors of the new company.

ADVERTISING

"The Company's advertising of Listerine has had an unusual record. Starting with practically no expenditure in 1921, each monthly increase in advertising has been met during that month by an increase in profit as great as the advertising increase and a substantial additional profit. The growth of our advertising expenditures is indicated by the fact that in 1925 our advertising expenses were about $2,100,000 and in 1926 they will exceed $3,000,000. The total monthly circulation of the media being employed at this time is certified by the Audit Bureau of Circulation at approximately 65,000,000. During the last four years we have spent over $4,400,000 in advertising.

ASSETS AND DIVIDENDS

"Because of the nature of the business and the absence of the necessity for any large capital expenditures, the Board of Directors of Lambert Pharmacal Company has followed the policy of declaring dividends covering a major portion of the earnings each year, there being no need to have in the business any substantial amount of net tangible assets beyond approximately $1,000,000, as shown on the last balance sheet, which is entirely adequate for the present requirements of the business. The Board of Directors of Lambert Company expects to inaugurate dividends at the annual rate of $3.50 per share by the declaration of a quarterly dividend of 87½ cents per share, payable July 1, 1926. During the last four years the Lambert Pharmacal Company has paid out a total of $4,675,000 in dividends.

PROFITS

"The net profits of Lambert Pharmacal Company for the four years ended December 31, 1925 (after deducting all charges, including Federal income taxes computed at 13½%), the cash dividends paid by the company in those years, and the proportion of such profits applicable to the stockholdings of Lambert Company (the new company), as certified by Messrs. Ernst & Ernst, Public Accountants, have been as follows:

Years Ended December 31	Net Profits of Lambert Pharmacal Company After Federal Income Taxes at 13½%	Cash Dividends Paid by Lambert Pharmacal Company	Proportion of Net Profits Applicable to Holdings of New Company
1923	1,078,437.31	945,000.00	606,620.99
1924	1,499,210.77	1,410,000.00	843,306.06
1925	2,011,940.89	1,800,000.00	1,131,716.75

"Such net profits for the first two months of 1926 were approximately 30.6% greater than those of the corresponding months of 1925."

BEAR ATTACK BRINGS WIDE STOCK RANGE

Higher Opening With Rails Leaders Followed by Drop in Motors—Increase in Trade Volume.

By Leased Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Mar. 18.—The Evening Post in its copyrighted financial review today says:

"Heavy selling in the stock market today by those bearishly inclined and others who desire to take profits caused the worst break in prices since early this month. Constructive news developments were entirely disregarded, with the exception of the first few minutes of trading, when the over-night accumulation of orders caused a higher opening. Again near the close good buying made its appearance and prices rallied somewhat from the lows of the day. The turn-over was considerably in excess of 2,000,000 shares. Speculative railroad obligations held the center of interest in the bond market and the majority of these declined in sympathy with their respective stocks. Foreign bonds were well bought and the Swiss 5½s established a new high for the year. Liberties were quieter than usual. Money held at 4¼ per cent all day. Money brokers are of the opinion that rates will remain easy for the next few months, at least.

"Advance in the dividends by the Chesapeake & Ohio, Nickel Plate and Hocking Valley, the most important over-night news to reach the financial district, fell flat as a market factor. Chesapeake & Ohio common opened up about 5 points on an accumulation of orders, but immediately after profit-taking developed in such proportion that most of this gain was wiped out. Motors, which had recovered a large part of their losses sustained early this month, were attacked on the grounds they are approaching an unsound technical position. Losses were quite heavy in that group. According to all reports reaching the Wall street district these days, most automobile manufacturing companies are operating and disposing of their output at the highest rate in years, if not in their history.

Public Not Inclined to Follow.

"Numerous pools have been formed on the so-called constructive side of the market since the recent smash, but almost every attempt they have made to force a recovery in prices has met with considerable opposition. The public is not inclined to follow an advance like they were earlier in the year and the bearish speculators, emboldened by their prevous success, appear determined to force the reaction still further. Special attention today was given to stocks, which are believed to be held in weak hands, and to those in which the recovery has been the greatest. Allied Chemical, American Can, American Hide and Leather, Pittsburg & West Virginia, American Smelting and others were forced to retreat under the onslaught of the heaviest selling of the week.

Steadier Tone in Exchanges.

"Foreign exchanges developed a steadier tone today with the adjournment of the Geneva League session and the cessation of speculative selling of Belgian remittances. Belgian and French francs eased off at the start but received better support later. Sterling held fairly steady. Norwegian exchange was weak again, but the remainder of the European list was little changed. Japanese rates were firmer, while exchange on Calcutta sagged.

CURB STOCKS AFFECTED IN BIG BOARD TREND

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Liquidation on the stock exchange influenced trading on the curb exchange today and many issues on the latter market were under pressure at ties. The most important effect of the unsettlement in other trading centers, however, was to cause a decrease in demand, resulting in declines on small sales.

Oil stocks as a group, moved within a narrow range. Anglo-American held firm and International Petroleum made a slight gain in the early trading which later was lost. Standard Oils of New York and Indiana both showed fractional losses, but Gulf Oil was steadily held, although it failed to recover its small dividend which it sold ex at the opening. Tidewater Associated Oil sold off slightly. Carib was under special pressure and other tropical oils were in supply at declines.

A number of the public utilities also were under pressure. American Gas and Electric fell three points and American Power and Light was in supply. United Gas Improvement was one of the weak features, falling over 2 points. Southeastern Power after an early advance, had its gain turned into a loss within a short time.

The industrials as a group were heavy. Servel yielded nearly three points. Land Company of Florida had a further loss, again making a new low record. Libby-Owens and Electric Refrigerating both dropped about 2 points. Yellow Taxi of New York started with a gain, but later moved with the rest of the list.

Business Cities Service Company owns directly or through subsidiaries a majority of the common stock of each of more than sixty public utilities comprising a large and successful system of electric light and power, manufactured and natural gas, heat, water, ice and street railway companies, and of more than forty companies representing an important system of oil production, transportation, refining and marketing.

The public utility properties comprise a diversified group operating in eighteen states and the Dominion of Canada, serving a population of more than 3,000,000 in over 600 communities, including such important cities as Denver, Colo.; Kansas City, Joplin and St. Joseph, Mo.; Kansas City and Topeka, Kan.; Toledo and Sandusky, Ohio; Danbury, Conn.; and numerous others. The principal oil properties produce daily about 25,000 barrels of crude oil, and the subsidiaries operate more than 900 miles of oil pipe lines and refineries having a total rated capacity of 31,500 barrels daily. The reserves of oil and gas lands are among the largest under any single management in the United States. They are located in what is commonly known as the Mid-Continent field in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, and the natural gas business is conducted principally in Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri.

Reported indications of heavy overnight acceptances of Canadian wheat offers to Europe also exerted influence. Corn was helped by wheat for tie but was lower late and closed lower.

Bond Market Review

NEW YORK, March 18.—A spurt of more than 5 points in Chesapeake & Ohio Railway convertible 5s, following a similar rise in the company's stock, was the only distinguishing feature of today's bond trading, which was buffeted by confusing cross-currents. Several other rail issues including Delaware & Hudson convertible 5s and Seaboard 6s joined in an early advance but later eased off when heavy selling broke out in the stock market. Chicago & Alton 3½s, Frisco income 6s and St. Paul refunding 4½s and Norfolk & Western convertible 6s were heavy. The less favorable European outlook resulting from the failure of the League of Nations assembly to admit Germany depressed foreign bonds with Belgian obligations weakened further by the controversy over a new loan. Price movements of domestic corporation issues were ... the firmness of Commonwealth Power 6s and Midvale Steel 5s contrasting with the heaviness of American Writing Paper 6s, International Mercantile Marine 6s and Virginia-Carolina Chemical certificates.

New York Sugar.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Prices were unchanged in the raw sugar market early today. Sales were reported of 15,000 bags of Porto Rican afloat and 65,000 bags of Cuban for prompt shipment to local refiners at 4.02c duty paid.

Continued liberal offerings in the spot market and a report placing the Cuban production up to March 15, at 2,788,000 tons against 2,665,896 tons for the same time last year, led to renewed selling pressure in raw sugar futures during the forenoon session with midday prices about one point net lower. The refined sugar market was unchanged at 6.00c to 6.15c for fine granulated.

Sugar futures closed easy; approximate sales 32,000 tons. March, 2.29; May, 2.32; July, 2.46; September, 2.58; Dec. 2.68.

CHAPTER XXV.
UNDERGROUND.

SLOWLY, stealthily the door of the hut swung open. Paul grasped his pistol. A moment's suspense, then a face peered through the opening, a Japanese countenance, but it did not belong to Uchita.

"Uchita!" Paul spoke the name quickly, to forestall any hostility, "he left this for you!" His hand extended Uchita's note and the Japanese, closing the door cautiously, advanced and read it.

"You, Mr. Reynolds?" he asked quickly.

"Yes!"

The man gave a hurried look around, and seizing Paul hustled him across the room towards a pile of straw held down by packing boxes. Pushing this debris aside he pulled open a concealed door and shoved Paul into a cellar way.

"Come not back till Uchita or I come!" he warned in low tones, "greatly danger now. By and by safe!"

And before Paul could question or protest the trap door closed above his head, leaving him in inky blackness. The episode had transpired with such rapidity that it left Paul breathless, and the descent into pitch darkness blinded him so completely that it was some time before he could recover his poise and consider his next step. Meantime the sound of voices came through the trap door. People were talking loudly in the hut and Paul strained his ears to catch the gist of the conversation.

He was unsuccessful. The door was a tight one, well sunk into the floor; the talk was in a foreign tongue, and he could be sure of only one point: The visitors were in an ugly mood.

For 10 minutes the noise overhead continued, then ceased as quickly as it had begun. Should he climb back into the hut?

"Come not back!" Paul repeated the warning. Better obey, for the present. Meantime it would be well to explore his present quarters and thankful that he had brought a flashlight, he took it from his pocket and studied the surroundings.

He was not in a cellar, but at the head of a tunnel, long and winding and, although he could stand upright here beneath the door, further exploring must be done on hands and knees. Where did the tunnel lead? If he followed it would he be able to retrace his steps? Paul considered, and remembering a trick of scouting days, tore his handkerchief into shreds, dropping fragments behind him as he crawled forward.

Slowly he made his way, pausing frequently to listen for sound or warning, flashing his light well ahead to avoid pitfalls. The ground beneath him was damp, his trousers soon became thoroughly soaked and his hands wet and mud-stained. The air was close and very hot.

"Talk about the trenches!" he smiled grimly, "they hadn't anything on this place! I believe I'm crawling steadily into the equator!" He paused to wipe the perspiration from his face. Once his hand came down upon a small atom of life, a lizard, probably. The encounter made Paul shiver.

On and on through an endless tunnel! He began to ache all over, to feel as if he must stand erect and stretch himself or collapse! Yet he pushed ahead and was rewarded by arriving at a deeper opening where he could stand, while above him was another door, like the one through which he had descended.

Paul stretched upon tiptoes and listened. Not a sound! Dared he open the door? Time elapsed while Paul considered and he was about to make an attempt, had shut off his light in order to do so more carefully, when a sound from above made him draw back. A tiny streak of light appeared, widened, the trap opened slowly, a pair of feet came stealthily into the tunnel, followed by the frame of a tall man.

Paul flattened himself against the wall and the man, blinded by his sudden descent into darkness began fumbling his way along, passing beyond Paul's hearing.

A thousand questions now arose in Paul's mind? Who was this man? Not Uchida or the other Japanese, for he was far too tall. If only his face had been visible before the trap door closed over him!

The tunnel was too narrow to allow people to pass, even in the darkness, without becoming known to each other. If this man should return within a short time, meeting Paul on the way, the encounter might prove disastrous. Why not seize this chance to explore the opening, while the man was gone? A second's hesitation, and Paul once more approached the door, climbed the few steps which led up to it, pushed it open as quietly as possible and peered into the kitchen of a Mexican house.

And then as he was about to enter this kitchen the sound of voices made him retreat hastily, but not before a great discovery had been made, for one of the voices ringing out clearly, was known to him. It belonged to Mario Milana.

The discovery was so thrilling that Paul, hidden once more in his cave, felt every nerve quiver. The man who had abducted Carolita was in this house. Carolita must be here too.

His heart throbbed painfully, the heat of the cave mounted in suffocating waves until it seemed as if his head must burst, yet he had never needed to be more calm, more clear headed. Milana was in the house and would be prepared to fight for Carolita. Paul was not afraid of Milana, but how many confederates did the man have? It would do Carolita no good for Paul to be overpowered by a superior force.

It would be best to return to the hut, await the arrival of Uchita and his pal, possibly secure additional help and make a surprise attack upon Milana at night, overpowering him, and rescuing the girl.

Paul looked at his watch. It was only 8 o'clock! A long, long day of suspense lay ahead, hours for a tortured mind to imagine every possible misfortune that might befall his beloved! Already Carolita possessed his thoughts completely. Since she had been torn from his side he had imagined that he had experienced every conceivable agony of mind, yet these emotions had been as nothing compared to those which followed this last disclosure! To love a girl and lose her, to know her to be in danger, yet be powerless to rush to her aid—this was genuine torture!

Gradually he grew more calm, was able to consider his position more dispassionately, reaching the conclusion that with so many hours ahead it would be best to spend a few of them waiting here for the return of the man who had disappeared into the tunnel, and if, in due course of time he failed to make an appearance, a return trip to the hut might again be contemplated.

And so, cocked pistol in hand, Paul stood against the wall of the cavern, a short distance from the trap door overhead, and waited until at last a faint sound again stirred the stifling air. Someone was crawling towards him!

"Hands up," Paul commanded in low, clear tones. "I'm going to shoot!"

"Better not," came an equally low reply. "I'm a friend!"

"Reynolds! Thank God, man, how did you get here? Have they seen you!" Gaines' hand wrung Paul's in a warm grip. "You're all right?"

"Where's Carolita?" Paul asked breathlessly. "Up in this house with Milana? How can we rescue her? Do they know you're here?"

"Too late," he muttered. "Too late!"

"I'm not so sure. I've been trapped for 36 hours, it's true, but I have some hopes," Gaines replied. "Tell me how you got here?"

Paul related his story as quickly as possible and Gaines exclaimed at the mention of Uchita's name.

"Uchita is the hope I spoke of," he said. "The man who took Carolita was a Japanese!"

"You think that he may be in Uchita's employ?"

"Yes. Uchita was Mr. Reynold's personal servant for years; he knows all about this affair, probably has been doing a lot of sleuthing on his own account. It is barely possible that a confederate of his got wind that an ambush was being staged to kidnap Carolita from Milana and forestalled it by carrying her off himself."

"Then this ambush was Walter's doing?"

"Undoubtedly. It is not Milana's He has been frantic since the girl disappeared, and when the bandits added themselves to our misery, making us prisoners, he almost went out of his mind. Losing the reward is his death blow. He has more at stake than anyone else."

"Reward? For Carolita?" Paul questioned eagerly.

"An immense reward for Carolita—Carolita alive and unharmed!"

"Who is she, Gaines? I've pictured her everything from a runaway royalty to our own much discussed family skeleton, although I know nothing about that beyond the fact that Walter is the goat or the villain, and my father's widow has some connections with it. I don't suppose you know much more about it than I do?"

"Very little. I'm responsible for the safety of Miss Carolita Menendez. Beyond that I can content myself with guessing."

"What do you make of Dugan's yarn about Walter's daughter, Cynthia Reynolds? Uchita swears that he has no such daughter. It's all part of this tangle, I suppose?"

"Yes—I'm trying to figure it out. To return to the bandits, I'm sure they were imported from the outside because none of them suspect this secret passage. They swarmed into the house, searched it thoroughly for the girl, but had not the intelligence to look for a subway. And they are content now to keep guard upon us from the outside, which gives me access to the tunnel, although I don't dare to be gone long for fear they will miss me and start after the girl. Moreover, they cannot have run across the outlet of the subway or they would have come swarming through quickly enough. Pretty unintelligent, considering that the girl was carried out through the passage without difficulty. Makes me feel that Walter just brought up a gang of outlaws and sent them in here."

"Looks that way, but what's our next move?" Paul was thirsting for action—anything to divert his mental agony.

"We'll track Uchita and his pal. Ready now? Let's crawl back and wait at the entrance of that hut till it's dark enough to begin our search!"

"But I was warned to stay out of that hut, Gaines, and with so much depending upon our safety, hadn't we better lie low until Uchita gives us a signal?"

Gaines was already moving along and Paul, following painfully, kept his flashlight going, watching for the tiny strips of linen he had left as a trail.

"Gaines," he called presently, "this is not the way I came!"

"What do you mean?" Gaines' voice, a little in advance, answered.

"I left a trail and it's gone! We must have turned into another passage. Wait until I catch up to you! Perhaps the pieces of linen has disappeared into the mud!"

But although the two men examined their tracks with infinite care, no traces of a torn handkerchief could be found, and a careful examination revealed that they had entered a new passage, one unnoticed before.

"This place is so dark that there might be a dozen openings!" Gaines declared. "Where are we now, do you suppose?

"Coming out at the other outlet! Get ahead, Gaines!"

Ten minutes of slow crawling, repeated searching of the cavern walls, and then another door was found in the roof of the cave!

The two men paused to hold council.

"I'll push it up the least bit and see what happens," Gaines whispered, and acting upon his words, raised the trap the fraction of an inch. A tiny streak of daylight—a man's voice chanting.

"That's the mass!" Gaines whispered. "We're in a church!"

Did You Ever Try?

Ammonia and alcohol to sponge the silk blouse or frock? Just put a little ammonia into a few spoonfuls of the alcohol.

To clean the electric toaster with a flat paint brush—the kind they sell in the 10-cent store? It will speedily remove every particle of crumbs.

Hot Potato Salad.

Hot Cream Salad Dressing—In the top of a double boiler combine two tablespoons flour, one tablespoon butter, one tablespoon sugar, one-half teaspoon dry mustard, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon paprika and an egg. Stir till well mixed, add three-fourths cup scalded top milk and cook over hot water until thickened, stirring constantly. Thin with one-half cup very mild vinegar.

Creamed Eggs.

Prepare a cup of thick white sauce. Add four eggs beaten light, and "scramble" in a medium sized frying pan containing one-half tablespoon melted butter. Serve on toast or plain with coarse fried bread crumbs sprinkled over.

Roquefort Cheese Dresing

Combine two tablespoons cream cheese and two tablespoons Roquefort cheese in a small bowl. Add one-half teaspoon paprika and cream in one-half cup French dressing or one-half cup mayonnaise if a richer dressing is desired.

Synthetic Culture That's So Superior

About the Monday Morning Class That Avoids Wash-Days to Imbibe a Semblance of Social Superiority and Unction.

By WINIFRED BLACK

WINIFRED BLACK

JULIA has joined the Culture Class.

The Culture Class meets every Monday morning at 11 o'clock and it's the thing to belong to it.

It shows that you don't have to be at home Monday morning to help get the luncheon while the maid-of-all-work does the washing. And then you can come in late, and say you've been away for the week-end and had to drive 60 miles an hour to get back in time for a class.

And that's always so distinguished, isn't it? Besides, think of the culture! The woman who teaches the class reads everything—oh, just everything!

Books and papers and magazines and articles and tracts and treatises and propaganda and pamphlets and poetry and all the new plays and reviews and criticisms—and everything. She's really too clever for words!

How can she ever keep all that stuff in her head and not mix the criticisms with the essays and the novels with the plays, Julia can't think. She doesn't even try to think; she just wonders and let's it go at that.

And every Monday morning teacher tells the class about the book of the week. She sketches an outline of the plot, if there is a plot, or of the characters, if it's just character drawing, or of the ideas, if it's propaganda. And then she just stands up there and tears that book into the tiniest pieces! Why, you never heard anything like it!

Julia doesn't care for reading, herself. I don't think she ever read a book in all her life, but her brother has married a girl who reads, and Julia doesn't want her to think that she's any smarter than she is.

Easy for Julia, isn't it? And it helps the teacher make a living, and there you are. Teacher is an awfully nice woman, too.

You would never think she was such a high-brow just to look at her. She has the cutest shingle-bob, and she wears the nicest clothes—well, it's wonderful the different people there are in the world, Julia says, and she always feels so virtuous and high-minded when she puts her tuition fee in the little basket on the table at teacher's class.

Kate is joining the History Club—so many books of history in so many months, don't you know. Kate's reading about the French Revolution now. She says it's thrilling.

Cora has joined the Child Study Club—Cora's children haven't arrived yet, and Cora doesn't seem to care much whether they ever do arrive. But the Child Study Club is run by the most exclusive sort of women, and Cora has a lively time hearing about pre-natal influences and inhibitions.

What joiners we are all getting to be—boosters and upwards and onwards and forward-all—and it seems that nobody has time any more to read for herself just because she likes reading.

Well, I'm glad Julia is going to be cultured—only I do hope she won't talk books to me. The last time she did she put Becky Sharp into The Heart of Midlothian and got Swinburne hopelessly mixed up with Service, the Alaskan poet.

The famous Carlton Club, in London, heretofore the stronghold of male clubdom, has let down the bars to women, and the first to be received and entertained was Princess Beatrice, aunt of King George and mother of the Queen of Spain.

Caroline Bridgeman, nominated for the chairmanship of the National Council of Conservative Associations, if elected, will be the first woman in Great Britain to hold the chairmanship of a big political organization.

Banish the Freckles with Mercolized Wax

Some women have skin of such texture they occasionally are annoyed by the sudden appearance of freckles, slight eruptions or fine lines. March winds usually play havoc with such skins. If one will procure an ounce of Mercolized Wax at any drug store, apply a little before retiring, like cold cream, the trouble can easily be overcome. When the wax is washed off next morning, almost invisible flaky skin particles come with it. The entire outer cuticle soon is removed in this way, with all its defects.

No bleach could so effectually remove freckles, pimples or other blemishes. The new surface is smooth, clear, fresh looking. No harm or inconvenience results from this simple treatment.

WOMAN MAKES SUCCESS IN FIELD UNUSUAL FOR HER SEX

Miss Maud T. Howell as Stage Manager Has 25 Men Working Under Her Direction.

By MARGUERITE MARTYN.

STILL another claim to masculine supremacy has had to give way before the invasion of woman, this time in the field of stage managing. With the "Old English" company of George Arliss, this week a woman is director of all the mechanical effects. She is Miss Maude T. Howell and she was stage manager of "The Green Goddess," too, and indeed for five years Winthrop Ames, producer of the last two plays in which Mr. Arliss has appeared, has employed Miss Howell as stage manager.

Critics writing of the artistic performance of Mr. Arliss do not fail to note the mechanical smoothness and faultlessness of the setting of the play. It is such a performance, in its mechanical aspect as would be exacted by so consummate an artist as Arliss.

One cannot imagine one who can play the role of captious, epicurean, fastidious Sylvanus Heythorp with such fidelity, tolerating any but the most responsible craftsmen behind the scenes. It is good to know that in striking into a new profession a woman has aimed at such a high mark and has made surpassingly good.

Miss Howell does not know whether or not she was the first woman stage manager, but she has heard of no others in her time except one or two in stock companies. Since it is a job that calls for the handling of the stage crew as well as the actors and for mechanical and technical skill and knowledge, it would seem to be one almost prohibitive to the average woman. Yet in the case of Miss Howell it all came about by natural transition and she seems to have found nothing awkward in the situation, nor any insurmountable difficulties. She had leanings toward the stage after graduating from Leland Stanford University.

Executive ability overtook her ability merely to act and she became a director of community productions in Southern California. Gravitating eastward she was engaged eventually as assistant stage manager for "The Green Goddess," and when, after the third performance the stage manager fell ill, Winthrop Ames, the producer advanced Miss Howell into the position which she has held ever since, including a year's run of that play in London.

25 Men Under Her.

On the Shubert-Rialto stage this week Miss Howell has 25 men under her direction. Three of these, an electrician, a master carpenter, and a property man are attached to the company. They take charge of the local crews but for every detail of the mechanical workings back stage Miss Howell is responsible. In addition to supervising each performance, she directs, also, two understudy rehearsals each week.

MISS MAUDE T. HOWELL.

She has a desk in the wings where she listens and watches with one eye and ear on the stage, the other on the lighting devices, curtain calls, cues, properties, etc.

Asks No Quarter of Men.

"My task is that of general watch dog," she said last night when the manager of the house proudly took me back stage to meet this rare personality. "The producer leaves the play in shape. My business is to see that each performance goes exactly as he originally rehearsed it."

Did she have difficulty in dealing with men who are not accustomed to having a woman boss and who might resent it, I asked.

"Back stage we are all working for the good of the performance or the good of the house. The personal element has not much chance to creep in. My experience has taught me that first of all a woman must prove to a man that she asks no quarter because of her sex. She has to show that she knows her job. Men are surprisingly chivalrous, but it is not well for a woman to take advantage of this. Bravado on the part of a man or woman is to be guarded against in this position."

Asked how another woman might go about preparing herself for this new line of work, Miss Howell said she knew of no other way than actual experience in the theater.

Besides watching at her desk last night, she made frequent trips down into the front of the house, dropping into a seat near me, to watch the trying out of some new lighting effects. In her enthusiasm about the charm of this and that member of the company, the quaintness of the costumes and the atmosphere created by the furnishings of each set, she was all woman, interested in the things that appeal to the average woman, and artist interested in the dramatic appeal of the performance. Truly, a many-sided person, with her craftsmanship and executive ability as well.

"Everything About the House Helps to Make the Home"

Neighborhood Book and Magazine Club.

HAVE you a neighborhood book and magazine club in your town? If not, and you like to read, start one. The clubs are composed of not over six families who live near together. Each family subscribes to one or two magazines, which are decided upon by a meeting of the club.

Each family reads the magazines that come to them and in order they pass them on to the next reader. Each member may keep the magazines three days only. But if they want to see any special ones again they make a note of it and, after they have gone the rounds of the six households, which takes 18 days, they may apply again for a second loan.

Of course, one or two children's magazines can be added to the group. These may be for boys, girls or the general magazines that both will like.

Six books a month will be more than many of the readers will have time to read. The length of time allowed each should be four to six days. Of course, the books are more difficult to hurry than magazines. Some months the books will lapse over into the next month. It is the librarian's job to hustle them along.

In regard to the books, a return reading may be granted after the first reading all around. Some people will read so much more quickly than others that it helps out the slow ones, for they will probably turn in a book in two days instead of the four.

The books may be covered with ordinary brown paper or school book covers to keep them in good order. A question of ownership of the books does not arise, as they are returned to their buyers after the last member has read them. From there they can be borrowed and are not thereafter subject to club rules.

There are restrictions that must be decided at club meetings on the kind of books to be purchased, so that they will be agreeable to the various readers.

The club can be made an inspiration and pleasure if rightly managed.

MARRIED WOMAN

A Woman's World.

Not even in the Barber Shop, can he find sanctuary. For, whensoever he may enter it, the chairs are full of women, and his cry of "Next!" goeth unheeded. For the "boyish bob" taketh precedence over the "convict clip!"

Nay, not even in the Corner Cigar Store is there escape from the Tittering Sex. For, she followeth him thither and monopolizeth the clerk and crowdeth him from the telephone booth.

Alas, upon the golf links, what joy hath a man in his game? For, lo, one woman precedeth him and another followeth him, and all his swearings avail not. For the green runneth over with sport skirts, and the air is filled with "Oh dears" and "Tut-tuts!"

* * *

Yea, there is one law for man and another law for women—and there is no fairness and no equality IN it!

* * *

For, the shooting of a wife is MURDER and leadeth to the scaffold.

* * *

But the shooting of a husband is "paranoia"—and leadeth to a stage career and a star role in the movies!

Behold, a man that driveth a motor car must observe the traffic rules.

But, WOMAN driveth from the front seat and from the back seat—and NO man's life is safe from her!

Lo, if a woman wearieth of her husband, she saith, "Send me to Paris that I may divorce thee—pleasantly and without delay." For a French divorce is a mark of social distinction.

* * *

But if a man wearieth of this life, she saith,, "Villan! Thou shalt PAY for this—with everlasting alimony!"

* * *

Neither dare a bachelor write a love letter, lest he be sued for heart balm. And a rich man feareth a fountain pen as a prima donna feareth a cold in the head!

THE DATE TREE
By ERNEST SEEMAN

March 18, 1895—31 Years Ago. Jack London is enjoying life as a hobo. The son of a San Francisco policeman, London started his business life as a newsboy. He discarded in rapid succession the careers of cook, canning factory hand, stable boy and sailor, and at 19, deciding there was nothing in work, became a tramp. When, in later years, he became an author, after trying his hand at gold mining, bartending and a dozen other professions, some of his most successful stories were drawn from his experience as a knight of the road.

BY ALINE MICHAELIS

Messengers.

LONG I sought for you in vain, wearily I went with a spirit bowed in pain, crushed by discontent. How I waited who can say, through the empty days, wearing heavy hours away with my songs of praise. But in darkest moments came messengers of you; rose-sweet breezes breathed your name where the poplars grew. Far above the sky-lark sang high in azure space; sweet and clear his music rang, telling of your grace. Vagrant golden honey-bees, drifting on the air, wove their drowsy melodies of your eyes, your hair. Slowly dragged the idle hours all that lonely while, but the fairest of the flowers told me of your smile. How I waited who can say, but, that dull time through, many messengers each day brought me news of you!

Another Green Forest Stranger

To be to strangers most polite.
—Old Mother West Wind.

OF course, you know, politeness always pays. Anyway, that is what people say. I think it might be a little better to say it often pays, instead of it always pays. Anyway, it is the right thing to do to be polite to strangers. You know, you never can tell how important strangers may prove to be.

Sammy Jay brought the news to Peter Rabbit that with the coming of spring another stranger had arrived in the Green Forest. At the time Peter was over in the dear Old Briar-patch. You should have seen him prick up those long ears of his. Peter hadn't been over in the Green Forest much for some little time. He hadn't been over there much since Puma the Panther had arrived there. So Peter depended on Sammy Jay for much of the news of the Green Forest. Timid little Mrs. Peter was inclined to think that the coming of Puma the Panther to the Green Forest was a very good thing. You see, Peter spent more time at home in the dear Old Briar-patch now.

"Yes," said Sammy, "there is a stranger over in the Green Forest, and he's one you'll have to watch out for, Peter Rabbit, when you go over there."

"Who is he?" demanded Peter.

"I don't rightly know," replied Sammy, "but from his looks I would say that he is related to Reddy Fox."

"What's that?" exclaimed Peter.

"I said," replied Sammy, "that he looks to me like a member of the Fox family."

"Huh!" exclaimed Peter. "That can't be. Reddy Fox hasn't any relatives around these parts."

"Who is he," demanded Peter

"All right, Mr. Smarty, if you know more about it than I do that's all I've got to say," replied Sammy, and away he flew in a huff.

Peter felt a little ashamed of himself, and, oh! how curious he was. He was so full of curiosity that he couldn't sit still a minute. He wanted to start right away for the Green Forest, yet was afraid to. There was Puma the Panther over there, and Peter had heard dreadful stories about Puma the Panther. And now here was another stranger who, if Sammy Jay were right, would be only too glad of a Rabbit dinner. So, on second thought, Peter decided that the dear Old Briar-patch was the best place for him until he should know more about this stranger. Peter felt quite safe in the Old Briar-patch, and, after all, there was nothing more important than being safe. If every one thought of safety first all the time this would be a lot better world to live in, because there would be so much less sadness.

But if Peter couldn't go into the Green Forest he could ask questions of those who had been there and that came his way. And Peter did. Tommy Tit the Chickadee happened over to the dear Old Briar-patch. Tommy didn't have time to say "Dee-dee-chickadee" before Peter demanded. "Have you seen the new stranger in the Green Forest, Tommy Tit?"

"Yes, Peter," said he. "I went to pay my respects as soon as I heard he had arrived. I believe in being polite. A little politeness doesn't hurt any one, and it may do one a lot of good."

"Never mind about your politeness," interrupted Peter, which, of course, was quite impolite on his part. "Tell me about this stranger. Sammy Jay says that he looks like a member of the Fox family, but, of course, that cannot be. Who does the stranger say he is?"

"He doesn't say," replied Tommy Tit. "Anyway, he didn't tell me."
